CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

Mr. Bicknell Young Speaks at West Newton Tuesday Night

Bicknell Young's lecture on Christian Science Tuesday evening drew an audience which crowded Players' Hall to the doors. The stage and wings were filled with seats, and the lobby and adjoining hall were similarly occupied with an audience that for an hour and a quarter listened to an intelligent explanation of what Christian Science stands for, from one of its most forceful and convincing exponents. The lecturer was presented by George H. Moore, First Reader of the Newton Christian Science church.

After calling attention to the regular church services held in Players' Hall, and the public reading-room maintained by the church at 297 Walnut street, Newtonville, Mr. Moore said in part: There are in this hall hundreds of people who have been healed by Christian Science. There is not one person in this audience who cannot be helped by the practical application of the teachings of this Science,—for the principle of Christian Science is all-inclusive, both in scope and in the detail of its operation. The work of the Christian Science church is to publish this fact and to make clear the manner of its demonstration.

Mr. Young said: It is an encouraging fact that however greatly our views may differ upon this or that subject, there is always in our natures and common to them all, one chord which responds to Christian Science, and that is the universal desire to prolong existence or, better still, to attain satisfaction and be sure of its continuity. Even the creatures beneath our feet want to live, and strive to do so, so that this instinct has come to be expressed in the axiom, "Self-preservation is the first law of nature."

Seeking Knowledge
It will perhaps be admitted that this may mean more than appears on the surface. So far as it can be analyzed, this instinct exists without any volition on the part of the creature manifesting it, but at any rate it exists, and in the discussion of the profoundest thoughts of philosophy and religion it serves as a common meeting ground.

It is this desire which responds to religious truth. It may be likened to the soil wherein the seed, being sown, finds nourishment and springs forth as ideas which reveal at once the scientific nature of Christianity and the sacred character of Science.

Such ideas are not transcendental in the common acceptance of that word. They are, however, not material, and for this reason systems of education founded largely or wholly upon material evidence find themselves at variance with Christian Science and naturally oppose it. This is not to be wondered at because even the basic idea of Christian Science education is revolutionary in that it shows that spiritual truth is demonstrable and offers unmistakable and overwhelming proof of that fact, whereas the generally accepted theories of science either deny that there is any such thing as spiritual truth, or, if admitting that there may be, reject the proposition that such truth is so concrete as to be capable of proof.

One who takes the pains to think deeply must conclude that the failure to recognize the demonstrable nature of spiritual truth has been due not to any lack of that characteristic in Truth itself, but to the limited religious and scientific theories which have erroneously insisted that the proof of scientific knowledge must be confined to the finite realm of the material senses, at the same time illogically admitting, as they must do, that true science is infinite, because fundamental truth is spiritual.

In accordance with such theories, prevailing systems of education accept and teach that both good and evil are natural. Accepting the evidence of the material senses as true, such systems are necessarily involved in insurmountable difficulties. The moment they endeavor to explain a first great cause they are contradictory. Attributing both the good and evil in human experience to the same source, they pollute their conception of that source and the whole resulting thought is not only darkened but diseased. Christian Science shows unmistakably that an infinite cause which all scientists and religionists, irrespective of form or creed, acknowledge, must necessarily be perfect, for any imperfection in infinity would imply infinite imperfection which is an impossible proposition to either religion or science. The fact is that a first great cause is infinite intelligence, for nothing less than intelligence could be the one infinite cause. It should not be hard for any thinker to understand that infinite intelligence is necessarily infinite wisdom, and one must inevitably conclude that infinite wisdom is wise enough to do everything in the right way at once without any experiments whatsoever. This thought of God, which is the only correct one that is possible, does away with the old idea of primary mistakes which have to be subsequently corrected, and entirely dissipates the notion that God incorrectly arranged a whole lot of things in the universe which man must afterwards correct.

Enlightenment, Not Belief
This also disposes of a good many other things; it gives us enlightenment instead of belief; it shows that all things exist, and that the infinite Cause has provided for their perfection and maintains that perfection forever. It is not possible to even think of God as less than perfect, and if one follows out that thought, it is not possible to conceive of a creation as less than perfect; consequently the theory of fallen man is an incorrect theory. It has its origin not in the first chapter of Genesis, but in the later chapters in which human thought, trying to account for its material evidence, turns away from God

FAVOR PRECINCT VOTING

Aldermen Refuse To Save $2785 By Grouping Precincts At Primary

There was another discussion of the Street Department accounts at the meeting of the aldermen Monday evening, and the board gave the mayor and street commissioner all they asked for, notwithstanding the request lacked the details, which the Chairman of the Finance Committee desired before appropriating the entire amount.

Aldermen Blakemore, president, and Aldermen Hatch and Sullivan were absent.

No one appeared at hearings on Edison Co. petitions for poles on Highland avenue, Pelham and Dartmouth streets, on taking land for sewer in Barnstable road, nor on petition of Jas. P. Richardson to keep gasoline on Walnut street, the last three petitions being immediately granted.

Mr. Collett appeared on petition of the Edison Co. for underground conduits in Waban Hill road, and asked numerous questions of Mr. Gould, the representative of the Company.

Dr. F. W. Freeman and Mr. F. W. Sprague spoke in opposition to the widening of Grove street at Lower Falls.

Walter A. Beedle, Breemore road, Clarence G. Haskell, Vista avenue and Wm. Scott, Jr., were drawn as jurors for Cambridge Court on Nov. 10.

Mayor Hathfield sent in the invitation of Mr. Wm. C. Bray asking the board to inspect the Newton Hospital next Sunday afternoon, and it was accepted.

The mayor also sent in the request of the city treasurer to issue $30,000 sewer bonds, and of the street commissioner for $6000 grant for street maintenance.

The street commissioner reported the completion of the following streets under the betterment act:—Bishopsgate road, $1915.89, The Ledges road, $1915.50, Upland road, $1377.60, and $1005.20, Faxon street, $1307.18, and Oakwood road $651.47.

Petitions were received from R. F. Atwood for Innholder's license, of the M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. for various attachments, of the Edison Co. for attachments and for relocation on Page road, of the Telephone Co. for attachments, and for relocations on Dudley road, of G. M. Angier for widening of Beacon street, Waban, of G. H. Marcy for a wagon license, Chandler et al relative to name of Islington road, and Fred H. Searles for sewer in Chestnut street, Waban. Petition of J. J. Cronin for pool table in Nonantum square was granted.

Notice was received of the appointment of Geo. C. Cotton, Wm. P. Conley and Clyde D. Meyer as railroad police.

On recommendation of committees, the Edison Co. was granted relocation on Beacon street, permission to remove poles from Beacon street, attachments on Bennington, Bowers, and Beacon streets, the Telephone Co. was granted attachments on Prospect street, Auburn street, Dalton road and Hancock avenue, hearings were assigned on Nov. 17 on laying out of Windemere road, under betterment

WINS AGAIN

Newton High School Football Team Defeats Somerville 10 to 0.

Newton High kept up its string of victories last Saturday by defeating the strong Somerville football team by the score of 10 to 0, a goal from the field and a touchdown and goal being the points won.

Somerville fought for every inch of ground, but the strong Newton line held fast and only twice during the contest were the visitors able to make first down.

Somerville was badly handicapped during the contest, Bianchi, their quarterback, receiving a broken arm and H. Anderson, substitute center, a fractured rib. These accidents, with the loss of two other first string men on account of injuries, badly hampered the eleven.

Newton received the kickoff, and the first play, a forward pass, netted 15 yards. White followed with a run for 30 yards, but a forward pass was caught by H. Robertson on the 15-yard line. Somerville punted almost continually during the game, James Robertson's kicks at times making 65 yards, and were extremely hard to handle.

Walter A. Beedle, Breemore road, Clarence G. Haskell, Vista avenue and Wm. Scott, Jr., were drawn as jurors for Cambridge Court on Nov. 10.

Mayor Hathfield sent in the invitation of Mr. Wm. C. Bray asking the board to inspect the Newton Hospital next Sunday afternoon, and it was accepted.

The mayor also sent in the request of the city treasurer to issue $30,000 sewer bonds, and of the street commissioner for $6000 grant for street maintenance.

CANDIDATES NAMED

Lists Filed By All Three Parties For City Primaries

The Republicans, Progressive and Democratic parties filed their list for candidates to be voted at the city primaries last Saturday, with the City Clerk.

The Republican ticket is as follows: Mayor, Alston Burr.

Aldermen at large, Ward 1, Arthur W. Blakemore, Ward 2, Fred M. Blanchard, Ward 3, A. Stuart Pratt, Ward 4, Guy M. Winslow, Ward 5, Frederick W. Cobb, Ward 6, Abbott B. Rice, Ward 7, Joseph B. Jamieson.

School Committee, Ward 3, Harriet A. Peabody, Ward 6, William H. Rice, Ward Aldermen, Ward 1, John W. Murphy, Ward 2, George F. Malcom, Ward 3, George M. Cox, Ward 4, William S. Wagner, Ward 5, Joseph W. Bartlett, Ward 6, Henry W. Crowell, Ward 7, Henry W. Jarvis.

The Progressive candidates are the same as the Republicans, save that they omit the following names from that list.

Ward 3, Alderman at large, A. Stuart Pratt.

Ward 5, Alderman at large, Frederick W. Cobb.

Both candidates for school committee.

Ward Aldermen, Ward 1, John W. Murphy, Ward 2, George F. James, Ward 3, George M. Cox, Ward 4, William S. Wagner, Ward 5, Joseph W. Bartlett, Ward 6, Henry W. Crowell, Ward 7, Henry W. Jarvis.

Papers were filed by Charles M. Potter for alderman at large from Ward 3, but withdrawn a few hours later. The city primary will be held Nov. 18.

THE UNITY CLUB

Members of the Channing Unity Club held a very successful social on Monday evening in the parlors of Channing Church.

The entertainment consisted of music, games and impromptu charades, and refreshments were served. It was a very pleasant social affair and was participated in by about 50 club members and their friends, including members of the parish. The Club was organized in May and has now a membership of about twenty. The officers are Miss Marjorie Holmes, president, Miss Barbara Wellington, vice-president, Miss Katherine Stone, secretary, and Miss Eleanor Crocker, treasurer.

CHRISTIAN FORUM

The second meeting of the season of The Christian Forum of Newton will be held at Elliot Congregational Church on Sunday evening, November 9th, at 7:30 o'clock.

The address is to be made by Dr. Josiah Strong, of New York, "Ours the Day and Land of Opportunity."

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The President's reception on Tuesday evening was a most brilliant affair and was exceedingly well attended by the members and their ladies.

President Hopewell and Mrs. Hopewell were assisted in receiving by Vice-President and Mrs. Edward P. Tuttle and the guests were presented by all the former presidents of the club who acted as ushers. After the reception dancing was enjoyed followed by refreshments in the dining room. The pourers were Mrs. Francis E. Stanley, Mrs. Charles W. Hall, Mrs. Samuel H. Uhler and Mrs. M. E. Gleason.

The Lauriat Company are giving the public the full benefit of the new tariff law as far as books are concerned, and a little more. Their new fall catalogue of bargains in new and standard English books, just issued, is subject to a special discount of ten per cent from the reduced net prices quoted—although as a matter of fact two-thirds of the books offered have paid the new per cent duty of the old tariff law instead of the 15 per cent of the new one. The catalogue is a very attractive one and can be had for the asking.

Newton Gives Republican Ticket Fairly Good Support

The state election on Tuesday brought out a splendid vote in this city for an "off" year, the total being 6067 or 83 per cent of the total registration.

Newton felt but slightly the effects of the Democratic landslide of the rest of the state, giving Gardner, the Republican candidate, 2082 votes, 188 more than Walsh, who had 1894, and Bird receiving 1599. Foss had 368 votes, notwithstanding his claim earlier in the week that Newton would cast a plurality for him. The above figures compare with 1912 as follows: Walker, Republican, 2519; Foss, Democrat, 1954, and Bird, Progressive, 1711.

Councillor G. Fred Simpson received the highest vote of any candidate, having two opponents, with 2847, but was defeated in the rest of the district by approximately 2000 votes.

Senator Hilton had 2365 votes here, 618 more than Hall, Democrat, with Mellen, Progressive, 1500. Senator Hilton is elected in the district by about 199 plurality.

All three Republican representatives, Messrs. Bothfeld, Ellis and White, are re-elected by handsome pluralities, notwithstanding the hard fight put up by the Progressive candidates. Mr. Bothfeld with 2601 is high man, as he was in 1912. Mr. Ellis had 2533, and Mr. White, 2418. Mr. Newton had the largest Democratic vote with 1538, and Mr. Carter with 1502 was the highest Progressive.

A favorable vote was cast on three of the matters at referendum. The Women's notary proposition being apparently mixed up with woman's suffrage, and having only 88 more Yes votes. The referendum amendment was favored by a vote of 2758 Yes and 1559 No, the workmen's compensation had 3172 Yes and 1390 No, while the proposition to amend the city charter limiting the mayor's power of removal of city officials went down to defeat with 2155 Yes and 2876 No.

The vote came in comparatively early. Ward 1, Precinct 1, being the first at 8 P. M., and Ward 4, precinct 1, the last at 12.15 A. M.

The only unusual incidents of the day were the efforts of the police to remove Progressive flags, which came within 150 feet of the polling places and the halting of the chairman of the Progressive city committee to police headquarters for placing unsigned placards about the city.

Mr. Thomas Leighton, Jr., the Republican candidate for Register of Deeds to succeed the late Edwin O. Childs of this city was elected, receiving a total of 30,357 votes to 26,009 for Facey, Democrat and 17,816 for Richards, Progressive, with five small towns missing.

Higgins, Republican candidate for district attorney, was defeated by Corcoran, Democrat, who had 32,676, to Higgins, 30,654, and Clark, Progressive, 25,242, with four small towns missing.

For county commissioner, Hon. Erson B. Barlow, the Republican candidate, pulled thru with a vote of 34,331 to 33,356 for McCloskey, Democrat, and 26,840 for McIntire, Progressive. A table is printed in this issue giving the vote in detail for the principal offices and the total vote for all others.

GOLDEN WEDDING

More than one hundred friends and relatives assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram E. Barker on Hyde avenue Newton, Tuesday afternoon and evening, the occasion being a celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker received their guests from 3 until and from 8 until 10, and were literally showered with congratulations, golden gifts and flowers, there being a magnificent display of roses, orchids and chrysanthemums in the reception rooms.

Mrs. Barker wore a beautiful gown of Catawba colored satin with black lace, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses.

In the dining-room where refreshments were served, the decorations were white chrysanthemums and southern smilax; the pourers were Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. William F. Bacon, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Ewing, Mrs. Walter Barker, and the Misses Baxter, Stone, Hobart, Tarbox, and Partridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker were married in Brighton, Nov. 4, 1863, by Rev. J. P. Cushman, pastor of the Congregational Church, assisted by Rev. Charles Noyes of the Unitarian Church. Mrs. Barker before her marriage was Miss Abbie Arnold. They have one son, Mr. Walter H. Barker of Newton, one daughter, Mrs. George C. Ewing of Newton Centre and two grand children, Miss Editha Ewing and Arnold Coppins Barker.

25TH ANNIVERSARY

The First Baptist Church in Newton was organized in 1780. It has occupied in the 133 years of its life three Meeting Houses. The first, erected in 1781, is still to be seen on Centre street, just above its junction with Paul street. The second, reared in 1836 at the corner of Beacon and Centre streets, is now in use as "Associates' Block," on Centre street, and the Chapel is serving as the Centre Branch of the Newton Public Library.

The present attractive Church Home was dedicated Nov. 1st, 1888.

Beginning last Sunday the Church has been holding a series of services in observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the dedication of this Meeting House. The Anthems rendered by the Church Chorus at the morning service were those sung at the Dedication service in 1888, and the responsive readings were those compiled for that occasion. Two of the hymns used were written for the Dedication 25 years ago by Rev. Samuel Francis Smith, D.D., and Rev. Henry Francis Colby, D.D. The sermon emphasizing the message of the Romanesque Architecture, was preached by Rev. Lemuel Call Barnes, D.D., pastor of the Church, 1887-1893.

The anniversary spirit was evident also in the exercises of the Bible School, and in the afternoon observance of the Lord's Supper. At the meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. Mrs. L. C. Barnes spoke on "Young Americans and New Americans." The Pastor, Rev. Maurice A. Levy, preached at the evening service on "A Remarkable Quarter Century."

The observance continued through the Organ Recital, given by Mr. John Hermann Loud, F. A. G. O., on Monday evening, and the meeting of the Woman's Home Mission Society on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Barnes addressed the women on "America's Field of Romance."

An anniversary social was held on Wednesday evening in the Chapel. The musical numbers were rendered by daughters of those who were members at the time of dedication, and included trios by Miss Marion R. Haskell, Mrs. Gladys Smith White, and Mrs. Fannie Bray (Edmonds) Clark; a group of contralto songs by Mrs. Florence White Thompson; and one of soprano songs by Miss Haskell. There were greetings from former pastors. Rev. Edward Brailin, D.D. (1881-1886), and President Edgar Young Mullins, D.D. (1896-1900). Rev. G. Lusha Anderson gave reminiscences of "the former days," and Mr. Joseph L. Colby contributed a paper, read in his absence by the Pastor, on "Boyhood Memories of the Old Meeting House."

The Building Committee was represented by two of its three surviving members, Mr. Dwight Chester and Mr. Arthur C. Walworth. Mr. Henry H. Kendall, speaking from another point of view, made practical suggestions concerning a series of memorial tablets for "the Fathers of the Church."

The Pastor then introduced Mr. George Linn, whose janitorship covers the entire quarter century of the Meeting House, and more, and the hearty applause attested the appreciation and esteem in which he is held. A group of members at the time of the dedication, led by Miss Ella E. Hood, for 26 years organist of the Church, and Mrs. Daniel A. White, then soprano in the Church Quartet and Chorus, gathered about the piano and sang "O Mother, dear Jerusalem," to the tune "Materena." The exercises concluded with the singing by the entire gathering of an original hymn, "Re-dedication," written for the occasion by Rev. Henry Francis Colby, D.D.

The lateness of the hour did not prevent the large company from remaining for the social hour and refreshments in the dining room. The evening was rich in delightful reminiscence and fellowship, and brought to an end a series of services not soon to be forgotten. There will abide in the minds of all present memories of a happy and inspiring anniversary week.

DEBUTANTE TEA

Mrs. William B. H. Dowse of West Newton presented her daughter, Miss Beatrice, Dowse, as a charming debutante this week on Thursday afternoon from 4:30 until 7.

It was the first coming-out-party of the season here, and was the occasion of a large gathering of society. Miss Dowse being very popular with the younger set.

Can I Afford to be Without a Telephone?

Can't Afford It?

Let's figure it out and see

How much would you charge to go to the grocer's or the provision dealer's?

How much would you give, on a stormy day, to be able to visit a distant friend?

How much would it be worth, in case your child were taken suddenly ill at night, to be able to summon the doctor at once, and, perhaps, by special instructions from him by wire, to be able to give temporary relief pending his arrival or even to save its life?

The expense of a telephone is not figured by what it costs for a whole year, but by how much it saves each time it is used. Therefore, with all these things in mind, ask yourself

West Newton

Rev. Dr. Richard T. Loring, pastor of the Episcopal Church at Newtonville, was seriously injured Friday, when the motorcycle which he was riding came into collision with a wagon on Bridge street, North Weymouth. He was left lying under his machine by the occupants of the vehicle and was found by an automobile party. He was rushed to the home of Dr. Michael Sweeney, who worked over him over an hour before he showed any signs of life.

Mr. Loring said he had been living at his summer home with his family at Duxbury, and had been spending the day at Newtonville preparing his sermon for Sunday. He was on his way to Duxbury when the collision occurred.

The road where he was found is dark and he was unable to say whether the vehicle which struck him had a light. He was also ignorant of the direction it was going. The accident happened so quickly that he could not tell whether he was hit by a carriage or a big wagon. He was thrown such a distance and the machine landed on him with such force, that he lost consciousness as soon as he struck the ground.

Mr. Loring was sent to his home in Duxbury after a few minor bruises were treated. Later his family physician set his right wrist, which had a number of bones badly fractured.

DIAR—RICE

Miss Marjorie Tappan Rice and Mr. Harold Paschal Dyar of Ontario, Cal., were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride on Walnut street, West Newton, which was decorated in evergreen, autumn leaves and white chrysanthemums for the occasion. The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock by Rev. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of the Central Church of Newtonville.

The bride was gowned in crepe de chine over mescaline, trimmed with Chantilly lace. She wore the conventional veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Lois T. Rice, was maid of honor and wore old rose crepe meteor, trimmed with Chantilly lace and carried pink roses.

The ushers were all young ladies. The Misses Martha T. Rice, cousin of the bride of West Newton, Marion Stevens, of Waltham, Nathalie Cutler of Wakefield, Rena Porter of Malden, Olive Ireland of Allston, and Bessie Gilman of Chelsea.

Mr. John Boettner of Watertown, Mass., was the best man, and the wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Mr. Norman H. Rice, cousin of the bride.

A reception followed until ten o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dyar being assisted in receiving their many friends by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rice, parents of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyar will be at home after January first at Watertown, Mass.

LOGE—LUCAS

The wedding of Miss Sarah Barbara Lucas, the daughter of Mrs. William H. Lucas of Kirkstall road, Newtonville, and Mr. David Morley Lodge of Newton, took place Wednesday evening at the Unitarian Church, West Newton, which was thronged with the many friends of the young people.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, the pastor, assisted by Rev. William H. Lyon, D.D., of Brookline, uncle of the bride.

Miss Dorothy Lucas of Newtonville, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and the bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Henry C. Denison of Framingham.

Mr. John Lodge of Newton, brother of the groom, was the best man and the guests were seated by these ushers: Messrs. Percival L. Young of Ashmont, Herbert M. Tilden of Philadelphia, Stanley L. Bullivant and Malcolm Bullivant of West Newton, E. Denison, Bernard of Framingham, Roger Hall and John Mudge of Newton, and Hayward Rolfe of Newtonville.

A largely attended reception followed at the residence of Mrs. Lucas on Kirkstall road, Newtonville, Mr. and Mrs. Lodge being assisted in receiving by Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. John T. Lodge, Miss Dorothy Lucas and Mr. John Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Lodge will reside at 41 Dwight street, Brookline, where they will be at home Thursday in February.

—Miss Hill of the Frances Willard Settlement addressed the Mothers' meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Congregational Church.

—Mrs. John T. Cushman of Sharon avenue is recovering from a serious surgical operation and was able to return Saturday from the Newton Hospital.

—Mr. Charles S. Blair of Crescent street is building a two-family apartment house on the land which he recently purchased on Wildwood avenue, Newtonville.

—John Matteson will address the meeting of the Lawrence Club Tuesday evening in the parish room of the Church of the Messiah. The entertainment will be under the direction of Messrs. Adams, Baldwin and Beardsley.

—Miss Isabella M. Blake, a missionary in the "Girls' Seminary" at Antab, Central Turkey, who is now on a furlough, gave a very interesting address at the Missionary Concert Sunday evening at the Congregational Church. Her subject was "The Advance Movement Among the Moslems."

—Mrs. L. D. Packard of Woodland road entertained at her residence on Monday, the Anniversary Society of Boston, at its annual meeting. The society was organized about sixty years ago, and has done a great deal of charitable work. It supports a bed in the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital. Mrs. Packard has been the president for the past ten years, and a member over forty years.

LODGES

Dalhousie Lodge of Masons entertained Fraternity Lodge on Wednesday evening and there was a large attendance.

The Grand Master of Massachusetts and the Board of Grand Officers attended the meeting of Newton Lodge, I. O. O. F. last evening.

Tenneyson Association held a Halloween party last Friday evening in I. O. O. F. Hall, West Newton. There was a good attendance and the costumes were most effective.

At a largely attended meeting Crystal Lake Council, No. 1922, Royal Arcanum of Newton Highlands, was visited on Monday evening by Charles A. Kellogg, S.D.G.R. and suite. A Class initiation was held in which seven new members were received. The work being exemplified by the degree staff of the council with Charles F. Barrows as Regent. Visitors were present from Boston, Dorchester, Brookline and neighboring Councils. Among the speakers of the evening were William L. Kelt, G.S., Horace G. Williams, G.T., and Frederick A. Goodwin, G.C. Plans were formed for another class initiation to be held later in the month. A collation was also much enjoyed. That the Council is enjoying a prosperous year was much in evidence by the enthusiasm shown. Since January 1st 60 new members have been added.

DEBUT CONCERT

Miss Bessie Talbot Salmon of Newton Highlands who is to give a song-recital in Jordan hall, Boston, next Monday evening, returns to Boston after 3 years' study in Paris, where for a year she held a competitive vocal scholarship. Miss Salmon won encomiums from her teachers by her debut concert in Paris, and much interest is felt in her appearance here, as she intends teaching and doing concert singing in Boston and other American cities. Miss Salmon will be assisted by Miss Alice McDowell, an exceptionally talented young pianist, and the accompanist is J. Angus Winter.

EDITORIAL

So long as the Republican party had to take a whipping, it is just as well that it was so complete that there can be no regrets over what might have been. The party only emphasizes the lesson of the 1912 elections, that a majority divided cannot beat a well-organized minority. Some time the present day obstinacy of both Republican and Progressive parties will melt away and the reasonable members of both will endeavor to emphasize their mutual agreements instead of harping on minor differences. In the meantime, let us give the Democratic administration next year, a hearty support in all measures for the good of the Commonwealth, for Mr. Walsh will be the governor of the entire state, and not of his party.

The list of candidates filed for the city primary indicates that Ward 5 will have the only real contest, both at the primary and election, as Alderman Bartlett will be opposed by Henry W. Crowell for all three nominations and the result at the primary will hardly be accepted by either candidate as final. The contest for mayor at this time to be the trying times, as Mr. Burr having the Republican and Progressive nominations and Mr. Childs, the Democratic and Independent.

The defeat of Hon. G. Fred Simpson of this city for re-election to the governor's council is a matter of regret to his many friends in this city for he has made an excellent member of the council during the present year where his business experience has been of great value in approving the large matters involved in the development of the port of Boston. His defeat is due, of course to the large Progressive vote in the district, over 14,000 votes being cast for his candidate.

The aldermen objected very seriously to an expenditure of $832 for unnecessary election officers, but see no good reason why $278 should not be saved by grouping precincts for voting at the city primary. The idea that voters ought not to be inconvenienced in their voting privileges is good theory, but in a primary where there is no contest and no one cares about voting it is worth while to save that $278.

Newton has done well in re-electing Representatives Bothfield, Ellis and White, whose experience will be of great value to the city as well as the state in the trying times, apparently ahead for the 1914 Legislature. Newton can also take some pride in the re-election of Senator Hilton, who would have been defeated without the substantial plurality given him in this city.

The Christian Forum which holds its second meeting of the season next Sunday evening, is filling a niche in the community and deserves the splendid support it is receiving. The question box after the regular lecture, however, should be regulated in some way, so that irrelevant matters to the subject of discussion can be eliminated.

Auburndale

John Draper was home from Worcester Academy over Sunday of last week.

Miss Glenna Lovering of Commonwealth avenue is visiting at her home in Pittsburg.

Mrs. A. W. Tower and the Misses Tower of Myrtle street left this week for a visit to Woodstock, Vt.

Mr. F. F. Davidson of Woodland road left Monday on a two weeks' business trip to Central Ohio.

The ladies of the Century Methodist Church held a very successful sale and supper on Tuesday evening in the Parish House.

Miss Katherine Melody of Auburn street is recovering from an operation for appendicitis and was able to return this week from the Newton Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Smart have returned from their wedding trip and were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Patterson of Grove street.

Mrs. Harry T. Miller entertained the ladies who sewed on the committee for the Charity Whist at luncheon on Wednesday at the Woodland Park Hotel.

Miss Elizabeth Comerford will reopen her dancing classes in Norumbega Hall, Auburndale, Tuesday, October 21st. Beginners' Class at 2 o'clock, Advanced Class at 4 o'clock. Evening assemblies begin November 7th at 8 o'clock and will be held every two weeks.

West Newton

The first social of the season will be held next Friday night at the Unitarian parish house.

Miss Margaret Hunt inaugurated her class for beginners in dancing Thursday afternoon at the North Gate Club House. There was a large attendance of little ones, and it was an extremely interesting sight to watch them in their flimsy making their first attempt to dance, and success will surely follow their efforts under so proficient a teacher.

Lincoln Park Baptist Church observed the Seventh Annual Good-fellowship in the vestry Wednesday evening, after an enjoyable feast. Mr. Macpherson of the Y. M. C. A. spoke of his work in that institution. Mr. Brewer of Newton Centre related the origin and growth of the "Playground Movement in Newton." Miss Root gave a description of the work in the "Day Nursery." Rev. O. P. Gifford of Brookline gave an interesting address at the close. Rev. R. W. Van Kirk, the pastor, acted as toastmaster. The speeches were interspersed with solos, rendered by Mr. Harvey Barnes. About two hundred members and friends were present.

WHIST PARTY

The Whist Party which was held Wednesday afternoon at the Woodland Park Hotel, for the benefit of the Endowment Fund of Boston University Medical School, was a great success, both socially and financially.

Mrs. Harry T. Miller was a most charming hostess and extended all the hospitality of the hotel to the guests. The ladies of Auburndale responded most generously to the requests for contributions for the sale and the cake and candy tables were sold out in an hour.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Miller the hotel orchestra was in attendance and furnished excellent music from 2 until 5.30.

The parlors and reception rooms were attractively decorated with autumn flowers and foliage and the autumn color scheme was carried out in the table decorations the candy holders and dishes being in red, brown, green and yellow.

The game was at 14 tables and during the afternoon the hostess served frappe to the card players. The sale tables were arranged in the foyer of the hotel and were presided over by the following ladies:

Miss Gertrude E. Wightman, cake table; Mrs. Nathan W. Dennett, candy table; Mrs. William Fuller, jelly and bread table; Miss Chandler, canary, and Miss Ethel Underwood, and Mrs. Clarence Tower pop corn table.

Everything combined to make the affair a success, about $150 being realized, and much credit is due Mrs. Collier, the chairman of the committee and Mrs. Miller, the hostess, who so efficiently managed it.

The committee included Mrs. George H. Collier, Mrs. William Fuller, Miss Gladys Chandler, Mrs. Dennett, Miss Ethel Underwood, Miss Gertrude Wightman, Miss Haskell, Mrs. Fluke and Mrs. Miller.

LOGGES

The fiftieth anniversary of Charles River Lodge of Good Templars of Waltham, of which a number of residents of Newton are members, was celebrated by Chief Templar, was celebrated Monday evening. An exceedingly interesting program was rendered. Miss Ida Gammons of West Newton prepared and read a history of the lodge. Rev. James Yeames of Arlington made the principal address of the evening. Several Grand Lodge officers and six other clergymen made addresses. The Beth Eden lodge sang several selections, Wm. H. Rand singing the low bass. A collation was served.

CHURCH SUPPER

The annual church supper by the Eliot Men's Association was given Wednesday evening in Eliot Chapel and was a very delightful social affair.

Covers were laid for 225 and the tables were attractively decorated with beautiful chrysanthemums of various colors, from the conservatories of Mr. Day and Mr. Towle.

The Eliot Mandolin Club furnished an excellent program of music and Mr. Frederick W. Cutler of the Eliot Choir contributed some finely rendered bass solos.

Two subjects were presented by the after-dinner speakers; the first was a report by two of the gentlemen from the Congregational Council held last week in Kansas City. Rev. H. Grant person gave an outline of what had been accomplished by the Council.

Mr. Thomas Weston, Jr., spoke on the general impressions that were received by the visitors who were present at the Council. The second subject was introduced by Rev. C. H. Paton, who is chairman of the Missionary Committee of the Church; he spoke of the desirability of introducing the Budget System in connection with Church Benevolences, and introduced Mr. Everett E. Kent who explained in detail the appropriate plan that the Church Committee offered. Dr. Paton introduced the last speaker of the evening, Rev. D. Brewer Eddy, who spoke very eloquently about the proposed plan, explaining how it had worked in other churches, and strongly recommending that it be adopted.

The Woman's Association held a business meeting Tuesday afternoon in Eliot Chapel.

Miss Ella J. Souther of Fairmont avenue is a guest for a few weeks at Vernon Court hotel.

Miss Gretchen Harwood of Waverley avenue will be one of the bridesmaids at the Purdy-Walker wedding this week on Saturday at Trinity Episcopal Church, Brookline.

The next meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs. E. D. Conant, 172 Washington street, Thursday, November 6, at 2.30 o'clock.

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson of Quincy, formerly of Channing Church, has an interesting and well-considered article in the November Atlantic Monthly, on "Equality Before the Law."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Boyd and Miss Eleanor Boyd of Washington street left Wednesday for a visit to New York and Philadelphia, and while in the latter city, they will be guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Boyd.

Judging by the demand for tickets to the entertainment which will be presented next week on Friday evening in the parlors of Channing Church, under the auspices of the Channing Branch of the Woman's Alliance, a crowded house will greet the performance when the curtain rises on the 1st number. Frequent rehearsals have been held under the direction of Mrs. Ralph W. Bartlett and Mrs. A. C. Cummings, which is a guarantee that the performance will be sure to please. The program is in 3 numbers: "The Family Album," "A Musical Charade," and "The Loan of a Lover" and the cast includes some of the talented members of the Church and Sunday School. Candy will be on sale during the intermissions.

ered. Mrs. F. A. MacCallum treated the subject, "The Constitution and The Flag," in a novel manner, asking questions to be answered by the members instead of presenting a formal paper. Mrs. H. E. Whitcomb read "Old Glory" by James Whitcomb Riley. "Rally Round the Flag" and the "Star Spangled Banner" were sung.

At the meeting of the Newton Mothers' Club held at the home of Mrs. E. K. Hall on Nov. 3, Dr. W. R. P. Emerson gave a most interesting and helpful address upon "The Proper Diet for Children." Among other things he said, that the clear soups, bouillon and broths are better than plain boiled ones on account of the milk and butter contained. Vegetables, he said, have not much nourishing value for children. The afternoon closed with the usual social hour.

For the first meeting of the year the Waban Woman's Club held a reception at the home of Mrs. Herbert R. Lane, Windsor road, on Monday afternoon, Nov. 3rd. Mrs. Emma G. Angier, the president, and two new members received. On account of the illness of Mrs. Florence M. Adler, the music was under the direction of Miss Dorothy Cook, who sang two groups of songs in a very charming manner. Miss May Bishop of Boston accompanied Miss Cook and also rendered most pleasingly a group of piano selections. A short talk on the Music Settlement at West Newton was given by Miss Margaret Hatfield. A delightful tea concluded an enjoyable afternoon.

For the opening meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Guild is scheduled the President's Address. On the occasion on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Irving O. Palmer embodied in her remarks a most interesting account of the Council Meeting of the General Federation held in Washington last spring to which the club had sent her. Mrs. H. C. Mulligan, former president of the Massachusetts State Federation, and Mrs. J. W. McIntyre president of the Newton Federation were present as guests of honor and both brought greetings from those organizations. Delightful vocal duets were rendered by Mrs. G. R. Pulsifer and Miss Samson the selections being "The Nightingale," and a group of Tuscan Songs.

At the business meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning the chairman of committees presented work which is planned for the coming year, all being full of enthusiasm. Mrs. E. B. Hornbrooke spoke at length of the new laws for bird protection and the forbidding of importation of feathers of wild birds. Mrs. Hornbrooke stated that the senators at Washington were bombarded with over 200,000 letters relative to the bird law, urging them to be sure to vote on the right side. She cited the great success which has been made in legislation and contrasted the former conditions with those today, which show an enormous improvement since she presented her first paper upon the subject before the club about eighteen years ago.

Many representative Newton women attended the Suffrage Fair at the Copley Plaza Thursday and Friday, Nov. 6 and 7. The Newton Equal Franchise League, of which Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison, Jr. is president, furnished a table with bags, baskets and cushions, in charge of Mrs. Sumner Robinson and Mrs. Francis Newhall. The Fair was most successful and is expected to yield a large amount for the State Association to use in its work for the year.

The Auburndale Review Club met at the home of Mrs. Henry Turner on Maple street on Tuesday forenoon. The business meeting was followed by the presentation of "Antony and Cleopatra," this being the second of Shakespeare's Historical Plays being studied by the Club. Mrs. Sadler was chairman of the committee of the morning and read Cleopatra, the other parts were given by Miss Haskell who also read the prologue and by Mrs. Kattelle, Mrs. Dike and Miss Dike.

Newtonville

Members of the Lend-a-Hand Society of the First Universalist Church will hold a whist party this evening at the residence of Miss Grace Brown on Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Almy, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emory B. Fisher of Austin street have returned to their home at Little Compton, R. I.

Mr. G. A. Follett has moved into the house at 161 Lowell avenue.

Mrs. Edward K. Wilson is recovering from her recent illness and was able to return last week from the Newton Hospital.

The November Vesper Service will be held at Central Church, Nov. 16th. Instead of Nov. 9th. An excellent musical program is in preparation.

The regular monthly sewing meeting of the Woman's Association was held Wednesday afternoon in the ladies' parlors of Central Church. Mrs. Mercy P. Johnson, the widow of the late Thomas J. Johnson of this village, died last evening at the Newton Home for Aged People at the Upper Falls at the age of 93 years. Mrs. Johnson is survived by one son, Mr. Jesse Johnson of Hudson and two step daughters. Funeral services will be held at the Home tomorrow morning at 10 A. M.

Mrs. Nahum P. Littlefield, aged 68, of Worcester street, Wellesley Hills, dropped dead at the corner of Grove and Washington streets yesterday afternoon. She had been attending a meeting of the Ladies Aid Society at the M. E. Church and had just left in company with Dr. Frances C. Westergren. Mrs. Littlefield faltered and fell unconscious in the street and died almost immediately. Dr. George L. West, the medical examiner, said death was due to heart disease.

St. Mary's Parish has decided to make an every member canvass as one of the forward movements with which they are planning the new century of parish life. An every member canvass committee has been chosen. Mr. Chester C. Spring is chairman, assisted by eleven of the most active and devoted men of the parish. The committee held a luncheon recently at the Boston City Club at which plans were discussed. Mr. S. E. Farwell, the treasurer of the archdiocese of Lowell, was present as guest of the committee. He explained the methods and results of the every member canvass in Trinity Church, Newton Centre, where the plan was remarkably successful. The committee have planned a systematic campaign, and ask for the hearty co-operation of all. One feature will be Parish Social and Supper in the parish hall, Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 6.30, to which every member and friend of St. Mary's, it is hoped, will plan to come. The best speakers will be present as guests of the parish and the committee hopes to make it a memorable occasion. The parish Aid Society, Mrs. E. M. Root, president, have in charge of the arrangements for the supper. Every one who helped to make the Centennial exercises so inspiring is helping now to strengthen the parish for larger work as we begin the new era.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Among the various things planned by the departments of the State Federation for the coming year is the adaptation of a popular form of amusement, the moving picture film, for the purpose of arousing interest in a subject which the clubs have been slow in taking up, namely, civil service reform. The department is arranging to have made a series of pictures, which will illustrate the history of civil service reform, civil service as applied to the post office, the street cleaning, the police and the fire departments.

The value of the moving picture show as a means of education is more and more being realized and the clubs and kindred organizations are finding ways of utilizing them. It is reported that the Consumers' League intends to urge the necessity of "Early Christmas Shopping" by means of these shows. The Education department of the Federation is asking the clubs to follow up the "movies" in their own communities and see that they are more strictly censured. This form of entertainment has come to stay. Let us recognize this fact and also that it may be turned to a good use and take care that only proper films are exhibited. A show may have nothing openly objectionable, yet it may lack the strong influence that young people need.

NEWTON FEDERATION

The program for the Autumn meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs to be held at the Congregational Church, Newton Centre, on Wednesday, Nov. 12, at 2.30 P. M., promises to be one of interest and practical value. Mr. George S. Purinton will speak upon "The High Cost of Living and Co-operative Markets." The proposed artificial ice plant will be explained by Mr. Francis H. Williams. Mrs. Marie Kaula Stone will sing. Mrs. Stone has been heard on previous Federation occasions and will be welcomed with pleasure at this meeting. The club women on the north side of the city will find the meeting place of easy access, while the Waban, Newton Highlands, and Upper Falls people will be better served than when the meetings are held at Newtonville. The car leaving Newtonville square for Newton Centre passes the church in time for the meeting.

STATE FEDERATION ANNOUNCEMENTS

Tuesday Nov. 11, 10 A. M.—Art Conference in lecture room of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts by courtesy of the museum officials. At the morning session there will be a word of greeting from the Director, Dr. Arthur Fairbanks, and an address by Dr. Franklin B. Dyer, superintendent of the public schools of Boston. At 2 o'clock Frederick S. Hopkins, director of the State Normal Art School, and State supervisor of drawing, will speak on "Art Education for Social Service." Admission free upon presentation of visiting card with name of club. Luncheon may be obtained at the Museum restaurant.

On Monday afternoon the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. S. D. Whittemore of Lincoln street.

Mrs. W. D. Tripp opens her home for the meeting of the Parliamentary Law Club on Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 10.15 A. M.

The current events class of the Newtonville Guild will hold its first session at the New Church parlors on Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 10.30, under the leadership of Mrs. Lella C. Pennock.

Owing to the meeting of the Newton Federation on Wednesday afternoon, the Perian Club will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 11, with Mrs. Brown and will continue the study of Brazil.

Mrs. Anna Sturgis Duryea will address the Social Science Club on Wednesday, Nov. 12, on "International Peace." Guests may be invited.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club meets on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 10 A. M. Mr. Arthur R. Peck will give an illustrated lecture upon "Italy, the Land of Enchantment."

The first regular meeting of the season of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held at Players' Hall, West Newton, on Friday, Nov. 14, at 2.30. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer of Newtonville will give a lecture-recital, "The Sea-Islanders."

On Nov. 15, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will meet with Mrs. Bicknell of Erie avenue.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

On Saturday afternoon, Nov. 1st, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club met with Mrs. Herbert Drew. Mrs. S. L. Eaton was in charge of the work.

THIS Two-Piece Petticote

We make in many fabrics, Cotton Taffeta, Mercerized Serge, Shadow Stripes (Cotton), and other inexpensive materials; also of silk. Most women want a "common petticoat" for rainy days and rough wear to save the constant wear of silk ones. Every one made to measure. Write us what color is wanted and we will submit samples and measurement card. We make all our petticoats and knickerbockers and sell direct to you.

which was a continuation and review of the play "Pericles." Mrs. Eaton brought out the strength, beauty and purity in Marina's character, showing that Shakespeare gives us in his fourth period writings a representation of the glorious Isabella of his period. She termed the play a beautiful illustration of the happy re-uniting of a long separated family and grouped it with Cymbeline, the Tempest, and Winter's Tale from its romantic similarities. A social hour with light refreshments closed an enjoyable afternoon.

Miss Marlon Morse was in charge of the Current Events Day of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon. The giving up of an afternoon occasionally to the consideration of current events was tried for the first time last winter and was found so profitable that it is being repeated this season. Among topics considered were: The Balkan Situation by Mrs. Sanford Thompson; Home Rule in Ireland, Miss Morse; Currency Bill, Miss Webster. Mrs. H. B. Rogers spoke of the Single Tax, the Tariff and the Income Tax. A delightful paper entitled "Current Events in Nature" was presented by Miss Mary E. Hyde. Vocal solos by Mrs. F. S. Fairchild and violin solos by Miss Emily Mercer added much to the pleasure of the afternoon. There was the usual social hour.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands held an enthusiastic meeting on Nov. 3, when the period of Union and Constitution—1783 to 1861 was considered. (Continued on Page 6)

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Nov. 6th and 15th is celebrated by the Young Men's Christian Association of the world as a week of prayer for young men. Members are urged to observe this week in their public and private devotions. Mr. S. M. Sayford will conduct a prayer service at 4:30 P. M. Sunday at the Association to which all are invited.
The Entertainment Course circulars have been sent to all our members. The course includes five entertainments as follows:
Thursday, Nov. 20—Brush the Great. "Modern Magic Magnified."
Thursday, Dec. 11—Hon. Homer B. Hurlbert. "The Oriental Chessboard."
Thursday, Jan. 20—Thomas' Original Jubilee Singers.
Thursday, Feb. 5—University Girls Singing Orchestra.
Monday, Mar. 9—Lyric Glee Club, Famous Versatile Quartet.
Season tickets are only $1.50 and can be obtained at the Association office. The first one on Thursday, Nov. 20th, is one of the best of the course, interesting alike to old and young.
A new record in the bowling tournament was made last Tuesday evening by L. Curtis of Newton Highlands. The highest record now is 319 for the high string total and 131 for the high single string. As this is only the second week of the tournament many of the star bowlers hope to exceed this record before the tournament is ended.
The men who are rooming in the Dormitory met on Wednesday evening for a social evening. All report a good time and are looking forward to the next social feature. On Sunday night they are planning to attend the forum at the Eliot Church in a body.

Y. M. C. A. Sea Scouts

Mr. H. R. Shaw, Sea Scout Commissioner, will give an illustrated lecture on sea scouting Saturday evening, Nov. 8th, at 8 o'clock, at the Y. M. C. A. All the members are invited to be present.
Mr. Shaw is a Harvard man and has spent considerable time in the study of sea scouting.
Last summer Mr. Shaw had charge of the Sea Scout Boat Pioneer.
A number of the boys in their regulation Sea Scout Uniforms will be at the lecture with Mr. Shaw.
All land scouts over 15 years of age as well as the members of the Boys' Division cordially invited to be present.

act, and widening of portions of Hammond street, leave to withdraw was granted on petition for abatement of sewer on Centre street, on laying out of Linwood avenue, and on sewer in Chestnut street, Waban, sewers were ordered in Barnstable road and North street, M. M. Enos granted permission to connect with California street sewer at special grade, California street was widened at Bridge street at cost of $465, and water mains laid in Blaglow road and Ridge road.

Additional appropriations were authorized for the Charity Dept., for interest due on loans and for expenses in the Engineer's Office. $1000 transfer from treasury receipts to Tools and machinery, orders for city election on Dec. 9 and a grant made for city expenses of $10,898.23. Petition was made in the Legislature to change date of municipal year, and sewers ordered in Allerton road and Centre street. The order to grant some money to the Street Maintenance account was debated for some time and the amount of $3500 first introduced by Alderman Bemis, was changed to $6000 and passed. An order levying betterment assessments on Waban Hill road was adopted, against the protest of Alderman Early who wanted the area of assessments enlarged. Alderman Pratt proposed an amendment to the City Primaries order, grouping certain precincts where no contests had been filed, and saving some $278 thereby, but the proposition was opposed by Aldermen Bemis, Rice, Murphy, and Alley and defeated.

An order was adopted rescinding betterment assessments on Los Angeles and Allison streets in order that these assessments might be made by separate orders.
Alderman Jamieson reported for the select committee on Tremont street that the Elevated Railway Company had written him that they proposed to weld all joints in the track now welded, to replace decayed ties and put the track in good surface and line and repave it, so that nothing need be done to it for at least three years. Alderman Jamieson said he had been assured by the mayor that the street would be resurfaced immediately and that the board need do nothing further in the matter at present.

At the suggestion of the President, a committee of Aldermen Barker, Winslow and Cox was appointed to examine the election returns and to report at an adjourned meeting to be held Nov. 12.

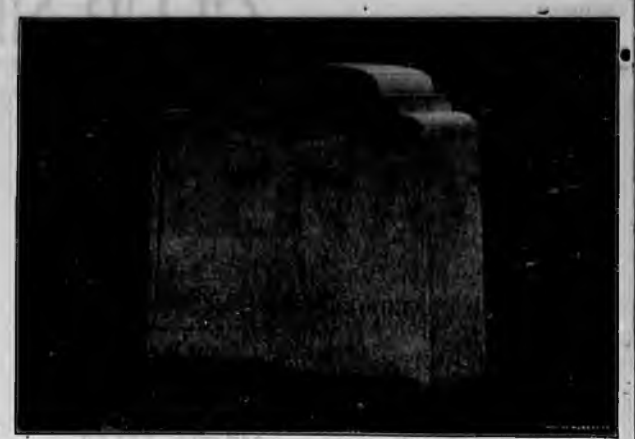

The board adjourned at 10:05.

Executors and Trustees Declining Years
You appoint as your Executor and Trustee a man in whose honesty and integrity you repose the greatest confidence and for whose sound business sense you have great respect.
But have you disposed of this matter satisfactorily? One usually selects those as old as one's self or older. The years go by rapidly and while at your decease the man you selected might possess those same qualities of honesty and integrity yet at the same time entirely lack that same quality of sound business judgment.
By appointing this Company your Executor and Trustee you will guard against the possibility of having your estate administered by an individual whose powers of business insight have been robbed of their effectiveness by declining years.

THE CHRISTIAN FORUM

Dr. Josiah Strong of New York Speaks at Elliot Church

The Christian Forum of Newton held its second meeting of the year at the Elliot Church last Sunday evening.

An address was given by Dr. Josiah Strong of New York, whose topic was, "Ours the Day and Land of Opportunity." His remarks were as follows:—My good friends, our forefathers on Massachusetts Bay, we are told, did not think there would ever be a very dense population in this country west of Newton. There has been vast changes in 250 years in the United States. Do we appreciate the fact that we are living in the midst of changes world wide in their reach? It is very difficult to comprehend our own times. We are living in the midst of several great transitions, and the story of the past shows us that at the time of such transitions we have the greatest chances and opportunities. I want to call attention to three such transitions. The first, the substitution of mechanical power for vital power, which is fundamentally the cause of great industrial revolution. A few years ago power was individualistic and therefore industry was individualistic, and therefore civilization was individualistic. The story of the steam engine shows us how that individual power was taken and centralized.

The late William E. Dodge told me that his grandfather once asked the prayers of his church as he was about to take the long and perilous journey to Rochester. I had a friend, an Englishman, who was out on the Pacific coast, who received a telegram from his office and he told me he thought the world would just take a run back to London and tend to the business desired. Now this run back to London, includes 3,000 miles across the mountains and rivers and plains of Canada and the West, plus 3,000 miles across the Atlantic and it actually involved less time, less hardship and less danger than the long and perilous journey from New York to Rochester in former days. One was in the 19th century and the other in the 20th century, and that advance in civilization was due fundamentally to the substitution of mechanical for vital power. Now these marvelous changes only suggest many of the great problems which are attracting the wisdom of the world. The problem of the new creation of wealth, the problem of organized capital and organized labor, the problem of the city which is growing so marvelously and which must necessarily concern the whole population, and also the race problem.

Turn secondly to the transition which is just beginning in the development of the virgin resources of the earth. Only Europe and the United States have in any considerable degree developed their natural resources. There are Asia, Africa, South America, Mexico, Australia, New Zealand and Canada, roughly we will say 4 continents and a half which are just beginning to awake.

This new civilization turns everything upside down, and this industrial revolution is coming in all of these countries with these virgin resources. I believe, in the next 50 years, the great significance of the past 50 years has been the development of the vast regions west of the Mississippi. The capital had to be created, the agricultural machinery had to be developed and invented but it was all done in 50 years. Now Europe and the United States possess the wealth, possess the mechanical appliances and agricultural machinery and mining machinery, plus all the electrical machinery ready to enter upon the development of the virgin resources of these four and one-half continents and I believe it will be a smaller undertaking to develop these resources than we think, smaller than it was to develop the great West.

The great increase in the world's population in the last 50 years has been in the White Race, because the industrial revolution has increased man's subsistence, and Sir Robert Goetting believes that unless something unusual happens this White Race will rise in the next century from 500,000,000 to 1,500,000,000 or 2 billion. Now, good friends, this industrial revolution is going to the dark races of the world, it is to increase their means of subsistence, that is to say, the same cause which gave such a stimulus to the White Race is going to operate on the Colored Race.

The world's population is increasing about 1 per cent per annum, that means it will more than double within the century. You may ask if there will be sufficient motive to develop these resources. Capital seeks investment, it abhors idleness. We are creating $500,000,000 for foreign investment every year. England has $2,500,000,000 invested in the Argentine alone. There are thousands of millions being created every year for foreign investment and seeking that investment. Should we not then expect this development. Fifty years ago our entire assets were seven billions; in 1904 it was 107 billions, and we guess what our wealth will be 50 years hence. With some data for reckoning, and we will be conservative and taken the last half of the 19th century. During that time the increase was 52 per cent for each of the 5 decades, and we will take the least of those decades, 36 per cent, 3.6 per cent per annum, and what will be the wealth in 1960, 607 billions. This is vastly more wealth than all the nations of Europe have created in the past 50 centuries. Is wealth a danger? I cannot tell, but I will give you one illustration. In 1911 in the Wall Street Journal appeared an itemized statement of the wealth controlled by one man and that wealth was $4,814,000,900. If we had all of the revenue of the United States, ordinary and extraordinary, and all of Great Britain, (Continued on Page 8)

NEW PRESIDENT

Newton Man will Head Boston Fire Underwriters

Mr. Edward F. Woods of West Newton, a member of the firm of Hinckley and Woods, was chosen president of the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters at the annual meeting held Tuesday.

Mr. Woods has been actively identified with fire and liability insurance for the past 27 years.

He is one of the most popular and successful underwriters in New England, and his unanimous election, which is the highest honor his associates and friendly competitors can offer him, was received with acclamation.

Mr. Woods was born in Somerville and educated in the public schools there. He graduated at Harvard in 1885, and started his business in a bank. He began his insurance career in 1886 with Crain & Hanscomb, and joined Capt. Hinckley in taking over the business of Freeman & Vinton, a year or two later, the firm becoming Hinckley & Woods.

He is a director of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, the Fourth National Bank, the First National Bank of West Newton, and of the West Newton Co-operative Bank. He was one of the founders of the Brae-Burn Country Club and has been its secretary ever since it started in 1896. He is also a member of the Exchange, University and of the Harvard Clubs of Boston and New York. He is married and has one son, Edward H. Woods, now a senior at Harvard. He lives at 41 Berkeley street, West Newton.

BARN DANCE

The members of the Gamma Delta of the sophomore class of the Newton high school spent a very enjoyable evening at a barn dance held by the society Thursday evening, the 30th of October. The barn was decorated with the Hallowe'en colors, black and orange, and pumpkins, witches and black cats were used in great profusion.

Everybody danced the "tango," "one step" and all the popular dances, and when the party broke up at 12 o'clock all declared it one of the jolliest evenings of the season.

The matrons were Mrs. Pinkham, Mrs. Ducayet and Mrs. Bamberg. Members of the Gamma Delta present were L. Marie Daiger, Lillian Ducayet, Marion Bowen, Elizabeth Buffum, Mildred Jeffery, Louis Pinkham, Marguerite Bamberg, Robert Stowell, Clarence Young, William Freeman, William Ferris, Newton Hyslop, James Willet and Russell Hub.

All are invited to an inspection of the display of beautiful Gas, Electric and Oil Table Lamps, including the latest ideas, up-to-date, practical, eye-saving lamps, for Holiday and Wedding Gifts, over four hundred styles lighted to show the desired effect, at the Show Rooms of McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin St., corner Congress.

ALDERMEN

Again Criticize Expenditures in the Street Department

An adjourned meeting of the aldermen was held Wednesday evening, with President Blakemore in the chair and Aldermen Blanchard, Hatch and Sullivan absent.

The board met to canvas the election returns and on report of its committee, approved the tabulation sent in by the City Clerk.

The mayor sent in a request for a small transfer in the City Messengers department, and petitions were received from Thos. A. Brady, of notice of damages to personal property, of Ida M. Guild for a common victualler license, of Ellen E. Alger for Soldiers relief, of Thos. F. Green for pool table license, and of the Edison Co. for attachments on Oakleigh road.

Auctioneer licenses were granted to M. C. Laffie and A. H. Waitt.

On recommendation of committees, the M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. was granted attachments on various streets, the Edison Co. attachments on Boylston and Walnut streets, a relocation on Page road, conduits on Waban hill road, pole locations on Highland avenue and Pelham street, the Telephone Co. was granted various attachments and a relocation on Dudley road, and the N. & W. Gas Light Co. permits to open up certain streets to lay gas mains, a wagon license was granted G. L. Marcy and a common victualler license refused to R. F. Atwood.

Orders making additional appropriation of $1984.64 for Election expenses due to the special election last spring and to precinct voting at the coming city primary, authorizing advance from water income to the Water Dept. and making a small transfer in the Assessing department were granted.

President Blakemore took the floor on the order adding $2950 to the City Tea account, saying that the board had already passed about $22,000 appropriations charged to the 1914 levy, and were asked to add something like $5000 more tonight. While it was usual to make transfers in appropriations, he thought that the 1913 tax levy ought to pay for all the 1913 expenses and not burden the next mayor with a charge of $27,000 for 1913 bills. He thought it a deplorable situation and entered his protest against it.

Alderman Richardson called attention to the fact that part of this $27,000 was for 1912 bills brought over into 1913 and thought if we could get started on the right basis, that each years tax levy should pay for the bills of that year.

Alderman Pratt explained that the item in question was an account which heretofore had been credited with all its receipts, and that the total cost of the city teams approximated $40,000 each year. He did not care how the money was provided and late submitted an amendment authorizing the advance of this sum from the city treasury. This order was adopted.

While this controversy was in progress Alderman Bemis referred to the action of the board at the last meeting in charging $6000 for Street Maintenance to the 1914 tax levy and suggested that this order be changed and charged to the Street levy for 1913, and his order to that effect was adopted. Orders were also adopted making betterment assessments on Los Angeles and Allison streets.

BANQUET

Newton Business Men Hold First Meeting of the Year

The Newton Business Men's Association started its winter season, Monday evening, with a banquet at the Newton Y. M. C. A., attended by a large number of enthusiastic members.

President Fred A. Hubbard was toastmaster, and remarks were made by Rev. H. Grant Person, pastor of the Elliot Church, Alderman Arthur W. Blakemore, and Mr. F. E. Palmer, vice-president of the Brookline Business Men's Association. During the supper, which was served about seven o'clock, King's Orchestra rendered selections, under the leadership of Mr. George King.

Rev. Mr. Person gave an interesting talk on the business side of a clergyman's life, and mingled wit and wisdom to the great pleasure of his audience. Alderman Blakemore spoke on the Future of Newton, giving interesting details of the work of the city government, present and future, and speaking more particularly of the need of enlarging Nonantum square and how to obtain a playground in this part of the city. Mr. Palmer told of the history and work of his Association, which is ten years old, and under whose auspices Brookline has just opened up a "great white way" in its business center. His talk of the difficulties encountered in the growth of the Association was most instructive and interesting.

The affair was in charge of the Social committee, consisting of Mr. Chas. G. Newcomb, chairman, Mr. W. L. McCammon and Mr. F. L. Crawford.

Among those present were James P. Airth, Phillips Byfield, F. L. Crawford, W. J. Cozens, O. M. Canady, C. S. Decker, Harold Decker, R. H. Evans, Dr. G. F. Fair, R. A. Fancie, W. Johnson, H. H. Wilson.

SCHOOL EMPLOYMENT AGENCY

Mr. Kenelm Winslow, principal of the Stearns school at Nonantum, has inaugurated an employment agency which ought to prove an advantage to the boys and girls and an equally good thing for the householders of the city. Mr. Winslow proposes to act as an agent in providing residents of Newton with boys who will clean out basements, mow or rake lawns, run errands and other work of a similar nature, and girls, who will do light housework and take care of children. This work will be done outside school hours and will be beneficial to the children by keeping them out of mischief and idly roaming the streets, besides giving them a little pocket money, and will also prove of service to householders who wish this sort of work done and are willing to pay 12 1-2 cents an hour for it. Arrangements can be made for this service by calling on Newton North 455 any school day between 11 and 12 A. M.

WALTHAM DEFEATS NEWTON

Disgraceful Exhibition of Football Followed By a Street Riot

It is indeed difficult to attempt to describe the football game last Saturday at Waltham, between the Newton and Waltham High School teams, without expressing a righteous show of indignation over some of the events which took place, and about which a large number of Newton residents became quite angry. It was not the defeat which rankled, for that is the least cause for indignation, but the apparent deliberate purpose to injure the Newton players, and the unsportsmanlike manner of playing the game by Waltham has led to a feeling here that it is most unwise to continue athletic relations with our neighboring city. Newton lost by the score of 30 to 0, but it should be borne in mind that the scoring was all done in the last half of the game, after the strongest Newton players had been taken out of the game, either thru the autocratic actions of the umpire or by injuries deliberately inflicted by Waltham players. Hyatt, one of the best players for Newton, had been warned several days before that he would be taken out of the game, and after doing his share towards holding the Waltham team for downs in the first period, was told to his face, by his opponent, that he would be taken out during the next period. Hyatt was taken out during the next period by the umpire, who claimed he was slugging, but as Hyatt had just thrown himself at the feet of an approaching player for a legitimate tackle, it is hard to see how he could have been "slugging." One other instance, which took place outside the lines, directly beneath a stand filled with Newton sympathizers was the occasion for considerable indignation. A Newton player, tackled by two Waltham men, was carried outside the lines by the tackle, and while lying there, was deliberately "kneed" by a third Waltham man who came running across the field and threw himself on the Newton player before he could get up. Another Newton man was intentionally kicked in the head as he was getting up from the ground, and there were plenty of similar instances.

A delay of a quarter of an hour at the start due to the failure of the Waltham team to reach the field and after Newton had had its usual warming up practise was not conducive to success, and the team showed the effects of the wait in the cold. Besides Hyatt who was put out of the game as described, Newton also lost the services of Dorney, who was injured in the arm, and of O'Neil who was kicked in the face. White, who was cut on the chin, played the whole game, but was in poor shape at the finish. None of the Newton men received any serious injuries, also that was not the fault of their opponents. The first period was straight and decent football, neither team scoring, but a different spirit was noticed at the start.

the beginning of the next period and when Hyatt was taken from the game, the Newton team lost enthusiasm and appeared actually cowed. The rest of the game was a travesty on decent football, and opened the question whether or not the school authorities are justified in allowing pupils to engage in this so-called "sport."

The intense feeling of rivalry between these two schools was possibly somewhat increased from the fact that some persons visited the Waltham football field on Friday night and painted the goal posts and score board with the Newton colors of orange and black. There is no clue as to the perpetrators of the prank, although the faculty manager of the Waltham team has filed a formal protest with the Newton school authorities.

On the way home, a small sized riot took place which should be a cause of shame for the Waltham police. The crowd was so great, that the street railway company had twenty open cars used as specials. The game did not finish until dark, and as this line of cars passed slowly thru Main and Moody streets, which were crowded with people, jeers and cat calls were numerous. A delay was caused by one car running past the switch at High street and the cars were stalled along Moody street, near High street. The trouble began when some one in the street snatched a Newton banner from the hands of a girl in one of the cars and immediately grew into considerable proportions, with such things as pulling off the trolley wires, leaving the cars in darkness, and the throwing of apples and potatoes taken from a nearby provision store. The Waltham police, if they were present, took no action towards stopping the trouble and it was not until General Manager Cox of the street railway company, took charge of the situation and ordered his cars run regardless of the crowd in front, that the trouble partially ceased. There is no question but what the usual hoodlum element was responsible for this disgraceful scene, an active police force could have saved considerable trouble.

MR. ALEXANDER MAGUIRE DEAD

Mr. Alexander Maguire of Newtonville died at the Newton Hospital last week Thursday morning after a brief illness.

Mr. Maguire was well known in Newton, having resided in this city for almost 30 years. Leaving Ireland with only limited means, by hard work and constant endeavor, he managed to accumulate quite an independent income in real estate known as Maguire Court.

Being of a kind, unselfish and sympathetic nature and always ready to help those in need he gained the respect and admiration of his fellow-men.

He leaves seven children, two sons and five daughters, and also several grandchildren.

CITY HALL

A recount of the entire city vote for senator and of five wards (5 and 7 omitted) for county commissioner took place last Saturday evening by the Registrars of Voters. Senator Hilton's total was placed at 2361 instead of 2365, a loss of 4, while Mr. Hall gained 6 votes, from 1749 to 1755. For County Commissioner, Barlow gained 4 votes from 2586 to 2590, while McCloskey dropped from 1692 to 1685.

EDITORIAL

The city primary next Tuesday will merely align the conflicting elements in this city, for the final struggle on Tuesday, Dec. 9th.
The principal contest, of course, is for the office of mayor. Formerly German Alton Burr of Chestnut Hill will be unopposed for the Republican and Progressive nominations and will also probably have an independent endorsement. Mr. Edwin O. Childs, Jr.
will receive an independent nomination and will also have the Democratic endorsement.
There should be no doubt as to the result, for Mr. Burr's qualifications for the office are so much greater than those of Mr. Childs as to make comparisons almost ridiculous. Mr. Burr has had a wide business experience, to which has been added five years' service in the board of aldermen, acquainting him with the needs of the city. To this business and civic experience, Mr. Burr adds sound common sense and judgment, making an ideal combination for the welfare of the city. Mr. Burr is a life-long resident of Newton, and is deeply interested in its welfare.
On the other hand, Mr. Childs, a lawyer by profession, has practically no business experience to qualify him to manage a business aggregating nearly two millions a year, and while he has a splendid record for work among the boys of the city, for the Y. M. C. A. and kindred organizations, this service is hardly of the kind to qualify him for the executive head of the city.
The disgraceful conditions surrounding both the football game last Saturday at Waltham and the riot attending the return of Newton people from the game, reflect seriously on the city of Waltham and its Police Department.
The attention of the Waltham players at the game was first directed to injuring the more prominent Newton players in order to put them out of the game, and while scores of speculators saw the slugging tactics of Waltham men, it is a trifle strange to say the least, that the referee was always looking the other way. The disturbance on Moody street was undoubtedly due to the hoodlum element which is more or less prominent in every city, but it was a condition which the Waltham police ought to have foreseen and guarded against.
The game and the riot ought to be sufficient cause to bar any game of baseball or football with Waltham for several years in the future.
Congressman Gardner's announcement that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for government next fall is more complimentary to his courage than to his good judgment. His course this year, after the campaign opened cost him at least 25,000 good Republican votes, and his assumption of dictatorship and arrogance will be bitterly resented by many. In addition, it should be remembered that the Republican party has never re-nominated a defeated candidate for the governorship, at least in recent years, and that list includes such names as John L. Bates, Eben S. Draper and Louis A. Frothingham. Mr. Gardner will have the light of his life next year in captiving the Republican nomination for governor.
Some persons are unkind enough to remark that in the nomination of his recent political manager, as a

ELECTRIC SALON

Unique in both social and automobile circles the electric automobile salon, to be held at the Copley-Plaza Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the 17th, 18th and 19th, is attracting much interest. In every feature, down to the most minor detail, the salon will be the most distinctive exhibition of its kind ever given.
The grand ballroom of the Copley-Plaza will be filled with more than 30 luxurious and handsomely appointed cars, each a distinct model of one of the 11 manufacturers with Boston representation. No signs, other than an ornamental plaque designating the name of the car, will be seen. Handsome floral decorations will abound, potted plants and cut flowers enhancing the beautiful ballroom and separating from each other the different exhibits.
The arrangements of the hall consist of the simple yet luxurious floral decorations mentioned above, with the cars arranged in three rows with plenty of space between, affording easy ingress and egress. The exhibits committee, consisting of a representative of each car exhibited and headed by W. H. Francis, has passed a stringent rule that no advertising souvenirs or other matter shall be distributed other than the regular catalogs of the various manufacturers, each of which is a work of art worthy of its subject.
This will avoid the usual souvenir-hunting so common to most shows and exhibitions.
The music committee, consisting of John S. Codman and Day Baker, have made elaborate plans for a program in fitting with the distinctive occasion and it is not presuming to say that this feature alone will make the Salon a mecca for music lovers of Greater Boston.

with the national colors and potted plants and the floor arranged with small tables around which members and guests grouped and enjoyed refreshments and the informal entertainment furnished by the Boston Quintet a combination of men's voices with the addition of the fifth voice, that of Mr. Anderson who has a voice with a very high range and whose solos were very much enjoyed. Mr.
Beoley, the bass of the quintet, was much enjoyed, his solos were well received and his good work with the quintet noticeable. Mr. Daniels, tenor, did excellent work with the quintet, having a very strong tenor, and his Scotch dialect and imitation of Herry Lauder brought forth rounds of applause and were hugely enjoyed.
Mr. Scott Perry, in magic and tricks, held the interest of his audience and was heartily enjoyed. The whole entertainment was very informal, part given from the floor and part from the stage. President Chandler with stories added to the entertainment. The Club has made a large increase in membership this fall and promises to have a very successful season under the present officers.

ham Y. B. are expected and all young people are cordially invited to be present and spend a profitable and social evening.
—Announcement has been made that the speaker at the next meeting of the Central Club has been secured in the person of Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper of Philadelphia. Dr. Tupper is one of the most notable platform speakers in the United States, is very prominent in the Chautauquan courses and will undoubtedly hold the audience by his clear-thoughted and uplifting discourse. From among his lectures, the committee in charge of that evening has chosen "The Good New Times."

entertainment was held at the Baptist Church on Thursday evening.
—Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Newton, formerly of this village are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.
—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held a sewing meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles B. Brown of Linden street on Thursday afternoon.
—Mrs. Mason of Oak street quietly observed her 81st birthday at her home on Thursday. She was the recipient of beautiful floral gifts from her many friends.
—The ladies of the Episcopal Church held a very successful rummage sale at their new quarters on Chestnut street on Wednesday afternoon. This is to help pay for the extensive improvements which are being made to the interior of the building.
—Thursday evening, Nov. 20th, the Wesley Bible Class will hold an entertainment in the Methodist Church.
The program arranged consists of a trip through Yellowstone Park with Dr. Dillon Bronson, followed by a musical feast by Miss Beatrice Ridley, violinist, Miss Mildred Ridley, cellist, Miss Jane Ruse, pianist.
—Mr. A. T. Lupien of Pettes street, night watchman at the Gamewell Fire Alarm Telegraph Co., soon after going on duty on Monday evening, fell down the length of the stairs and was badly cut about the face. After his fall he attempted for a short while to continue with his work, but was obliged to have his wounds dressed by Dr. Hoey and return to his home.
—The Women's Foreign Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs.
Charles W. Johnson of High street on Monday afternoon. The following officers were re-elected for the coming year: Mrs. Edwin Thompson, president; Mrs. O. E. Nutter, secretary; Mrs. T. E. Lees, treasurer. The subject for the afternoon was "The Cockpit of Europe," the first chapter in the study of "Turkey" which is to be the subject studied this year by the society.
—Mrs. George Tambo of 7 Shawmut Park and Mr. John MacNeil of Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge were married at the Methodist Parsonage at 6.30 Wednesday evening, Nov. 12th, by the Rev. James Carlton. The bride was dressed in a brocade Taupé travelling suit and was attended by her daughters, Miss Mary and Maude Tambo. After the ceremony
Mr. and Mrs. MacNeil left for a short wedding trip. On their return they will reside at the groom's former home on Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, and will be at home to their friends after January 1st.

Cherry Hill Farm Milk

THE Cherry Hill Farm herd consists of Jerseys and Guernseys, with a few grades of other kinds. It is the consensus of opinion among physicians that the best milk is that from a mixed herd of healthy cows.
The cows are subjected to the in-tuberculin test twice every year, no animal being admitted to the herd until it has received this test.
That there may be no dust during milking, the floors and cows are sprayed and no feed is given until milking is over. The cows are thoroughly groomed, washed with water and soap, and dried with towels, to be sure that they are clean and that there is no opportunity for dirt to get into the milk.

PONPON'S STOLEN KISS

By ROB MCHEYNE.

The sloping vineyards along Ontario were lightly veiled in the mists of Indian summer. In the air was that languorous warmth that steals into the veins and lulls the brain to dreams and reminiscence. The giant cataract could be heard faintly, a drowsy, distant hum of monotony—a sound that seemed to pervade everything and reach the bewildered brain, strangely associated with the heavy odor of grapes, full ripe; the rich clusters hanging everywhere.

It is only by some such psychological analysis, whether scientific or not, that an explanation can be found for the startling fact that Fanchette, going home from the day's picking, allowed Ponpon the fester, the clown, the great laughing roysterer Ponpon, to imprint upon her pretty, upturned, scrota lips, a kiss, thinking all the while it was Antoine.

And such a kiss! A group of gay young girls turned at the sound, only to see the demure Fanchette, blushing to be sure, but smiling in serene unconsciousness of the fact that it was Ponpon who had slipped up behind her and tipped her chin back, as Antoine sometimes did, when he was not too serious.

"So, that is the way when Antoine is not here!" And she turned back to wait for Antoine.

When he came up Ponpon was hanging over him, casting all manner of fives at him.

"You have excellent taste, Antoine. I swear your little chin is as soft as a breast of le perdrix." He burst into a loud guffaw. "Here is La Grignon!" he had given the dark-eyed girl this nickname because she was tall as a maypole, and it had stuck because she was pretty as one—"she will tell you," she saw Fanchette kiss me."

"Yes, and I think it is outrageous of her."

Ponpon was not prepared for this, as he had no idea anyone had seen him, and had called La Grignon into it only to tease Antoine. So he quickly ran off to join another group. But Antoine was silent and his companion had no chance to poison his mind against her rival.

Fanchette entered the vine-covered cottage and kissed her mother with the happiest of faces.

"Ah, my little Mignon, I see you have made up your quarrel of last night with Antoine."

"Yes, mamma, he slipped up behind me as I was walking home—O, mamma, it was so good of him. I know I was in the wrong last night and I shall tell him so when he comes to-night."

But Antoine did not come. The next day Fanchette noticed a difference in the way the girls treated her. Day after day of the balmy Indian summer passed away and Fanchette no longer in doubt of the world's injustice went about her work with a little heart. What had she done? Poor Fanchette! She knew nothing of the world as yet. She could not understand.

One day, late in October, she was sitting on the stone wall, her eyes off across the valley and her thoughts in far-off Gascony, when Ponpon came upon her.

"Poor Fanchette!" he said banteringly, "he is ze last of her illustrious race and it makes her to mourn. Come, let me kiss away that sad look."

"I hate you! I hate you! I hate everybody!" she burst forth.

"Fanchette! Dear little Fanchette! This is serious. Tell Ponpon."

Fanchette only shook her head and winked the tears back. For a long time the good hearted fellow who had worked all the mischief regarded her in silence, then, unwilling to leave without a word said:

"You will save Ponpon a dance to-night."

The girl shook her head.

"Fanchette! Do not be so ill-tempered."

"I'm—I'm not going," sobbed poor Fanchette.

"Not going? Not going to the beeg party that the boss gives us. Why there will be dances, and games, and jack-o'-lanterns. Not going to the hal-loween party? Fanchette! Fanchette! If you do not hold the water in your mouth you can never get married."

But the girl wouldn't smile and poor Ponpon went away sad of heart. "But she shall go," he said, and with the aid of Fanchette's mother he finally persuaded her to go at the last minute.

Of course her appearance, and with Ponpon, set the busy tongues wagging; and her tall rival bit upon a merry plan that all the girls applauded. They would send poor timid Fanchette into the great empty barn where where they had fixed up the big swing like a ghost awaying back and forth in the darkness, and when she screamed they would all have a good laugh.

The crowd gathered about the lower door, as the girl slowly mounted the ladder. As she removed the bandage and saw the grinning pumpkins and the great ghost she could not suppress a little gasp.

"Fanchette!" exclaimed a voice. "Antoine!" She ran toward the ghost and threw herself into Antoine's arms.

After they had sat swinging blissfully together for some minutes, Fanchette said, "Antoine, I was in the wrong when we quarreled; I forgive you for saying so."

It was easier to forgive than to ask forgiveness and much more satisfactory.

LIKE A SACRED MEMORY

By ROBERT MCHEYNE.

The warm October sunshine seemed to draw a fragrance of peculiar delicacy from the fading mignonette sprawling over the west wall. It was as though the dainty flower had kept something back from summer's passionate wooing, and were now opening her heart in all its purity to her departing lover; it was like a farewell kiss; it was like a sacred memory.

An old man, in whose dark, quiet eye was a shade of kindly melancholy, came slowly up the street, casting a glance from time to time, about the old-fashioned houses as though in search of familiar signs. When he reached the crumbling pillar at the end of the old wall he paused and breathed deeply the rare perfume of the fading flower about him, all the while with his staff planted firmly on the flagstone. A little girl, scarce taller than his walking stick, and as dainty as the flower itself, was standing by the wall, plucking a withered blossom now and then and tossing it aside, as she listened to the words of her playmate.

"But, Maisie," he protested, "you ran away."

"The new boy's strong. He gave me an apple," she said, and walked off.

The little chap's face was of serious mold, with a heavy brown lock of hair hanging over his forehead, and he made a quaint figure in his short jacket and blue trousers reaching just to the tops of his stout buckie-shoes. He said no more, but thrust his hands into his pockets and turned slowly to the house.

"Maisie," called the old man.

She came quickly toward him and sat down on the stone bench by his side.

"How did you know my name?" she asked.

"Maisie's a pretty name," he said.

"My grandma's name was Maisie. How did you know?"

"I heard the boy say it."

"The boy's name's Tom—Tom Midgley Manning. What's your name?"

The old man started slightly at the name. "My name's Tom, too," he said, and they were silent a long time. Then he said:

"Do you know what's the greatest thing in the world, little girl?"

"What is?"

"Happiness."

"I'm happy," she said.

"But I'm afraid Tom's not—Tom Midgley."

Just then a little figure appeared from behind an old apple tree. It was Tom.

"Go away, bad boy," she called.

"Why do you send him away?"

"O, he won't go," she replied with confidence.

The old man smiled sadly. "Some day he may go away; he may go away and never come back—never."

WALKER-HAYNES

The wedding of Miss Lillian Harriet Haynes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Melzar Haynes of Newtonville and Mr. Albert Luke Walker, son of Mr. Meredith Walker of Waltham, was solemnized Monday evening in St. John's Episcopal Church.
The altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums and the ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the bridegroom's brother, Rev. Robert Walker of Concord, the bride being given in marriage by her mother.
Mr. Everett E. Truette, organist and choirmaster at Elliot Church, Newton, presided at the organ and rendered Wagner's bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the wedding party assembled.
The natural attractiveness of the bride was enhanced by a beautiful wedding gown of ivory white satin with Spanish lace and court train of brocade. She wore a tulle veil with orange blossoms and carried a full shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.
The double ring form was used and the ringbearer was little Miss Muriel Haynes of Flushing, L. I., who was very prettily attired in white and carried a basket of bride roses.
The bridesmaids were Miss Adeline Packard of Watertown, who was gowned in blue, and Miss Ethel Harding of Boston, wearing a gown of pink and carrying pink Killarney roses.
Mrs. Haynes, the bride's mother, wore an exquisite gown of gray satin and carried a bouquet of violets.
The bridegroom's attendant was Mr. Herbert Clark of Waltham as best man, and the ushers were Dr. Fred Tegginbotham of Watertown, Messrs. Wallace Clark and John Walker of Waltham, Fred Lundberg of Cambridge and Arthur Porter of Newton.
Owing to the recent death of Mr. Walker's mother, the four hundred invitations which had been issued for the reception, were recalled, and the reception will be held later.
The young couple were the recipients of a large number of beautiful and costly gifts including silver, cut glass and china.
Both the bride and bridegroom are very prominent in musical circles, the former being a popular "cello" player, and Mr. Walker a well known music teacher and the organist at the Church of the New Jerusalem at Newtonville.
On their return from a wedding trip to St. and Mrs. Walker will reside at 73 Elm road, where they will be at home to their friends after January 1st.

GIBSON-VEO

A wedding of unusual interest to residents of this city took place Saturday evening at St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville, when Miss Margaret Dorothy VEO, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. VEO became the bride of Mr. Charles Ellsworth Gibson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gibson of Bigelow road, West Newton.
The church was attractively decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns and white chrysanthemums and owing to the illness of the rector, Rev. Richard T. Loring, the ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church, Newton.

Guests numbering about three hundred, assembled at the church at 7.30 and as the bridal party entered, the Lohengrin wedding march was rendered by Miss Mason, the organist at St. John's.
The bride who was given in marriage by her father, looked exceedingly lovely in a beautiful wedding gown of white satin with over-dress of Spanish lace trimmed with orange blossoms. She wore a tulle veil and carried a full shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley, and was attended by Mrs. Stewart K. Gibson as matron of honor, who was handsomely gowned in lavender satin trimmed with Chantilly lace and carried pink roses.
The bridegroom's attendant was his brother, Mr. Stewart K. Gibson, as best man, and the ushers were Messrs. J. Lomax Clark, and J. Feaster Brown of Newton, Lester L. Dowd of Newton Centre, James W. Gibson, brother of the bridegroom, and C. Kenneth VEO, brother of the bride.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the bride's residence on Otis street, which was attended only by the relatives and members of the Clubs to which the young couple belonged.
Mr. and Mrs. Gibson received in an alcove in the drawing-room, which was banked with ferns and white chrysanthemums. They were assisted in receiving by their parents, Mrs. VEO was gowned in white satin embroidered with black lace, and Mrs. Gibson wore a gown of gray satin.
In the dining room the predominating color was pink, and the table decorations were pink Killarney roses. The guests at the reception numbered about one hundred and included relatives from Chatham, Vermont, New Hampshire, Boston, and the Newtons.

Both the bride and bridegroom were very popular in the younger society set and were members of the class of '14, Newton High School. A profusion of beautiful and useful gifts were showered upon them, including china, silverware and cut glass.
Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were given an enthusiastic "send-off" by their young friends and schoolmates, both on the eve of their departure and when the express en route for the west arrived in Newtonville Sunday morning, where about 25 friends were in waiting at the station to bid them farewell.
On their arrival in Chicago they will be guests for several days of Mr. Gibson's sister, Mrs. Arthur Hill Jackson, at her home in Evanston, and will go from there to Alamosa, a beautiful little town in Colorado, where Mr. Gibson will be associated with his father in the real estate business.
Mr. and Mrs. Gibson will be at home after Jan. 1st, at Alamosa, Colorado.

Misses Mitchell, Rider and Little were the teachers in charge of the Hyde School pupils and Miss Edmunds looked after the Mason School party. The play, "Let's Go A Gardening," was thoroughly enjoyed by all and after the curtain was rung down at the end of the last act the entire party was taken upon the stage and introduced to Mr. Jewett, who made a brief speech outlining the policies and purposes of The Players.

A special car took the party to the theatre and returned with them after the performance.

DEBUTANTE TEA

Mrs. Louis Henry Fitch presented her daughter, Miss Dorothy Brinliff Fitch, at a reception and tea this week on Wednesday afternoon at her residence on Sumner street, Newton Centre.

The scheme for the decorations was very beautiful and consisted of an effective combination of yellow and bronze colored chrysanthemums, in drawing room, dining room and reception rooms. Musical selections were rendered by a string orchestra. Miss Fitch received from 4.30 until 7 and was charmingly gowned in pale green chiffon over white and carried a bouquet of lavender colored roses and white roses; she was assisted in receiving by her mother, who wore a handsome gown of fuchsia colored brocade and carried white roses.

The pourers were the Misses Ruth Clark, Evelyn Stuart, Margaret Wilkins of Newton Centre, Miss Pauline Brant of Newtonville, Miss Esther Wing of Newton, Miss Katherine Towbury of Newton Highlands and Miss Katherine Brooks of Cambridge. Guests of social prominence numbering 250 were present from Boston, Brookline and the Newtons.

YOUNG WOMAN KILLED

On Saturday afternoon, Miss Margaret E. Keneffek, aged 18, employed in the office of a garage on Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, was shot and almost instantly killed by William A. Templeton of Arlington, a chauffeur.

Templeton went into the office and opened a closet took out a repeating rifle, which went off as he examined it. The bullet struck Miss Keneffek in the right temple and passed thru the head.

Templeton endeavored to get a doctor on the telephone and falling in this took the body in his machine and hurried to the Newton Hospital, where she was found dead. Templeton reported the matter to the police and was held under $5000 bond. On Monday morning he was discharged by Judge Kennedy, who found that the affair was entirely an accident.

Miss Keneffek resided in the Chestnut Hill section of Brookline.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT

A 12-ton truck, fully loaded, owned by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, crashed through the two large plate glass windows of the First National Bank, Washington street, West Newton, early Tuesday morning, completely demolishing the frame and windows.
The truck was being driven by Jewell Reinhart. It was running toward Auburndale, about three o'clock, when the steering gear went wrong and before Reinhart could apply the brakes the machine shot across the sidewalk and raked along the front of the bank. The spot is close to police headquarters and men were detailed to guard the bank until it opened for business in the morning. Reinhart escaped injury.

Miss GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

At the Autumn meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation at Whitman on Monday next several changes in the By-laws will be acted upon. While these changes may seem minor matters they do in reality in two cases materially affect the policy of the Federation. Up to this time the election of officers has been done on the floor of the annual meeting. It has consumed time and has been a difficult matter to control, particularly the matter of seating the delegates and of being sure that only delegates voted. Now it is proposed to follow the more dignified plan of the General Federation, of using the Australian ballot and of having the polls open for a certain period of time during which the delegates shall go there and cast their ballots.

The second change is merely providing for the filling of vacancies in the Nominating committee, which is an elected committee, and for the filling of which there has been no provision. The executive board has already the power to fill all other vacancies, so it is proposed to give the board the power to do this also.

The third amendment is perhaps of more vital concern and is presented at this time in accordance with a vote passed at the annual meeting last May, when last year's nominating committee brought in the recommendation that hereafter a copy of the ballot be sent out to the clubs four weeks in advance. In the early years of the Federation when it was a comparatively small organization it was well enough for a committee to have the full say as to who should serve as officers. But with the present membership of the Federation the clubs should know what names are presented by the committee long enough in advance to take some united action in case that slate is not satisfactory to them as a whole. It is a move that should have been taken some time ago and should receive the unanimous support of the Federation delegates next Monday.

State Federation Announcements

By invitation of the Whitman Woman's Club the Autumn meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in the Town Hall, Whitman, on Monday, November 17. The morning session will open at ten o'clock, when Mrs. Ruth Butts Carson will speak on "Fashion:

Local Happenings

The West Newton Women's Educational Club tendered a reception to its new president, Mrs. G. W. St. Amant at her home in Abundant on Friday, Nov. 7th, from three to five o'clock. The president was assisted in receiving by Mrs. G. G. Phipps, honorary vice-president, and by the vice-presidents, Mrs. G. D. Byfield, Mrs. I. T. Farnham, and Mrs. A. B. Munroe. Mrs. C. E. Conant, chairman of the reception committee, Mrs. Charles L. Anderson and Mrs. Thomas M. Elwell acted as ushers. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted palms. Music was furnished by a trio of young ladies from the New England Conservatory. Refreshments were served under the direction of the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Francis E. Nowers, chairman, and a corps of assistants. The club is looking forward to a very stimulating and profitable year under its new president.

held at the home of Mrs. W. C. B. Robbins. Mrs. Seward Jones presented a paper upon "Governor Winthrop." Mrs. W. M. Mick gave a paper on "William Cullen Bryant." Mrs. C. D. Miller read two of Bryant's poems "Death of the Flowers" and "To a Waterfowl." Mrs. F. S. Fairchild sang "Old Black Joe," with violin obligato by James Armstrong.

On Monday afternoon the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. continued its study of the Islands of the Sea under the direction of Mrs. Fred Hayward at the home of Mrs. Whitmore. Of the Releance Islands Mrs. Hayward said that they do not deserve the title of "the forgotten islands." They lie off the coast of Spain and belong to that nation. Elba, ten miles off Italy has a population of 25,000. It has been an independent principality since 1814. The principal industry, iron mines, are run by the government. In treating Malta Mrs. Hayward stated that it has a territory about equal to our District of Columbia. While belonging to Great Britain, English is not spoken, a sort of Arabic being the language. The inhabitants are Roman Catholics. Malta is a strong naval station as well as the coaling station for all kinds of vessels. Some accounts of the Knights of Malta was given. Sardinia and Corsica were also touched upon. The latter known as the birthplace of Napoleon also claims Columbus as a son. The climate presents great variety of extremes. The people are very superstitious.

The Pierian Club met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Brown and continued the study of Brazil taking up the resources and economic conditions under the direction of Mrs. Louis P. Everett. Mrs. Mills' current events talk took up the Mexican situation.

Home Circle

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Nov. 20 at G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville. Reports of great interest from the department store held at Norumbega hall, Abundant, will be given.

Travel Class

Out of a membership of twenty-five comprising the travel class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, nineteen ladies were present on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 6, at the residence of the leader, Mrs. Charles E. Quinn, 42 Stearns street, Newton Centre. The papers were limited to twenty minutes duration. The study for the year is India, and a brief outline of its geographic divisions, scenery, climate and productions was given by Mrs. H. K. Burris, supplemented by extracts from a book of travel on India.

TWO AUTO ACCIDENTS

The dangerous junction of Putnam and Margin streets, West Newton, was the scene of another automobile accident last Friday afternoon, when machines owned by Wm. R. Fairclough of Roxbury, containing Mr. and Mrs. Francis Boutillier of Roxbury and Mrs. Grace C. Brown of Brookline collided with the machine of Mr. H. F. Morse of Newton, driven by W. M. Hammond and accompanied by William Little. The first machine was turned upside down, pinning Mrs. Boutillier to the ground. All these people were more or less hurt, Mrs. Boutillier receiving internal injuries. They were taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

Burmah and its people were next considered and delightfully treated in a paper by Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson. Ceylon, its beauties and its history, by Mrs. Walter A. Beedle at present absent in the South, was read by a member of the class.

A clever and very interesting paper on "The people of India" by Mrs. Chas. E. Conant brought the class to the religions of India to be discussed at the next regular meeting, Wednesday, Nov. 19. A delightfully social half-hour followed.

The members and guests of the Social Science Club listened to a sane and convincing presentation of the subject of "International Peace" by Mrs. Anna Sturgis Duryea of the World Peace Foundation. Mrs. Duryea cited how the workers for the peace movement recognized the value of interesting the women in the subject and are appealing to them on every possible occasion. We are not, she said, saying peace change, do way with your armaments at once, but we are urging the gradual lessening of armaments and the developing of a system of international law. Cooperation is to be the watchword of the future. Then she went on to show how the barriers between nations have been largely broken down, through greater mutual confidence, of the bringing together of all parts of the world by means of the telegraph, the telephone, the wireless and how it was found at the time of the arbitration of the differences between Russia and Japan that St. Petersburg is in reality only three minutes from Portsmouth. She also referred to the manner in which the nations are coming together financially, that Germany and England cannot possibly go to war with one another on account of each other's credit being so entangled. The speaker stated that $2,250,000,000 is being spent each year on war and that United States is spending more than its share for about 60 per cent of all our revenue goes to pay for war and the results of war. The Mohonk Conferences were referred to and the work of the Hague Conferences. In closing she said that much can be done if we all take hold of it. Friendship, sympathy and humanity are to be the watchwords of the future.

There will be a short prayer-meeting at 2:45 before the regular meeting to give special thought to the Y. M. C. A. and young men. All are invited to come.

At the annual meeting of the Newton Woman's Exchange, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. W. H. Lucas; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. J. T. Lodge, Mrs. E. T. Fearing, Mrs. E. P. Tuttle; Secretary, Miss M. B. Henry; Treasurer, Mrs. J. J. Neenan; Directors, Mrs. Henry Whitcomb, Mrs. J. L. Patton, Mrs. A. S. Pratt, Mrs. Alfred W. Vose, Mrs. F. S. Webster, Mrs. A. J. Silsbee, Mrs. W. F. Plant, Mrs. F. A. Day, Mrs. H. P. Converse, Mrs. C. P. Darling, Miss Rose Loring, Miss Anna Whitling, Mrs. F. O. Stanley and Mrs. C. J. Bailey.

Newton Highlands Club Day

A few years ago the clubs of Newton Highlands arranged to have a union meeting and the experiment was so successful that it was repeated the following year, but for some reason the matter was dropped and last season it was omitted. This year, however, it was brought up again and as a result the vestry of the Congregational Church was filled with members of the five different clubs to hear Prof. Bliss Perry lecture upon "The Making of a Great American," that American being Ralph Waldo Emerson. Mr. Perry began by going back to Emerson's grandfather, Rev. Daniel Bulkley, an early minister in the old church of Concord, who lived in the "Old Manse," afterwards the home of Hawthorne, and pointed out the influence of the forebears upon the boy, who was afterward the great philosopher. The vein of liberalism was strong in the Emerson blood. The speaker traced the growth of the boy into the man, telling of his college days, how he paid the family debts and assisted in his younger brothers through college. Emerson's connection with the Second Church of Boston and his final withdrawal from the ministry were mentioned in detail as well as his career as a public lecturer. Unlike the other literary celebrities of eastern Massachusetts Emerson journeyed the country over lecturing, while his horizon was bounded upon the north by Salem, on the south by Plymouth, and on the west by Concord. After the brief sketch of the man Prof. Perry considered three of Emerson's works, a small volume called "Nature," the Phi Beta Kappa oration and his Dialectic School Address. In closing the speaker referred to this great man as the friend and helper of those who would live in the spirit.

Among the guests present was Mrs. J. W. McIntyre, president of the Newton Federation, who brought greetings and urged the members to attend the Federation's autumn meeting.

Mrs. H. E. Williams, president of the Monday Club, acted as hostess and invited all to remain for a social cup of tea. Mrs. S. L. Eaton, Mrs. F. S. Keith, Mrs. Robert E. Clark and Mrs. Tabor, the presidents of the other clubs, presided over the tea table. Mrs. Shunway and Mrs. Florence L. B. Robinson rendered selections during the social hour, which was a brilliant and successful occasion.

Newton Federation

Not for a number of years has the Newton Federation held its meeting, away from Newtonville, but upon the urgent invitation of the Newton Centre Woman's Club it was decided to hold the autumn meeting in Newton Centre and certainly no mistake was made in the change, for the Parish House of the Congregational Church was filled to overflowing on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. J. W. McIntyre, the new president, called the meeting to order and after a word of greeting from Mrs. F. H. Stewart, president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, as hostess, the members listened with much pleasure to a group of songs by Miss Marian Haskell. Mr. Francis H. Williams, who with several other public spirited men of that village have been making plans during the past summer for an artificial ice plant, gave some account of the possibilities of such a plant. Mr. Williams told of the harvesting, storing, delivery and dangers of natural ice and then pointed out the superiority of artificial ice made from pure water.

After another group of songs by Miss Haskell, Mr. George S. Purlington spoke upon the "High Cost of Living." Among the factors mentioned by Mr. Purlington were: the rush of population to the cities, unscientific methods of producing, uncertain markets, cost of transportation, waste in handling. The modern financier has discovered, he said, ways of holding up the old economic laws of supply and demand. As a remedy he would suggest the establishment of co-operative stores. The speaker then gave some account of the English co-operative system as started many years ago by the Rochdale Equable Pioneers. Three principles govern these concerns, a cash business, a fair retail market price and democratic management. He also cited other countries where the co-operative stores have been a success and felt that this would materially lower the cost of living.

At the close of the address light refreshments were served during the social hour under the direction of Mrs. F. E. Anderson, chairman of the Social committee of the Federation.

The regular November meeting of the Women's Auxiliary Club, Newton Y. M. C. A. will be held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 3 P. M.

The speaker is to be Mr. Frank Palmer Speare, Educational Director of the Boston Y. M. C. A. The Educational Department of the Boston Y. M. C. A. has a membership of 3500 and ranks among the principal educational institutions of the country. Its great success is due largely to the efforts of Mr. Speare. He is a very interesting speaker and will take for his subject "The Business of Life." All members and friends are cordially invited to come and hear him.

There will be a short prayer-meeting at 2:45 before the regular meeting to give special thought to the Y. M. C. A. and young men. All are invited to come.

At the annual meeting of the Newton Woman's Exchange, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. W. H. Lucas; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. J. T. Lodge, Mrs. E. T. The Suffrage Fair at the Copley Place on Nov. 6-7 proved to be a great success. The Newton table alone cleared about $500 and the other tables from the different Leagues in the state achieved similar results. The large ball room was filled most of the time, and many interesting speakers were heard. On Thursday evening Mrs. Maud Wood Park very gracefully introduced Mrs. Medill McCormack of Chicago, one of the four women who worked to insure the passage of the Suffrage Bill in the Illinois Legislature.

The executive board meeting of the Newton Equal Franchise League will be held Wednesday, Nov. 19, 10:30 A. M., at the home of Mrs. C. Sidney Cook, Jr., 70 Valentine street, West Newton, to transact important business.

One of the busiest and most prolific pens of the last quarter century has been that of John Kendrick Bangs, the inventor of "The Genial Idiot" and the discoverer of "A House-Boat on the Styx." In addition to being the author of more than fifty volumes, Mr. Bangs has given much time and energy to magazine editing and lecturing. Mr. Bangs is not an eloquentist, he is something far more enjoyable—a man who knows how to read intelligently. His lecture includes gossip, anecdotes of statesmen, poets, novelists, philanthropists and others. Mr. Bangs is to lecture under the auspices of the Brightelmene Club, Tuesday evening, Nov. 18, at 8 o'clock, in the Congregational Church, Quint avenue, Allston.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Dennison Hall, Newtonville, was well filled last Wednesday night when the newly elected officers of Newton Council, No. 167, Knights of Columbus, were installed by John J. Flynn, District Deputy, and suite of Waltham.

The new officers of the Council are: James P. Gallagher, G. K. John M. Fitzgerald, D. G. K. James F. Hogan, F. S. Bernard M. Burke, T. A. C. Hughes, C. John Hickey, W. C. John Nagle, I. G.; Dr. D. F. McCabe, O. G.; William P. Meehan, A.; William A. Sprout, P. G. K., delegate to the State Convention; William H. Mague, trustee; William P. Meehan, L.

Following the installation addresses were made by the chaplain, Rev. Daniel C. Hordian, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, Rev. Francis Cronin of St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, Rev. Ambrose Gallagher of Boston, a brother of the new Grand Knight, William J. Doherty, P. A. Murray, William A. Sprout, the retiring Grand Knight, and District Deputy Flynn. During the evening several pleasing vocal selections were rendered by Daniel Kenslea, Frank McDermott and George E. Merrill. Refreshments brought the evening to a close.

In anticipation of the needs of early holiday shoppers, the Ladies' Auxiliary Club has enlarged the space devoted to display of books for children's reading and have now ready for inspection one of the most complete and satisfactory collections of juvenile literature—including the cream of the season's new books—that has ever been shown in Boston. The department has been placed in charge of Miss Amy E. L. Goodrich, a lady who has had years of experience in choosing books for young readers, and her services in the matter of selection are at the disposal of patrons. This makes a most important part of holiday buying a pleasure instead of a task, and assures the best of results.

POLICE NOTES

Miss Anna Bridzkate of 12 "Highland" avenue, Needham, who was arrested yesterday afternoon by inspectors Fletcher and Goode, charged with the larceny of Mrs. S. S. Campbell's wedding gown two days previous, was fined $15 by Associate Justice Copeland in the Police Court this morning.

The woman has been employed by Mrs. Campbell two of three days a week, assisting with the housework. Wednesday the woman again came to work, and it was that day that the gown was found to be missing. The police were told of the affair, and after a two day search located several pieces of the wedding dress in the woman's room.

The defendant was in the Newton Court three years ago on a similar charge, having stolen some silk from the Silk Mill at Upper Falls, and at that time a fine of $50 was imposed, and on another charge of larceny of silk in Needham, she was fined $50 in the Dedham Court.

The police have been unable to locate but a few small pieces of the wedding gown, and Judge Copeland ordered the woman to return the dress to the home of Mrs. Campbell, 787 Chestnut street, Waban, as soon as possible.

ARCHERY

The excellent weather conditions of the past week has been very welcome to the Newton Archers, and hardly a day passes, but what several members are in action on the range of the Newton Centre Playground. The membership continues to enlarge, and the present prospects look as if the organization would become one of the leading ones in the state by next spring.

Challenge matches are becoming very popular among the older and experienced archers, and in the one conducted last Wednesday afternoon, the scores were exceptionally fine. Mr. Burton Payne Gray and Mr. L. C. Smith extended a challenge to Mr. S. W. Wilder and Mr. C. T. Switzer, which was promptly accepted, each shooting a round comprising 30 arrows at 40 yards. Each of the participants made a clean score, but the former team won out by 32 points.

Previous to the challenge match the four shot an American Round, consisting of 30 arrows at 60, 50 and 40 yards, respectively. Of the 90 arrows shot by Mr. Smith, all but one went true of the mark, and Mr. Gray made 88 hits out of 90 attempts. In the York Round, which comprises 72 arrows at 100 yards, 48 arrows at 80 yards and 24 arrows at 60 yards, Mr. Gray was high with 101 hits for 435 points. The scores follow:

THE CHRISTIAN FORUM

Germany, France, Italy, Austria Hungary, that would fall short $187,000,000 of equalling that controlled by the late J. Pierpont Morgan alone. Is there anything undemocratic about that?

Dr. Strong also spoke of the problem of the development of the city, 500 of which have sprung up in this country within the past 50 years. He stated that on account of the great increase in population and the tendency to settle in the cities it made a problem to be very seriously considered.

He called special attention to China. He stated that with the edict doing away with the ancient belief in the one of the Chinaman, there was a new development in that nation. The Chinese, he said, had actually elected a provincial president, a provincial congress and set the wheels of the new republic in motion, in shorter time than it took to nominate Governor Wilson for the Presidency, and that Americans must keep alive to the situation or they might yet be left far in the rear by the Chinese in the race of life.

In closing he stated, that while there were great opportunities in the nations not developed, that he believed there were greater opportunities in the United States, for the betterment of the country, business, labor, man, woman and child through belief in the teachings of Jesus Christ as contained in the Holy Bible.

Dr. Strong answered questions after his address which were somewhat as follows:

Do you think it was a mistake to give the ballot outright to the Negro? I think it was a mistake to give the ballot to the negroes without requiring an educational test.

Why such an attitude toward Mr. Morgan?

This is a terrible temptation, there is so much that can be said on the subject of wealth. Think of a man with the political power equal to his financial power. If a man had the political power equal to the financial power of the late Mr. Morgan, without a doubt there would be a revolution in the country.

How can we solve the emigration problem? I think emigration ought to be restricted. I think the principle should not be the grammatical test, but if a man appears fairly intelligent and has the sort of blood we desire in our nation that we should give him a chance to make good.

Does John D. Rockefeller control wealth equal to that of Mr. Morgan? I have never seen any statistics regarding this, but I am inclined to think that with all his interests it is equally as large.

What do you believe would solve all our various problems. True belief in the teachings of Jesus as contained in the Bible.

PROTESTS WALTHAM GAMES

To the Editor of the Graphic—By the time this is read, our Newton High School football team would have played another game; but I hope it will not have been against such surroundings as we Newton people had to stand last Saturday at Waltham.

After the people over there had been supplied with tickets, there were stragglers we could get.

The writer had three, but we had in the "Newton Stand" all mixed in with us, rowdies who were allowed to use language not fit for ladies to hear, and those rowdies were from Waltham.

For five years I have seen many a game lost by Newton High and never squealed; but when a fair player like Hyatt is taken out of a game because, as a Boston paper said, "unnecessary roughness," while the Waltham players were not only "downing a man," but a second and third piling on, often running his head into the turf, it is time we cut that team from our schedule.

The management will say, "they need the money." The parents should say, "they need their boys."

With all the money allowed for education here in Newton, there should be allowed a small amount to teach manhood as well as brains; and with the big receipts from the Wellesley, Somerville and Waltham games, there should be money given the boys to enable them to buy a suit fit to wear before the public. One boy's jersey was so moth-eaten Saturday, after one rush, it rotted off his back.

These sentiments are those of prominent men of Newton, and names can be produced.

Instead of having a half-dozen 12-year-old boys on the side lines, have three graduates there to get the players ready for each period.

"Cut that game, as we Newton people don't want it!"

NEW BARN DEDICATED

Reception and Entertainment at John Hopewell's

In old-fashioned New England style, John Hopewell of Newton and Natick dedicated his modern barn, assisted by neighbors, the Monday Evening Club of Newton and business associates of Newton and Boston.

An old-fashioned New England dinner was served between two long rows of cow stalls and the table was tastefully decorated with vegetables and autumn leaves.

Franklin W. Gause of Newton, the toastmaster, introduced various speakers, whose topics were selected for them just before arising. Most of the talks were in a humorous vein, among the topics being, "How Should a Cow be Fed Which Weighs 1,000 Pounds and Gives 40 Quarts Daily, Testing 5.35 Percent Butter Fat?" "Melons and How to Cut Them," and "What is Expected of a Farmer's Wife."

The presiding officer brought the speakers to a close by the use of a large cow bell, which he wielded frequently and to good effect. Among the speakers were Thomas Weston, F. E. Stanley, F. O. Stanley, D. M. James, J. Wesley Barber, A. R. Bailey, W. E. Litchfield, K. W. Hobart, Mitchell Wing, F. M. Kimball, C. E. Ensign, J. B. Jamieson and others.

In behalf of the neighbors, John J. Martin, president of the Real Estate Exchange, gave Mr. and Mrs. Hopewell a large clock and A. W. Fuller, in a felicitous speech, presented Mrs. Hopewell a large old-fashioned cowbell for the Monday Evening Club of Newton.

Each guest received a small bottle of cream, a product of the farm. Owing to the death of his mother-in-law, Hon. Samuel W. McCall, who was to be one of the special guests, was unable to attend.—Natick Bulletin.

41 SUMMER ST. BOSTON

THE Y. M. C. A.

A resume of the address given last Sunday at the Newton Y. M. C. A. by Mr. S. M. Sayford will be of interest to friends of the Association all over the country.

Mr. Sayford said in part:—In order that we may render thanks and offer petition to Almighty God concerning the Young Men's Christian Association, it may be well for us to take a rapid glance at its present condition, and note some of its achievements.

8,500 organizations in 47 countries, with a million members! The growth from a seed planted a little less than 70 years ago by a young clerk in a dry goods establishment in London, England!

It was my privilege 36 years ago to lunch with the founder of the Association in his private dining room of that same dry goods house of which he was then proprietor.

What a colossal tree has grown from the "mustard seed" of the endeavor of a young man who dared to honor God among his fellow clerks! Beside the bulk and magnitude of the Young Men's Christian Association, what development of mind and body and soul it has wrought in the young men of the world!

It was the means of Whitford's conversion in Woburn, Mass., and it made him one of the foremost general secretaries of the country.

It took Messer from a dry goods store in that same town and has made him the great administrator in Chicago of one of the largest Associations in the world.

It developed Fred Smith and made him the great evangelist to young men.

It took Brockman from Vanderbilt University and has made him one of the three great Christian statesmen of China.

It put its impress upon Pitkin; brought him under the influence of the Student Volunteer Movement; led him to China as a missionary where he became a hero and a martyr in the Boxer uprising.

It took Mott from Cornell University, and has made him pre-eminently great as an organizer of young men in Christian enterprise. He has federated the Christian students of the world's leading institutions of higher learning, so that the globe is girdled today by a band of Christian men unequalled in the history of the Church.

In our own Newton, it has preserved its organization; it has developed several young men as Christian workers, and given them to the Church for service. Among these is one who is the president of the Association today, and who, by his dauntless courage and splendid faith in God, has brought us into possession—free of debt—of this superb plant for the moulding of Christian character in other young men.

In foreign lands and at home, it prosecutes its magnificently beneficent work under methods approved by Church and State.

It labors among the sailors on the battleships of the sea, and in the tents of our soldiers wherever these guardians of the peace are encamped.

Surely we have profound cause for thanksgiving to God, as well as occasion for intercessory prayer for the continued blessing of Him who has preserved the Association from its enemies and sustained it amidst the various crises in its history.

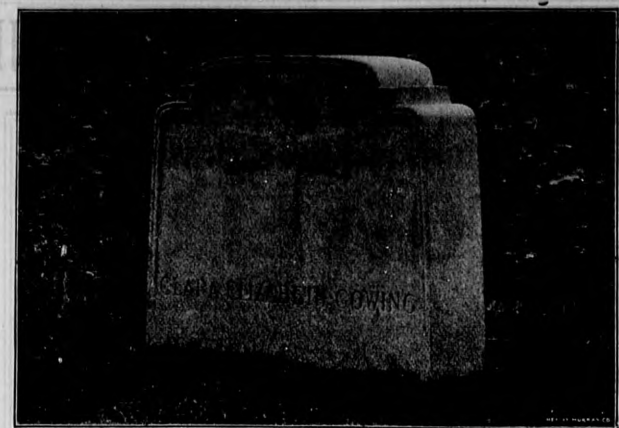

Mr. Mott, in an address before his colleagues at their annual fall meeting, made a plea for intercessors. He said, "It is my belief that 200 men, yes, 100 men, of pure heart, unselfish motive and unwavering faith in the integrity, omnipotence, love and present day working of the living God, could through intercession, usher in an age like unto that vital age—the age of Apostolic Christianity."

If each Association in our own land would furnish one such man we could offer to God a force far larger than Gideon's three hundred, and equipped by the power that was theirs, we might deliver the kingdoms of his world into the hands of Him who is "King of Kings" and "Lord of Lords."

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The Hunnewell Club held its first Neighborhood Night of the season Tuesday evening. Mrs. Edward P. Tuttle and Mrs. Everett T. Ryder were in charge, and many members and their guests were present. Mr. Clarence S. Luitwiler of Newton Highlands interested all in "A Tramp Through Bonnie Scotland," illustrated by one hundred and twenty-five beautifully colored views of the mountains, lakes and rivers of the land, and of the abbeys, castles, cathedrals and other great works of the past, with the romances and history of its poets and heroes.

After the lecture refreshments were served in the dining room, the pourers being Mrs. E. T. Fearing, Mrs. W. F. Plant, Mrs. H. L. Dexter, Jr., and Mrs. Clarence C. Colby. Informal dancing, whist, bowling, and billiards were enjoyed until midnight.

MILITARY MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Lieut. Col. Robert Ball Edes Stricken With Cerebral Hemorrhage

Col. Robert Ball Edes, was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage in his office at Boston shortly after 5 Monday afternoon. He was removed to the Relief Hospital and died there at 9 that night.

Elected 2d Lieutenant of Co. F, 5th

LIEUT.-COL. ROBERT BALL EDES

Robert Ball Edes was born in Charlestown, Oct. 3, 1856. His parents had removed to Chelsea when he was quite young. They removed to Newton in 1866. He had attended the Newton High School and for a time went to the Boston English High School, and in 1872 was selected for appointment to West Point, but because of poor health did not go to that institution.

His first work was in a shoe store in Boston in 1869, and from that time until 1872, the year of the Boston fire, he worked in various stores. In 1871 he joined the Clafin Guards of Newton, then known as Co. L, 1st Regiment, and the military training he received stood him in good stead when he went West later in the 70's.

He went to Nebraska where his cousin had died and left a ranch about the time the gold fever had struck the Black Hills. The Indians were then particularly hostile and by a peculiar collection of circumstances he served as ranchman and in the 5th United States Cavalry in 1876 and 1877.

He returned East in 1877 and reached Philadelphia in time to get into the thick of the street car riots and strikes. He returned to Boston

HOSPITAL SUNDAY

A Thanksgiving Appeal For Substantial Donations

The Newton Hospital. "A call of distress in the night which reached the hearts of a busy physician and a consecrated clergyman led to the founding of the Newton Hospital in 1881."

"The call has long since been forgotten, but the spirit of that hour which aroused men to action is our heritage, and must ever be remembered as the foundation of all our success."

"The outlook has broadened since the early days, and other channels, not then conceived, have been developed to carry the beneficent work far beyond the walls of the institution. These new departments of service command attention, for they all cluster around the hospital work and add to its usefulness."

"The work is no longer an experiment of doubtful value, but rather an opportunity to share a service which brings large returns."

The Year's Record. Patients treated, 2,050, the largest number in our history; death-rate, 6.7 per cent, the smallest recorded; expenses, $86,219.40; earnings, $67,524.55; deficit, $18,694.85, the smallest deficit for three years; per capita cost, $16.38 per week, the smallest since 1910.

The Training School for Nurses. No department of the hospital is more necessary to its life and power than is its Training School. A physician of note wrote some years ago: "The efficiency of a hospital of any sort depends in great measure upon the services of the nursing staff. It would, we sometimes think, be possible to get on, for a time at least, without physicians, but to be deprived of nurses means the abolition of the modern hospital."

All hospital forces are working together, not only that our present patients may have adequate care, but that it may be assured to future generations of patients anywhere and everywhere.

The nurse has long been indispensable in hospitals and in the homes of the sick, but to-day the trained service is demanded by city and state for public school work, tenement-house inspection, tuberculosis crusades, and in other departments no less important. It is said that she occupies a unique position in this country in the lines intended to promote public health, and that her work is one of the distinctive things America is doing today.

The Newton Hospital nurses are meeting the requirements. Shall they continue so to do?

The Year's Record. Twelve months of service, the value of which cannot be computed in dollars; number graduated, 17; present enrolment, 61.

The Orthopedic Out-Patient Department. This department, which was established three years ago for the benefit of the school children of Newton, has already made a name and a place for itself. No less an authority than Dr. Goldthwaite has, in a recent lecture, commended the Newton Hos-

THE FAMILY ALBUM

Pleasing Entertainment in Channing Church Parlor

The entertainment on Friday evening under the auspices of the Channing Branch of the Woman's Alliance was without exception the best ever given by the Alliance.

The performers won a cheering reception and greatly pleased the large audience which entirely filled the parlors of Channing Church.

The program included three numbers, the first, "The Family Album" was the leading feature of the show, and the pictures contained in the album were finely represented and "true to life," the various characters being portrayed to perfection.

The contents of the album, presented to the audience by Mrs. Arthur Blakemore, included Mrs. William Hammatt as "Mother," Miss Grace Garcelon, "A dear little Old-Fashioned Girl," Mrs. Frank Scofield, "The Bride," Mr. Frank Scofield, "The Bridegroom," Mrs. Joseph Palmer, "Sister Jane," Mr. H. P. Curtis, "Sister Jane's Husband," Mr. Frank H. Burt, "The Parson," Mrs. E. M. Moore, "The Parson's Wife," Miss Florence Mandell, "Sister Jane's Daughter," Miss Edith Fisher, "The Village Beauty," and Mr. Benjamin Wetherbee, "Grandpa Hobbs."

Mr. Burt and Mr. Wetherbee scored a tremendous hit in their respective impersonations and were forced to respond to repeated encores.

A Musical Charade, the second number, was both novel and interesting, the word which was acted out being "Bandett."

The closing number, a one-act comedy, entitled "The Loan of a Lover," was a little Dutch play with Dutch costumes and setting which abounded in comical situations.

The cast of characters included Messrs. Erskine Noyes, Horace C. Harrington, Bancroft L. Goodwin, Foster S. Harrington, Miss Helen Slocum Eaton and Miss Carolyn Whiting Clarke.

The success of the entertainment was largely due to the combined efforts of Mrs. A. C. Cummings who conducted the rehearsals, and Mrs. Ralph W. Bartlett who staged and managed it.

pital for the adequacy of its orthopedic equipment and the thoroughness of its work.

"One teacher came to the clinic and said she wanted to see what kind of treatment could effect such a complete change as had taken place in one of her pupils. From an inattentive boy, almost stupid at times, he had become alert, attentive, and one of the best she had in getting hold of things."

The Year's Record. Cases admitted, 72; sessions held, 113; total attendance, 1,255.

OPPOSE WIDENING

Chestnut Hill Residents Object To Hammond Street Improvement

The regular meeting of the aldermen was held Monday evening, with President Blakemore in the chair, and Aldermen Blanchard and Hatch absent.

No one appeared at hearings on Edison Light Co. poles on Belmont street, Gramere street and Centre street, nor on the laying out of Windemere road, under the betterment act.

On the proposed widening of Hammond street, former Alderman E. B. Bishop appeared in opposition, reading a letter in remonstrance from Mr. Richard M. Saltonstall, as well as speaking against the project himself. Former Alderman Allston Burr spoke in favor, saying that Redfield the corner was most dangerous and should be made safe. Mr. Alfred Bowditch asked for information and the hearing was closed.

Mayor Hatfield submitted the usual estimate of appropriations for 1914, amounting to $1,528,572.73.

Petitions of John T. Burns and Geo. F. James for renewal of auctioneer licenses were granted. Other petitions were received from Moses et al for sewer in Padstow avenue, Ross et al for sewer in Rossmere street, Amos Landry for liquor transportation permit, and claim of Dr. F. M. O'Donnell for damage to automobile.

On recommendation of committees, leave to withdraw was granted on sewer in Chestnut street, Waban, $224 additional appropriated for sewer in Camden road, a grant authorized for city expenses for $5811.

Alderman Murphy took occasion to reply to remarks made by President Blakemore at the preceding meeting in regard to appropriations charged to the 1914 tax levy, calling attention to the fact that the board of 1911 added $22,000 to the levy of 1912 and that the 1912 board added $41,000 to the levy of 1913. Certain expenses must be met and the departments must be taken care of.

President Blakemore took the floor, calling Alderman Pratt to the chair, and said that his criticism was not directed at appropriations for permanent improvements, but he did object to making additions to accounts for routine department expenses. Alderman Jarvis said he had heard considerable criticism of the amount approved last summer for school expenses for 1914 and trusted the board would reopen the subject, when it passed upon the budget.

The board adjourned at 8:30 o'clock.

LIGHT VOTE CAST AT PRIMARY

Burr and Childs Nominated for Mayor. Malcolm and Bartlett Win Aldermanic Contests

The city primary held last Tuesday was, as usual, almost a farce. The absence of contests for the office of mayor was responsible for this condition, as the two ward contests for aldermen Mr. Tierney scattering votes for alderman at large from Ward 2, Ward 5 and Ward 7, and for school committee in Ward 6.

For school committee scattering

MR. ALLSTON BURR

dermen, in Wards 2 and 5, brought out a fair sized vote.

Republicans cast 763 votes, Democrats, 167, and Progressives, 103; a total of 1033, and of this number 892 were cast in Wards 2 and 5.

Ex-alderman Allston Burr was nominated for mayor by the Republicans, receiving 578 votes to 20 for Mr. Childs, and 1 for J. A. Cahill. Mr. Burr was also nominated by the Progressives with 87 votes, Childs having 2.

Mr. Edwin O. Childs, Jr., received the Democratic nomination, with 139 votes, 1 each being cast for Cahill and Bird and 2 for Burr.

The Republican aldermanic and school committee ticket, with the vote of each, follows:

School Committee

Ward 3, Mrs. Harriet A. Peabody, 551.

Ward 6, William H. Rice, 561.

Aldermen at Large

Ward 1, Arthur W. Blakemore, 564.

Ward 2, Fred M. Blanchard, 580.

Ward 3, A. Stuart Pratt, 561.

EDITORIAL

So much has been heard in recent years to the effect that Newton voters are tired of having candidates for mayor selected a year or two in advance, and hints that the Republican candidate, Mr. Allison Burr, was so chosen, are sufficient cause for stating the real facts in the case.

About two years ago, when Mayor Hatfield's first term was nearing its close, some steps were taken to nominate a resident of the south side of the city as his successor, but when Mayor Hatfield announced his intention to run again, the matter was held in abeyance, with the general impression that the south side of the city, should, when the time came, have some voice in naming the next candidate for the office. Late last winter or early spring, a few prominent Newton Centre residents called a representative meeting to consider the situation, and after a full discussion appointed a committee representing all portions of the village, to recommend a candidate. To this committee were referred the names of some 12 or 15 gentlemen, who had been mentioned at this conference. The committee, composed of Messrs. F. G. Melcher, A. E. Alvord, H. L. Jones, J. Y. Mainland and F. H. Butts, and later with Mr. C. M. Goddard, (who succeeded Mr. Melcher) made a thorough canvass, and within a few weeks, unanimously favored the nomination of Mr. Burr. The committee found, however, that Mr. Burr, while having a great respect for the honor, believed he had rendered his full share of public duty in giving five years of service as an alderman, and that he should not be called upon to enter a political contest. Some weeks were spent in persuading Mr. Burr to give a reluctant consent to even consider the matter, and when he left in June for a summer's trip abroad, the matter was only conditionally settled. It is true that a year or so ago, editorial mention was made in this paper of Mr. Burr's fitness for mayor, but this was done without Mr. Burr's knowledge or consent, and on my own initiative, and had no bearing on the final result.

Under these circumstances, it would seem as if the name of Mr. Burr had received only the consideration that the importance of the office deserves, and that his nomination is not the result of any parlor caucus or brought about by the efforts of a few political leaders.

The city is indeed fortunate in having a man like Mr. Burr willing at the call of public duty to put aside his personal inclinations and comfort and accept the large responsibilities and petty annoyances, which accompany the office of Mayor of Newton.

Thanksgiving time is most appropriate for the annual appeal to aid the Newton Hospital in its excellent work in this city. Attention is invited to the statement in another column showing the deficit in the Hospital treasury and the great need of an increase in the Hospital Sunday donations. Let every one give and show some appreciation of this splendid institution.

AFTERNOON TEA

Mrs. H. P. Perkins was the hostess at a charming tea on Tuesday afternoon at her residence on Austin street, West Newton, complimentary to her son's fiancée, Miss Gertrude Wright of Philadelphia.

Guests numbering about seventy-five were present, and Mrs. Perkins received from 4 until 6:30.

The pourers were Miss Mildred Claffin and Miss Alice Reese.

RECEIVES ANOTHER CALL

Rev. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of the Central Church at Newtonville, who was recently called to the Plymouth Congregational Church at Milwaukee, Wis., has just received another call to become the pastor of the First Congregational Church at Washington, D.C., the leading church of the denomination in that city. Rev. Mr. Stocking expects to make his decision within a few days.

—Miss Christine Gillis, a domestic employed by Mrs. Otis Johnson on Dalton road, dropped dead Wednesday evening, when she stepped into the back yard. She was about 50 years of age and had been employed by Mrs. Johnson but a few days, coming from Boston. Death was due to natural causes.

—Last Wednesday evening at the Trinity Parish House the rector of the church, Rev. E. T. Sullivan, delivered a lecture on "What the United States Have Done for the United States." The lecture was exceedingly interesting and listened to by many people of the village. During the evening refreshments were served.

—The Men's Club of the First Church held its regular meeting Monday evening with a good attendance. The speakers of the evening were Mr. Charles H. Cole, fire commissioner of Boston, and Mr. F. H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Protection Association, who spoke on the matter of Fire Wastes.

—At the Unitarian Church next Sunday morning there will be a chorale service with selections from Gounod's "Messe Solennelle," given by the choir, Mrs. Marla R. Wilder, soprano; Mrs. Marie Paula Stone, alto; Mr. Maurice L. Quinlan, tenor, and Mr. Edwin L. Drown, bass, under the direction of Mr. Edgar J. Smith.

Auburndale

—Miss Doris Elizabeth Sawyer will be the hostess at a dancing party on Wednesday evening at Norumbega hall.

—Mr. E. Arthur Robinson of Nye Park Inn has just returned from a very successful hunting trip in Maine, having shot two ducks, some partridges and other small game.

—The Girls Friendly Society held an interesting and well attended meeting Monday evening in the parish hall at the Church of the Messiah. Miss Edith Ward gave instructions in cooking.

—The Union Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday morning at the Church of the Messiah at 10 o'clock. Rev. John W. Suter of Winchester will deliver the sermon. There will be singing by the vested choir of the church.

—Brush the Great, magician, illusionist and entertainer, will be the attraction Tuesday evening at the second in the series of concerts given in Norumbega hall, under the auspices of the Auburndale Village Improvement Society.

—The Choir Club of the Church of the Messiah held its regular fortnightly meeting Tuesday evening in the parish house and greatly enjoyed the graphophone which has recently been presented to the Club by Miss Edith Rutsey of Seminary avenue.

RECEPTION

A largely attended reception was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Arthur C. Walworth and her daughters, Miss Walworth and Miss Louise Walworth at her home on Centre and Mill streets, Newton Centre. The house was attractively decorated with flowers, the tea room being a profusion of pink roses. Mrs. Edgar R. Champlin, Mrs. Dwight Chester, Mrs. Charles S. Bennett, Mrs. J. H. Lipphcott, Mrs. A. C. Walworth, Jr., Mrs. Henry O. Marcy and Mrs. E. Clifford Potter were among the pourers and there were also a group of younger ladies, including Miss Alice Smith, Miss Elizabeth Polhemus, Miss Carol Anderson, Miss Margaret Tapley, Miss Ruth Reynolds, Miss Alice Paine, Miss Genevieve Huntington and Miss Dorothy Whitley who assisted.

—Gentlemen's Night was observed Tuesday evening by the members of the Matthews Class at Immanuel Church. Supper was served to about forty members and their guests. Miss Margaret Morton, president of the class, presided and introduced the speaker, Mr. Sidney Clark of Auburndale, who spoke very interestingly of his father, Rev. Francis E. Clark, president of the World's Christian Endeavor Society. The servers were Miss Frances Prescott, Mrs. Thomas West, Mrs. C. L. Cotton and Miss Florence Hartop.

—A musical event which attracted large numbers to the service Sunday evening at Grace Church was the presentation of the beautiful cantata, Maunders' "Song of Thanksgiving" by the vested choir under the direction of the choirmaster, Mr. Charles N. Sladen. Never had choir and soloists appeared to better advantage, the singing being clear, strong and vibrant and invariably true in tone, giving evidence of excellent training and those who failed to be present on account of the weather, missed a rare musical treat. The soloists included the Misses Angier, Arnold, Crane, Sladen and Denton and Messrs. Roope, Hanson and Leighton. Mr. William G. Hambleton presided at the organ and was assisted at the piano by Mrs. George Owen.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at his late home on Carleton street, Newton, and were attended by a large number of members of the organizations of which Col. Edes was connected, including representatives of Monitor Lodge, A. F. and A. M. of Waltham; the Civilian Guard Veterans Association of Newton; the Royal Arcanum; the Sons of the Revolution; the National Rifle Association of America; the Hooker Association; the Field Officers' Institute; the National Guard Association; the New England Military Rifle Association and the Army and Navy Club of New York.

Rev. Stephen H. Roblin, D.D., pastor of the Second Universalist Church in Boston and chaplain of the Fifth Regiment, M. V. M., conducted the services which were simple in nature. The burial was in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Colonel Walter E. Lombard of the Coast Artillery Corps, who is a past commander of the Old Guard of Massachusetts, Captain Augustus G. Reynolds, U. S. V., adjutant of the Old Guard; Dr. William H. Prescott of Forest Hills, James Noyes of Cambridge, Charles Prescott of Concord and Henry Edes of Cambridge. The four last-named are cousins of Colonel Edes.

FISHER-BUNKER

The wedding of Miss Helen Bunker, the daughter of Mrs. Harriette Loring Bunker, and Mr. Robert Henry Fisher, both of Auburndale, took place at the residence of the bride's mother on Grove street on Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. John Matteson, rector of the Church of the Messiah, under garlands of laurel and chrysanthemums.

The bride wore an old family dress of cream white silk and an embroidered veil formerly worn by her great grandmother. Her sister, Miss Anne Bunker, gown in pink chiffon, over pink silk, was the maid of honor.

Mr. Horace M. Bunker of Auburndale was the best man and with Mr. Gordon Bunker of New York City, acted as ushers at the reception which followed the ceremony until ten o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher were assisted in receiving their friends by Mrs. Bunker, mother of the bride and Mr. Henry Fisher of Exeter, N. H., father of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will reside at The Fields, 1384 Commonwealth avenue, where they will be at home after January first.

Cherry Hill Farm
Milk

THE Cherry Hill Farm herd consists of Jerseys and Guernseys, with a few grade cows of other kinds. It is the consensus of opinion among physicians that the best milk is that from a mixed herd of healthy cows. The cows are subjected to the tuberculin test twice every year, no animal being admitted to the herd until it has received this test.

That there may be no dust during milking, the floors and cows are sprayed and no feed is given until milking is over. The cows are thoroughly groomed, washed with water and soap, and dried with towels, to be sure that they are clean and that there is no opportunity for dirt to get into the milk.

—On Sunday evening, November 23, at seven-thirty, in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, Dr. C. H. Patton will give his illustrated lecture on "The Battle of the Faith in India."

Two years ago Dr. Patton made an extensive tour of India and studied closely its religious conditions. The pictures, which he took himself, add to his vivid descriptions of Hinduism in village and community life and in the religious customs of the people. Dr. Patton also presents in this lecture the leading features of missionary work in different parts of India. The lecture is a great demonstration of Christianity given in earnest, convincing style, shot through with irresistible humor and warm genuine human sympathy. Central Church extends a cordial invitation to all, including young people and children.

DANCING CLASS

The Newton Dancing Class, an organization of young married couples, entered its fifth season on Wednesday evening, with a large attendance of members.

ARCHERY NOTES

Members of the Newton Archers were out in force Saturday afternoon, taking part in their weekly tournament at the archery range on the Newton Centre Playground. The scores that are made at these weekly contests are preserved by the secretary of the Newton Archers, and when the archery season comes to a close, these scores will be tabulated and from them the relative standing of the members of this archery club will be determined.

These weekly contests also figure in the weekly mail matches that are carried on under the auspices of the National Archery Association of the United States and that are participated in by archers all over the country.

In accordance with their usual custom archers throughout the country will shoot the team rounds (96 arrows at 60 yards for men, and 96 arrows at 50 yards for women) on Thanksgiving day, each archer shooting on his own range. The scores thus made will be turned into the President of the National Archery Association for tabulation and publication.

The conditions for shooting were not of the best on Saturday and the scores made were generally rather low.

The summary:

York Round
(72 arrows at 100 yards, 48 at 80, 24 at 60)

WINS LEAGUE GAME

Newton Trounces Brookline, 21 to 0, in an Interesting Game

Newton, by defeating Brookline High last Friday afternoon on Clafin Field, Newtonville, won a leg on the championship of the Triangular League and the contest this afternoon against Cambridge Latin will decide the winner. Newton won a easy victory, piling up three touchdowns and 21 points, and were successful in keeping their opponents scoreless.

The game was an interesting one from a spectator's viewpoint, several well executed forward passes, long end runs and trick plays, furnishing much excitement. The Brookline team had a very large following of rosters, and the brass band, which was made up from students at the school, accompanied the cheering section in their class songs and cheers.

Newton gained considerable ground on forward passes, seven of the eleven tried working successful, and each netted the home team a good gain.

A gain of 25 yards was made by Newton shortly after the game opened, Hyatt making a fine pass to White, after which Capt. Brady on a "tackle around" play took the ball to the four yard line and Thompson took the ball over on a line plunge.

The other two touchdowns scored by Newton came in the third period. While catching the ball on the kick-off and running back 35 yards. Following this play Newton's team kept in possession of the ball and by short gains on line plunges, forward passes and trick plays, carried the ball to the 12 yard line.

Here Brookline's heavy line stiffened and for three downs the opposing backfield was unable to gain but four yards. Thompson was given the ball on the next play and with his line moving like a machine made a dash through the left side of the Brookline line for first down on the two yard line.

On the next play Hyatt gouged his way through the Brookline line for another touchdown and shortly afterward kicked the goal, making the score 14 to 0 in the home team's favor.

Brookline received the kickoff following this touchdown and attempted to do the come back stunt. However, they were doomed to disappointment, for after making several long gains on line and shift plays, Jounett made a 20 yard forward pass to the left of his line, intended for Daniels, but Thompson intercepted the ball in the air and with the aid of good interference ran 65 yards for a touchdown.

It had then grown so dark that to the spectators on the sidelines it was impossible to follow the progress of the ball and only when a man broke through the line for a five or ten yard gain would the frenzied throng know what was happening. In fact, it got so dark just before the game was called that several of the owners of automobiles on the sidelines turned on their searchlights in order that the players could see the ball after it had been passed from center.

The team started in to play the fourth quarter in almost inky darkness, and after two minutes had elapsed with neither team being able to gain much ground, Referee Woodlock finally called the game.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Miss GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

That the women's club movement is an abiding one and not merely sporadic is never more surely demonstrated than at the time of a change of administration. At the Autumn meeting of the State Federation held this week at Whitman, Mrs. George W. Perkins, the newly-elected president, made her first appearance in that capacity before a Federation audience. Those who have worked devotedly for her predecessors were on hand to assist her with the same loyalty they had given them and so no break is apparent in the work of the Federation. It is not a one-woman movement, as is often the case with other forms of social betterment work, and thereon depends the Federation's power.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will continue the study of Sicily at the home of Mrs. Philip S. Sweetser on Monday afternoon.

On Tuesday morning at 10:15 the Newton Parliamentary Law Club will meet at the home of Mrs. W. D. Tripp of Boyd street.

The Home Economics Class of the Newtonville Guild will hold its first meeting on Tuesday morning, Nov. 25, at 10:30, at the New Church parlors. On the same afternoon an art class, which has been started under the auspices of the club will hold its first meeting. This class will meet regularly on the second and fourth Tuesdays at 2:30 at the homes of members.

There will be no meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning.

Children's Day will be observed by the West Newton Women's Educational Club at Players' Small Hall on Friday afternoon, Nov. 28.

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will meet at the home of Mrs. B. R. Gilbert of Woodward street on Saturday, Nov. 29th.

Local Happenings

The West Newton Women's Educational Club held its first meeting of the season on Friday, Nov. 14th. The new president, Mrs. O. W. St. Amant, gave an address of welcome in which she expressed the hope for the growth and prosperity of the club and an increasing influence for good. Mrs. W. E. Birdsall of Newton, an ardent worker in the W. C. T. U., asked for the hearty co-operation of the club in a fair to be held in Boston on Dec. 5 and 6 in aid of the Frances Willard Settlement.

The afternoon was in charge of Mrs. H. K. Burrison, chairman of the Social Science department. Mrs. Burrison introduced Mrs. Mary Cushing Palmer, president of the Newtonville Woman's Guild, who gave a lecture-reading on "The Sea Islanders." Mrs. Palmer illustrated her lecture with many dialect songs, poems, stories and even a sermon on the Prodigal Son much to the pleasure and amusement of her audience.

The hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 15 was Mrs. W. J. Bicknell. The work was in charge of the executive board, Mrs. H. W. Dreyer, conducting it for the afternoon. The subject was "The Social and Political Conditions in England for the Period from 1580 to 1630." Very interesting articles were given by the members on the character of the Elizabethan people, their mode of dress, customs, superstitions and amusements. The development of the drama was traced from its earliest forms, miracle-plays, moralities and interludes. From time immemorial something like popular drama had flourished in England. Marlowe being the greatest contemporary of Shakespeare, a synopsis of his best work, "The Jew of Malta," was given. The political conditions during the reigns of Henry VIII and Queen Elizabeth were admirably treated. England rose under the reign of Henry VIII to a recognized first class power and that became firmly established during the reign of Elizabeth.

On Nov. 17 the Monday Club of Newton Highlands met at the home of Mrs. Kerr. Miss Gilbert treated "Territorial Expansion of our Country." Selections from "The Oregon Trail" were read by Mrs. Keeler and Mrs. Barnes gave a sketch of the life of James Fenimore Cooper and a brief criticism of his works.

Dr. Wentworth began the study of "Sicily" at the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon. She treated its history from earliest times down to 400 A. D. This island is a three-cornered one, the largest in the Mediterranean having an area about equalling that of Massachusetts and Rhode Island combined. Very little is known of the language of the early inhabitants and its real history does not begin until the coming of the Greeks in 736 B. C. The most important period of its history is the 5th century B. C. and Dionysius its greatest ruler. Dr. Wentworth who visited Sicily during the past summer, described Mount Etna, called by Pindar, "the pillar of heaven," and showed many photographs, which added much to the pleasure of the members. The magnificence of the old temples as revealed by these pictures is an indication of the wealth of those people. This island was long a bone of contention among the nations of Europe and Africa, but finally the Greeks were victorious. Among other interesting facts brought out was that of the papyrus, which was formerly found only in Egypt, but it is now found only in this island.

Before the Woman's Club Mrs. Maude Wood Park gave a very interesting lecture on "The Woman Movement the World Around" at the home of Mrs. William Gilmore last Monday afternoon. She discussed the attitude toward women, as she had observed it while traveling through many different countries. Extracts were read from books giving the Japanese ideas of the woman of the future showing the Oriental idea of the proper position of women. But Mrs. Park said that today many Japanese women had to really obtain two educations, one for home use and one for use with foreigners. She said there was some sort of a woman movement in every country and practically the same arguments were used against the woman in China it was a question of the binding of feet, in Australia and New Zealand where there was suffrage there was the question of having Women's Clubs, in England parliamentary rights are wanted, while here in America there is the great question of Equal Suffrage. She favors the vote for women saying it will lighten them educationally and give them another common interest with the men. Miss Vivian Clarke, a club member gave two selections on the piano in a very able and pleasing manner.

At the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Guild on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Ruth Butts Carson spoke upon "Domestic Life in Dutch Art." The talk was illustrated by numerous lantern slides many of which had been colored by the speaker herself. Her plea for more perfect relations between the study of art, nature, home and dress was impressed upon her large audience. Piano solos by Miss Lillian West were much enjoyed. Mrs. Butts reported the meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation held at Whitman on Monday. The annual exhibition of the Newtonville Needlework Guild, of which Mrs. E. P. Hatch is president was held in connection with this meeting. Over nine hundred articles were shown which will be contributed to the various charities of Newton. Tea was served by the charitable committee during the social hour.

On Wednesday morning at the meeting of the Social Science Club a protest against the taking of the Hetch Hetchy Valley for a water supply for the city of San Francisco was presented by Mrs. F. H. Tucker and the club voted to send this protest to our Senators at Washington. The speaker of the morning was Miss Helen Appleton of the Leland Powers School of Expression and her subject, "The Speaking Voice." She stated that a beautiful speaking voice is possible for every one. The natural voice is a hidden power waiting to be liberated. It is not, however, the voice we use daily. A good speaking voice is particularly wanting in the American people. She stated that the Americans are superior to other peoples in the singing voice, and that the Germans are a little jealous of the achievements of American vocal scholars who come there. Miss Appleton illustrated how it may be obtained and pointed out the necessity of deep breathing. The voice reflects our inward feelings and a perfect voice cannot be reached unless we are perfectly poised within.

The Pierian Club met with Mrs. Willard on Wednesday afternoon. A report of the State Federation meeting was given by Mrs. C. F. Rogers, Jr., after which Mrs. C. A. Chadwick gave a paper upon "Argentina." Mrs. Mills treated "The Co-operative Plan" in her current events talk, carrying out a little further some of the suggestions given by Mr. Purington at the meeting of the Newton Federation last week.

Autumn Meeting of State Federation

Flags were flying all over town to greet the delegates upon their arrival at Whitman on Monday morning for the autumn meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs and the banner strung across the street bearing the words, "Welcome to Whitman," assured those coming by automobile that they were on the right road even before the Town Hall itself was in view. In every way the Whitman Woman's Club showed itself the gracious hostess. By courtesy of the Board of Trade automobiles were at the service of the delegates to show the visitors about the town during the noon intermission, while the members of the State board were the guests of the president of the club, Mrs. George O. Jenkins, at luncheon at The Linden.

The meeting was called to order by the new president, Mrs. George W. Perkins, and Mrs. Jenkins, the hostess president, extended a most cordial welcome to the delegates. Mrs. Perkins introduced her audience to the old town, which was first settled in 1668, told of the work in which her club has been interested since its organization in 1907, and voiced her appreciation of the inspiration which her club members were about to receive by the presence of the Federation in their midst. In her response Mrs. Perkins spoke of the Federation belief in fellowship of service and emphasized the fraternalism of club women and their loyalty to each other and to the standards of the organization.

Four new clubs, which have recently been admitted to membership in the Federation, were presented: Political Science Club of Lynn, Harvard Women's Club, Tadmuck Club of Westford and the Community Club of Canton. The general subject for the day was "Home Economics" and the first speaker, Mrs. Ruth Butts Carson, whose subject was, "Fashion, Its Causes and Results—How far shall we follow it?" Mrs. Carson stated that she had been trying to apply art rules to dress and with that thought in view she arranged her own wardrobe for two years at a time and does not go into a store in that time unless to replace some lost article, and then wears her clothes until they are worn out, she stated that the Parisian women of the upper class do not follow fashion, but design their own gowns and then go to Redfern and other high class dressmakers, who merely adapt their ideas to the form. A little light was thrown upon the way in which fashions originated in this country. The speaker pointed out some of the absurdities of the modern light skirt and convulsed the whole audience with her illustrations by means of a jointed doll how women wearing the latest style of skirt get upon the street car.

Following this talk Mrs. Mary Senneke Woolman, president of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston, gave a fine address on "Shopping Hints." Mrs. Woolman discussed the family budget, dwelling particularly upon that for clothing. The matter of a budget, she said, is often a difficult one to face with the husband, for he so frequently says, "Whatever you need I will get for you, if I can." She thought it might be more easily worked out in the future, if the girls of eight and ten years begin to learn how to spend money. Experts on the subject of the budget have allowed 20% of the family income for clothing; as a matter of fact in most families hardly more than 12% can be used in this way and this is hardly enough when the income is small, to secure either warm or decent ones. The poor people, she said, do not have time to make their clothes, so there should be some way for them to be able to get good clothing ready to wear. The former speaker had advocated bright colors, but Mrs. Woolman stated that the poor people cannot afford to wear them, because the cheap materials do not hold their color; they must buy those which will not fade.

The speaker advocated for most women to plan their clothes on several years' schedule, getting the suit one season, the odd coat another and so on, in this way a woman may be well dressed and still her average annual expenditure need not be very large. She cited three women whom she knew in New York, who were all equally well dressed and yet upon investigation one woman spent $350 a year, another $2,000 and the third $4,000. As a fair division of what was spent on clothing, 50 per cent or a little more was allowed for suits, gowns, and hats, from 12 to 15 per cent for underclothes, 8 to 10 per cent for footwear and 10 per cent for sundries.

Despite what had already been said derogatory of the present day styles, Mrs. Woolman claimed that we have never come nearer good dressing than at the present time. In the matter of weight it used not to be unusual for a woman's clothing to weigh 19 pounds. It has been found that sometimes girls have had as many as 22 layers of cloth around the waist. These are not so now. "There is, however, an awful extravagance in the use of the fashion of the day. We must try to control the fashion. Let us be democratic and let every woman do as she pleases."

Among other things touched upon were: the home dressmaker, some dangers of purchasing at bargain sales, the necessity of knowing more about textiles. She urged her hearers after finding out from actual experience where are the best places to buy good, durable materials to go to those places for them. "We are the great buyers of the world and what we want we shall have."

An account of the afternoon session is postponed until next week.

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club was held on Thursday afternoon. After the business session Miss Margaret Hatfield spoke of the work of the Music School at West Newton. Mr. Alton E. Briggs, who had been announced to speak was unexpectedly called away so was unable to be present. His place was filled by Mr. Fred H. Daniels, supervisor of drawing in the public schools, who spoke upon "Fashion, Tastes, Style and Art in Dress." Mr. Daniels illustrated his talk with clever drawings in colored crayons made as he talked, many of which showed off the absurdities of the present day fashions. There was the usual social hour and tea at the close.

The first of a series of five talks under the auspices of the Newton Centre Woman's Club was held Tuesday afternoon in the Mason school Hall, with a fair attendance. Rev. R. J. Flood of Worcester gave an interesting address on "The Bad Boy Myth." Mr. Flood did not believe there was a real bad boy under 18 years of age, although he admitted that there were many boys with misdirected energies. He said that a boy's love for action must be recognized. He must be given something to do. Whippings usually drove out all the goodness and let the badness in. The boy has an intense desire to be a man. This is the reason why he tries to smoke, even when it makes him sick. Give the boy to understand that his ideal man does not smoke and he will lose his desire for it. Mr. Flood gave many instances of boys who, because of the boys of Worcester, showing the benefits obtained by giving the boys some responsibilities and lessening the cruelty towards animals. Mr. E. C. Adams, master of the Newton High School also spoke on "Our High School Children," showing some of the problems the high school must attempt to solve and urging a greater co-operation with the home.

the tables were filled with useful and attractive goods. A good sum was realized to aid the many needy families through the coming winter.

MUSICAL

Mrs. George S. Harwood opened her residence on Ivanhoe street on Wednesday afternoon for a musical for the benefit of the Nonantum Day Nursery Association.

The reception rooms were beautifully decorated with a variety of chrysanthemums and a very novel and interesting program was presented which included pianolugues and monologues by Miss Livermore and Southern songs by the Misses Turner.

There were about one hundred guests present from the Newtons.

A sale table of cake and candy was presided over by Mrs. William Hollings and Miss Harwood.

The ladies serving on the committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Estabrook Jones, included Mrs. Sydney Harwood, Mrs. Harry Stebbins and Mrs. Eben H. Ellison.

DANCE

The Country Club, an organization composed of young ladies from Newton, Waltham and Wayland, held its first dancing party last week Monday evening in the Town Hall at Wayland.

The occasion was most enjoyable and there was an attendance of about 100 couples, from Brookline, Newton, Watertown, Marlboro, Hudson and Waltham.

The hall was attractively decorated in green and white and music was furnished by the Colonial Orchestra of Waltham.

The floor was in charge of Mr. Lawrence M. Lawless of Waltham assisted by Marie R. Hynes of Wayland.

The aids were the Misses Mae E. Nolan, Edna E. Boncore, M. Alice Doran and Alice B. Lawless.

INFORMAL DANCE

Miss L. Marie Dalger entertained a number of her young friends at a delightful little dancing party on Tuesday evening at her residence on Grassmead street.

About 10 couples enjoyed dancing and a program of popular music was furnished by Mrs. Kent of Watertown. The parlors were decorated with ferns and chrysanthemums and at the close of the dancing refreshments were served.

The matrons were Mrs. S. M. Dalger and Mrs. Waldo Whitney.

The guests included the Misses Mildred Jeffrey, Ruth Hains, Louise Pinkham, Lillian Ducaet, Phyllis Taylor, Betty Buffum, Marlan Bowen and Wilmet Whitney, Elliot Stickey, C. V. Dalger, Russell Hubbard, J. Gerald Dalgier, Horace Schirmehor, Paul Hains, James Withington and Mylert Bruner.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

A very happy party of neighbors and friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Aust of Higgins street, Auburndale on Saturday, Nov. 15, it being their silver anniversary.

The guests (two) arrived early with a quinary in Mr. Austin's mind as to why they were there, when only the immediate family were invited. Later a ring at the bell announced the arrival of many others.

Many beautiful presents were received and Mr. F. W. Jones in his humorous way, presented a "Morris chair" and a "founding from the orphan's asylum."

Games were played, interspersed by readings by Miss Ethel Preble of Brookline.

Refreshments were served and at a very late hour the guests left wishing many more pleasant years to Mr. and Mrs. Austin.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM

At the monthly meeting of the Unitarian Club of Newton, held last evening at the West Newton Unitarian parish house, Mr. Edward T. Hartmann, secretary of the Mass. Civic League gave a talk on the Housing Problem in Newton. Mr. Hartmann urged the adoption by Newton of the new Housing law, before conditions become too bad to remedy. He referred to conditions in other places and incidentally told of finding one place in Newton where 14 men were in one room. He believed that Newton should even adopt something better than the standard fixed by the law and should absolutely control the building of all houses, whether tenements or not. He referred to Brookline, with its present influx of apartment houses, as "No Man's Land" and deprecated the loss of the community spirit which had formerly been so noticeable.

WHIST AND DANCE

A whist and dancing party was held Tuesday evening in Eagle and Nonantum Halls, Newton, under the auspices of the Newton Democratic Club. Following the whist, at which 150 participated, a short address was made by Edwin O. Childs, Jr., the Independent and Democratic candidate for Mayor, and he was given a rousing reception. The winners at whist were Miss Lena Matheson, Miss Margaret Sullivan, John Mitchell and John Doherty, and the consolation prizes were awarded by Catherine H. Kirby and Jeremiah Meskell. Several vocal selections were rendered by Frank McGuire during the evening. The committee in charge comprised Pres. T. D. Murphy, Alderman John W. Murphy, Daniel O'Connell and Edward Mitchell.

NEWTON CLUB

The Auction Bridge party of Nov. 18th was well attended. The ladies receiving were Mrs. Henry J. Nichols, Mrs. Fred E. Mann, and Mrs. Hubert G. Ripley.

Prizes were won in the order given by Mesdames Edwin P. Crowe, Fred E. Mann and Wm. J. Follett. Prizes for gentlemen were won by Messrs. Fred E. Mann, Lincoln Righter and William J. Follett.

DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

A very interesting and enjoyable meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association was held Monday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Francis E. Stanley, the president of the Association.

There were about seventy-five ladies present and Dr. Evangeline W. Young of Boston gave a wonderfully interesting discourse on "Eugenics," treating her subject in a clear, concise and dignified manner.

Miss E. W. Hamilton, district superintendent of the Newton Hospital, gave an interesting account of the district nurse's day, and the work which it involves, and Mrs. M. M. Riddle, matron at the Newton Hospital, told of what a great benefit it was to the Hospital. In so much that the nurses receive such valuable practical experience in their work.

At the close of the speaking, refreshments were served in the dining-room, which was attractively adorned with beautiful chrysanthemums of various colors. Mrs. Charles L. Breck and Mrs. Samuel L. Powers poured, and the ladies on the Board of Directors assisted in serving.

The Annual reports were read and the following officers were elected for the coming year.

Mrs. Francis E. Stanley, president; Mrs. Edward W. Howe, vice-president; Mrs. Howard P. Converse, secretary; Mrs. Justin Whitler, assistant secretary; Mrs. Charles L. Smith, treasurer; Mrs. F. S. Ritten, auditor. The directors are Mrs. F. H. Loveland, Mrs. H. P. Bradford, Mrs. C. H. Breck, Mrs. W. H. Coolidge, Mrs. G. B. King, Mrs. A. K. Pratt, Miss C. A. Lovett, Mrs. Elery Peabody, Mrs. S. L. Powers, Mrs. J. H. Talbot, Mrs. H. W. Robinson, Mrs. Charles Whitmore and Mrs. H. P. Ayer.

LITERARY NOTES

Mrs. Ozra S. Davis, a former resident of Newtonville, where her husband, Rev. Dr. O. S. Davis was pastor of the Central Church, is the author of a book for girls, just issued by Sherman, French & Co., the Boston publishers, entitled, "Mary Eliza's Wonder Life, a story about the Make Believe Things."

Mary Eliza's life was a very humdrum one outside and she never said very much to anybody. But in this book we open the door of her quaint little soul and step inside. The plot is very slight: just the everyday happenings of an old-fashioned farm, where the forests and the flowers are beautiful, where there are dolls and friends to love, and where God seems very near. But, perhaps because it is all so simple, the fairies come out to play with the broken old dollies, the trees are not afraid to tell stories, and there is time enough for a little girl to love them all.

Understanding little readers will find Mary Eliza as real as themselves, a person (or should it be persons?) to go on dreaming, wide-eyed, about long after one has come to the end of the last wonder chapter.

POP CONCERT

The Pop Concert and dance which was given Friday evening at the Newton Club under the auspices of St. John's parish, was a most successful affair both socially and financially.

A program of unusual excellence consisting of 12 numbers was presented which included some finely rendered selections by an orchestra under the direction of Mr. Schuyler Adams. Others on the program who contributed a large share toward the entertainment of the evening were Messrs. W. H. Brown, Derby Brown, and J. Ellis Gammons in a song specialty, Miss Leslie B. Kyle and chorus in a song specialty; Mr. Malcolm Ide, in Cello selections; Miss Dorothy Bankart and chorus, song specialty; Mrs. A. L. Wakefield, song specialty; Mr. T. N. Shufelt, vocal selections; Miss Belle Keeler, specialty dance, and Mr. Derby Brown and chorus in a song specialty.

The chorus included the Misses Helen and Dorothy Cunningham, Dorothy Bankart, Charlotte Sibley, Eleanor Vinson, Margaret Wheaton, Margaret Warren, Katherine Adams, Marguerita Bamberg, Mrs. Roland Gammons, Alice Fessenden, Pauline Chellis, Lilian Purdy and Gladys Keeler. Dancing followed the entertainment.

DANCING PARTY

Members of the Dancing Supper Club, were delightfully entertained on Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dana Priest on Studio road, Auburndale.

The spacious drawing-room was lavishly decorated with beautiful chrysanthemums of various colors and there were eight couples in attendance.

The dancing was under the direction of Mrs. Greenwood and the well arranged order included many of the latest popular dances.

At the close of the dancing, supper was served in the dining-room where chrysanthemums were used in pleasing arrangement, and the table decorations were especially attractive, a large mound of various sized chrysanthemums forming a centre-piece.

The Club has a meeting every other Saturday evening and its members include young married couples from the Newtons.

The next meeting will be at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Walker of Newton Centre.

is a supple, carefully drafted garment fashioned of soft, yet firm, material and boned with flexible Spirella.

This Spirella boning (found only in this corset) yields easily to every movement of the wearer. Yet it is guaranteed not to break nor run and will not take a permanent bend at the waistline.

As each corset is fitted to individual measure and adapted to the wearer's needs, it moulds the figure into lines of beauty with continual comfort.

Ward Aldermen

Ward 1. Edwin O. Childs, Jr., 1.
Ward 2. George F. Malcolm, 17.
Ward 4. Wm. S. Wagner, 14.
Ward 5. Joseph W. Bartlett, 30.
Ward 6. Robert W. Crowell, 15.
Ward 7. Henry W. Jarvis, 3.
Alderman Joseph W. Bartlett received the nomination of all three parties for alderman in Ward 5, carrying all three precincts for each nomination, the vote being as follows:

Republican	Bartlett	Crowell
Precinct 1, 96	9	9
2, 69	51	51
3, 77	0	0
	242	60
Democratic

	35	15
Progressive
Precinct 1, 2	0	0
2, 20	15	15
3, 8	0	0
	35	15

Mr. George F. Malcolm was an easy winner for the Republican nomination of Ward alderman in Ward 2, having 263 to 54 for Mr. James. The returns were received early, the vote being all tabulated by seven o'clock.

THE COMMUNITY CLUB

Fifty members of the Community Club attended the annual meeting held at St. Mary's Parish Hall, Newton Lower Falls, on Tuesday evening to elect officers for the ensuing year. The President, Miss Fitzgerald, after a special word of greeting to the new club members, called for the annual reports of the secretary and treasurer. The treasurer's report, showing a substantial balance in the treasury, was received with much applause, for it successfully proved the club's ability to be self-supporting. A tentative program of the national club meeting in New York was read and an interesting sketch of a few days at Rockport Lodge was given by two members who visited the vacation house.

Classes for the winter have been started; a gymnasium class, directed by Miss Cope of Wellesley and a dramatic class led by Miss Robbins. A Glee Club is to be formed under the supervision of Miss French.

The following officers were elected for the year: Miss Edith Early, President; Miss Emily Rourke, Vice-president; Miss Katherine Cooney, Treasurer; Miss Laura Healey, assistant Treasurer; Miss Ellen O'Neil, Secretary.

The most successful social evening in the Club's history followed the election of officers. The entertainment consisted of a Kitchen Orchestra and a Halloween Supper; it was in charge of Miss Ellen O'Neil and Miss Lucy Young.

NEW ENGLAND AND MILK

BY GEORGE FRENCH

New England ought to solve what is called the milk problem, but she only complicates it. Milk is one of the great staples of the six states, but instead of being a growing industry it is diminishing. It has been so thoroughly commercialized that there is now but little money and scarcely no interest. It has immense possibilities. Why is it that it is impossible now to buy a pound of that fine old-fashioned butter that was made by hand from cream "raised" on milk "set" in big shallow pans? Why is it that appreciation of this kind of butter, and almost knowledge of it, has gone out of the minds of nearly all men and women? It is a fact that moderns do not know what good butter is, and it is the fault of the farmers that that knowledge has pretty nearly gone out of the world. Good cheese is rapidly becoming a memory. Not long ago I complained to one of the biggest grocers in Boston that I could not get "cream" cheese. He at once acquiesced. "There is none made," said he. "You can't buy a pound of 'full-cream' cheese anywhere, unless possibly of some farmer 'way down on the cape, and that would be by accident.' "Why?" said I. "Well," said the man, "I do not just know. There is a demand for it, but the creameries make more off their milk if they skim it, sell the cream and then sell the cheese. They are getting as much for the skimmed-milk cheese as they did for the real full-cream. Why should they not skim their milk? Consumers have been trained to accept the new kind, and there are very few protests." About the same is true of butter. People have become accustomed to the creamery variety. They would not know the other. Yet it is so much better!

A farmer who had made quite a good living, and had money in the bank, had always sold his milk to the contractors who buy it of the farmers and sell it in the cities, said that he had never kept books. He never checked up the accounts of the contractor who had had his milk for years. He just took the checks as they came, and felt that he was lucky to be getting some real money off the farm. The man is one extreme. The other is represented by the few men who run their farms as businesses, and know what they spend and what they receive. They do not sell to the contractors. They build up select trades, and create trademarks for their product, and at the same time provide for a profit for their farming operations.

The New England producer of milk has got to learn the commercial lesson that it is as much the part of the good business man to create and discipline demand as to fill the crude and unformulated demand. Have not the retailers of milk, and of groceries, and meats shown them how it is done? How else does it happen that we have tamely submitted to taking packages that weigh from 12 to 14 ounces, and pay from 10 to 50 per cent. more for them, in place of the full pound we used to have? This method has been grafted onto many products, such as sausage, bacon, fish, cereals, and many common products that we buy, or used to buy, by the pound. The writer used to buy a high-class bacon for 23 cents a pound package, when pork was the highest it has been for many years. Pork soon went down, but the bacon went up and up, and the package shrank and shrank, until now we get about 13 ounces of bacon and pay 35 cents for it. How much advance is this? Fifty per cent. in price and nearly 20 per cent. in quantity. Add the difference in the wholesale price of pork and it will appear that we are paying for that particular bacon at least twice as much as we did pay for it not long ago; and the whole increase is absolutely unjustified—and unjustifiable.

I could not have the milk producers adopt such tactics, but they might take measures to get a lot more money out of their product, and at the same time give their customers greater satisfaction. I do not think there is anything to brag about connected with the New England milk business as it is now conducted, except in spots. The number of cows has steadily decreased, and it is becoming almost impossible for the consumers in cities to get fresh butter or good cheese, not to mention good milk. Even the small merchants right in the heart of good milk country are selling some factory butter, made in the West, "processed," and shipped to New England for the use of people who live in the midst of the best grazing land in the country that can be bought for half what the land where the factory butter is made costs.

This milk and butter and cheese question is one of the most curious, and inexplicable, connected with the development of the New England farm lands. It is a fact that all milk used in Boston might be produced within fifty miles of that city. There is plenty of land, and it can be bought for about half its value. There is good transportation to the city. There is that great and growing market. It is easy to raise milk without great areas of pasture land. The best milk producers know that they can make more money raising milk if they do not pasture their cows at all. It is perfectly feasible to keep large numbers of cows without creating the slightest nuisance. It is done by many men who know how. There are big milk farms, or milk plants, within less than twenty miles of Boston, where men engaged in other business in the city raise milk in large quantities, and make money doing it.

And yet the contractors who supply Boston and vicinity with milk have to ship it many miles—in some instances 200 or even 300 miles and have as well to accept milk of inferior quality raised under undesirable conditions. Much might be said about the quantity of milk raised in New England, but as long as that region does not raise the milk it consumes, and might do so without much effort, it does not appear that it has very much to feel proud of.

Just to show that the contention made that milk raising in New England may be profitable: There is a man in Middlesex county, Mass., who came from Sweden, 21 years ago, wearing wooden shoes. He went to work as a common farm hand. Now he has a fine farm of 50 acres, keeps 50 cows and four horses. He raises all their feed. When he took the farm it was barely keeping three cows and one horse. He sells from $800 to $1,000 worth of hay, besides, every year. How does he do it? By using his brains—nothing else. His farm is worth more than $25,000.

Twenty years ago a Worcester county, Mass., man took his father's farm of 210 acres, with a debt of $5,000 along with it. He paid the debt, bought on about 800 acres more, and has become wealthy, for a farmer. He has not made all his money selling milk to the Boston contractors. He says he can't. By using his brains—nothing else. He gets out of it the manure to enrich his land. But he has always raised a lot of milk, and now has about one cow for every acre he owns. His head work enables him to get money out of his land through keeping a lot of cows. If he had specialized and trademarked his product, and sold it direct to consumers, he might have made twice as much as he has. A couple of years ago an association in New Hampshire made a thorough test, and found that the prize cow produced $27 gross profit (feed deducted) for one month. If this can be done as a test, is it not reasonable to figure that with average intelligence and care common cows can be made to pay at least $5 a month profit, or pay for themselves in one year? Twenty-eight years ago a man in Windham county, Vermont, worked for his father two years and then bought the farm of 100 acres, giving a mortgage for the entire purchase price, $3,700. It was supporting four cows, 20 sheep and one horse. Now he has 90 milk cows, 35 younger stock, seven horses and about 50 hogs. He has built an $11,000 barn and a 6,500 house. He specialized raising cream. A man in New London county, Conn., bought a farm 30 years ago, and gave a $9,000 mortgage on it. For ten years he tried to get ahead by raising a little of everything, and selling a little of everything he raised. Then he went to raising thoroughbred Guernsey cattle, and became well to do and noted as a breeder. Cattle did it, though not in this case milk as a direct product.

I could go on with these instances of success, but I have cited enough to show that New England can make money in cows. That many men in New England do make money raising milk merely shows that many more men could also make money in the same manner.

VOL. XLII.—NO. 10

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1913.

TERMS, $2.00 A YEAR

ALDERMEN PASS 1914 BUDGET

In Four Minutes After Four Hours In Private Conference

The most important business of the year was transacted Monday night at the meeting of the board of aldermen, when the budget for 1914, carrying a total of $1,469,680.13 was passed without debate and by a unanimous vote.

The action, however, was not taken until the board had discussed the matter for four hours, behind closed doors, in the committee of the whole.

President Blakemore was in the chair and Hatch, Blanchard and Sullivan were absent the entire session, while Alderman Bartlett was somewhat tardy.

Four jurors for the December term of the Superior Court at Cambridge were drawn by Alderman Rice, viz: John Bennett, Capitol street, John H. Murray, Trowbridge street, Luther D. Scates, Centre street, and Wm. L. McAdams, Centre street. The name of Allan C. Emery was drawn, but returned to the jury box, when the president stated that Mr. Emery was in Europe.

Mayor Hatfield sent in the request of the Street Commissioner for an additional $1800 to finish resurfacing of Walnut street and when the order was presented, Alderman Murphy asked for delay, saying that the matter was too important to be decided on the spot, as there were other streets, in his estimation which needed resurfacing as much as Walnut street. Mr. Murphy sarcastically alluded to the fact that the board was supposed to have a scientific settlement of the resurfacing problem last June.

Alderman Richardson said that the estimates given the board last June had been made without making an exhaustive and expansive study of the work to be done. On Walnut street, it was found necessary to raise the grade and the street railway track for several hundred feet at one point and a proper treatment of the gutters at another place had also changed the grade. These matters had cost considerable money and as the department was right on the job, it should be finished now.

Alderman Murphy again called attention to a former suggestion of Mr. Richardson to the effect that any work should be stopped when the money was exhausted, and to which Alderman Richardson replied that he believed the departments ought to bring the matter to the attention of the board before that situation arose, in order that the aldermen might grant more money if necessary, and said that the present case was exactly in that line. The order was then passed unanimously.

The school committee requested an additional appropriation of $8,656.54, and the Assessors wanted a transfer for office expenses.

Petitions of Paul J. Burrage for auctioneer license, Henry B. Day to move building from Highland to Temple streets, of S. A. Clark for a pool table, West Newton, and various appointments of betterment assessments, on Los Angeles and Allison streets, were granted. Other petitions were received from Elizabeth Harney relative to death of her husband, of the Telephone Co. for attachments on Grove street, Linwood avenue, California street, Commonwealth avenue, and of the Edison Co. for attachments on Walnut street.

Mrs. Ida M. Guild was granted a common victualler license on Walnut terrace, G. F. Briggs was given leave to withdraw on pool room at Newton, the Telephone Co. was granted attachments on Walnut, Beacon streets, Rockledge road and Linwood avenue, the Edison Co. granted pole locations on Belmont and Gramere streets and attachments on Oakleigh road, $3150 was authorized for City Teams, a grant of $10,450.77 made for city expenses, water mains ordered in Padstow and Neshobe roads, $300 transferred to Parks and Squares, $2250 carried to 1914 accounts for convenience stations on playgrounds, and the widening of Grove street at Lower Falls authorized.

Alderman Bemis' motion to go into the committee of the whole to consider the 1914 budget in private was opposed by Alderman Rice, who thought the public had a right to know what the board did, with possibly the matter of discussing salaries. Mr. Bemis' motion was carried 13 to 4, Aldermen Murphy, Rice, Cox and Jarvis in opposition. Alderman Cox queried the right of the board to take this action, but President Blakemore ruled that a majority of the board had the right to so vote. Alderman Murphy said he understood that the president and vice president of the board had virtually agreed to recommend an open discussion of the budget this fall, and Alderman Pratt promptly denied having anything to do with such an agreement. Alderman Pratt was then designated as chairman of the committee of the whole, and four hours later the regular session was resumed. Alderman Pratt reported that the committee had made but two formal changes in the budget as recommended by the Finance committee, increasing the salary of the police chauffeurs to $1000 each and increasing the salary of the firemen to $1000 each.

CORNER STONE LAID

New Edifice at Chestnut Hill for Church of the Redeemer

The corner stone of the new Church of the Redeemer at Chestnut Hill was laid with appropriate ceremonies on Monday afternoon in the presence of a large number of parishioners.

A devotional service was first held in the present building, beginning at 3.30, at which Bishop Lawrence and the rector, Rev. Lucian W. Rogers, delivered brief addresses. The bishop emphasized the importance of a cornerstone. As the erection of a church building progressed the cornerstone became more or less hidden, yet it sustained the edifice and typified the power of God, he said.

Rev. Mr. Rogers spoke of the church's two benefactors, both of whom have passed away—Mrs. Katherine B. Lowell, who gave the money for the present church, in 1891, and John Gordon Wright, senior warden, who gave the land on which the new edifice is being erected.

There were readings from the Scripture and music by the vested choir under the direction of organist Sargent Morse. At the conclusion of the indoor service Bishop Lawrence, the rector, vestrymen and parishioners marched out to the new edifice, where a simple service incident to the dedication of the stone by the bishop, took place.

William Blodgett, chairman of the building committee, read the list of documents that had been placed in the bronze box which was to go in the corner stone. They were a Bible, a prayer book, constitution and canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, convention journal of the diocese of Massachusetts, constitution and bylaws of the parish, minutes of the vestry authorizing the erection of the new building, minutes of the parish meeting confirming the vestry's action, prospectus of the new edifice, addresses of church officials, church bulletin and Sunday school chronicle, early history of the parish recording the free will gift of Mrs. Lowell and a copy of the deed of land given by Mr. Wright.

Edwin Ford, a member of the building committee, then placed the bronze box in position and the stone was lowered over it. Bishop Lawrence then dedicated the stone.

Standing on the platform with the Bishop and rector were these members of the vestry: William H. Aspinwall, junior warden; Andrew Adie, Henry W. Bliss, Lincoln F. Brigham, William R. Cordingley, Louis B. Harding, Charles H. Kip and A. Winsor Weld. It is estimated the cost of carrying out the buildings plans, exclusive of the tower organ, chancel furniture and stained glass windows above the

Budget Figures For 1914 Adopted By Aldermen

The annual city budget of 1914 will carry a total of $1,469,680.13 exclusive of expenses of the Water Department, which are $115,198.60 more.

Compared with the city budget of the present year, $1,344,796.83, the increase seems quite large, but, in reality, the increase is but normal. Reference to the tax levy of last summer, shows that the budget of 1913 plus the usual additional appropriations, made a total of $1,440,942.92.

In addition, the 1914 budget is made up under the new system of accounting which changes the former custom of handling appropriations, known as receipt accounts. These appropriations were a net amount in the budget and all receipts were automatically credited to them during the year. The new system requires such receipts to become a treasury asset, and not an appropriation credit. This change makes it necessary to include the entire expense of the department in the budget and has increased that total by about $70,000 according to the best estimate obtainable. It will thus be seen that in reality, the net budget of 1914 compares favorably with the city tax levy of the present year.

It is also a striking commentary on the good work done on the budget by the Finance Committee, to note that the full board only changed the figures recommended by the committee by the small sum of $264 in salary increases. The committee gave seven long sessions to the matter, one session lasting over ten hours.

The recent tangle in the Street department accounts is shown in the recommendation of the committee that the appropriations for Street Maintenance and Resurfacing be separated and that the former account be used only for section work, cleaning, patching and repaving, the amounts for each being suggested by the committee.

A few salaries are increased, the City Treasurer to $3500, the City Clerk to $2000, the Inspector of Wires to $400, the assistant librarians by $50 and several clerk and stenographers were also made happy by small raises in salary.

The appropriations for the principal departments are as follows:—

Street Maintenance,	$45,000.00
Resurfacing streets,	45,000.00
Assessing Dept.,	14,543.00
Engineering Dept.,	13,100.00

GOOD POLICE WORK

Officer Coady Captures Two Bad Men Single Handed

Officer William F. Coady captured two young men in Newton about midnight Saturday, who were evidently intending to make trouble in this city, and tried to make trouble with the officer when the arrest was made.

His attention was first attracted to the young men, who gave their names as James Russell, aged 18, of Buffalo, and Cecil Rhoades, 23, who claims to have no home, opposite the Methodist Episcopal Church on Centre street. They acted in such a manner that the officer decided to follow them. They started down Centre street toward Newton Corner, and when in front of Dr. Frederick W. Webber's house on Centre street, one of the men went on the piazza, and tried the door and windows.

The officer, who was about 150 feet behind, jumped over the fences at the homes of Dr. Uley and Dr. Frisbie, and was half way over the fence at the home of Luther D. Scates, when he saw the man again join his companion. The officer crossed the street and hid in the shadow of the Vernon Court Hotel, while the men talked over the situation in the doorway of the Centre street market at the corner of Centre place.

Within a few minutes they again continued on their way. The officer headed them off, by going around the Eliot Church. The young men had just started down Church street toward Grace Church, when the officer jumped out and apprehended them. Young Russell made a quick movement for his outside overcoat pocket, but the officer grabbed his hand. A 38 calibre revolver, with four cartridges, was in the pocket. After finding that he had no other weapons, the policeman started to search his companion.

No weapons were found in the possession of Rhoades, but while the officer was making his search young Russell made a dash for liberty. The officer leveled the revolver and threatened to shoot, whereupon Russell came back.

Both were taken to Station 3 by the officer, where a box of cartridges and a rope 10 yards long were found on the young men. They were arraigned in the Police Court Monday morning, Russell on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, and Rhoades on a vagrancy charge. Judge William F. Bacon held them in $500 bonds until this morning.

FOR MAYOR

ALLSTON BURR

WHO WILL BEST SERVE YOUR INTERESTS AS

MAYOR OF NEWTON

THE government of Newton involves the raising and spending every year of nearly one and a half million dollars of the taxpayers' money. The economical and efficient management of this important business is a matter of the highest concern to all citizens.

To maintain and improve the efficiency of the administration of the city's affairs, and to solve wisely the many important new problems, requires, in the mayor to be chosen for the coming two years, experience, good judgment, patience, independence, and high character.

Allston Burr, of Ward Six, is one of the acknowledged leaders in the constructive work in our city of the last ten years. He was born in Newton, and attended its public schools. He is intimately conversant with the city and its needs. For five years he served faithfully in the Board of Aldermen, and as a member and chairman of its finance committee acquired a wide knowledge of the city's affairs and business. He has never taken part in the management of any political party, and has always been independent in his views on political questions. While never seeking office, he has given ample evidence of his public spirit in his service as alderman and in his active and generous support, as a citizen, of playgrounds and other movements for the public welfare. Not on his own initiative, but at earnest solicitations irrespective of party, he is now a candidate for mayor, and as such he has practically the unanimous support of all who served with him in the city government. He has the business ability, he has the civic knowledge and experience, and he has the singleness of purpose to make every action and decision solely for the best interests of the city.

The undersigned Democrats, Independents, Progressives, and Republicans urge you to advocate and vote on December 9 for Mr. Burr for the important office of Mayor of the City of Newton:

EDITORIAL

An analysis of the arguments advanced by the friends of the opposing candidates for mayor indicates that popularity and sentiment are the basis of the Childs candidacy, while experience and ability are emphasized by the adherents of Mr. Burr. Popularity and sentiment may be sufficient reasons in some municipalities for the selection of a mayor, but I hardly believe that any unbiased, sensible man in this city would accept them as sound reasons for refusing to vote for Mr. Alston Burr the Republican and Progressive candidate for mayor of Newton.

Mr. Burr not only compares most favorably with Mr. Childs in point of personal character, in high civic ideals, and for interest in philanthropy, but has had all that Mr. Childs lacks, a successful business experience and five years of active and efficient service in the board of aldermen, and as chairman of its most important committee, that on finance.

Shall sentiment and personal popularity or business experience and ability be the controlling factors in electing the next mayor of Newton? Answer that question Mr. Voter on December 9th.

Changes involving $264 in a grand total of nearly a million and a half dollars, indicate that the Finance committee of the city government presented a fairly satisfactory budget to the full board. The committee gave a large amount of time and effort to the matter and deserve the thanks of the community.

The grouped precinct system of voting convenience exactly 78 voters at a cost to the city of $278. Rather expensive accommodation.

The assistant librarians are given a well deserved increase in salary by the new budget.

WORKING BOYS' HOME

The 150 boys at the Working Boys' Home, Winchester street, Newton Highlands, enjoyed a turkey dinner, with all its fixings, yesterday, the dinner being given by Mr. James J. Phelan, a member of the banking firm of Hornblower & Weeks of Boston. During the morning the boys played a football game among themselves and at noon sat down for their enjoyable dinner.

Director Brother Marcellus on the conclusion of the dinner informed the boys that the dinner was given by Mr. Phelan, whereupon three hearty cheers were given. Songs and recitations formed a part of the program during the afternoon, and Mr. Phelan was their guest and speaker during the late afternoon.

POLITICAL NOTES

AN OPEN LETTER TO MR. CHILD

Newton, Mass., Nov. 28, 1913.
Mr. Edwin O. Childs, Newton.
Dear Sir:—The Newton Good Government Association, formed in 1912, in connection with the movement, against the issuing of 6th Class Liquor Licenses in Newton, has just learned that the claim is being made by your supporters in the present mayoralty contest that you were "The Head and Front" of the movement, and that through your efforts the liquor licenses were abolished.

This claim is so at variance with the facts in the case, and in view of the fact that you are a candidate for the important office of mayor of Newton, that our association feel that they are in duty bound to tell the voters of Newton, that they were unable to secure the slightest assistance from you in connection with the long and arduous task of defeating the 6th Class Liquor Licenses in Newton.

Following our first hearing before the licensing committee, when we were looking for advocates of our cause who would represent us at the public hearing before the full board of aldermen in City Hall, April, 1912, one of your own co-workers suggested that we secure you because of your intimate knowledge of the way liquor was being handled at Newton Corner, and in Nonantum, and its demoralizing influence on the young men among whom you were working.

We naturally counted on your open and earnest support. You will recall that on the night of the public hearing at City Hall, at which you were a spectator, one of our committee believing that you were there to take part, hunted you up in the crowd and urged you to speak along with others against the granting of liquor licenses for another year.

To our great surprise and regret you refused to do so.

In view of the foregoing facts, it is not incumbent on you to publicly correct the misstatements that are being circulated by some of those who are advocating your election.

Respectfully yours,
Newton Good Government Association,
JOHN F. BRANT, Secretary.

WILLEY—WHITTEMORE

An elaborate home wedding took place Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whittemore, more of Summit street, Mt. Ida, when their niece, Miss Annie Elizabeth Whittemore, became the bride of Mr. Clinton Burgess Willey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Willey of Newtonville.

The drawing room and reception rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of pink roses, chrysanthemums and ferns and in the dining room the decorative scheme was yellow with an attractive arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. John Goddard, pastor of the Church of the New Jerusalem, the bride standing in a bower of pink roses and pink chrysanthemums with background of palms and ferns.

As the bridal party assembled, Wagner's Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was rendered on the organ.

Miss Whittemore was married on the anniversary of the wedding day of her grandparents, and was a most charming bride, in an exquisite wedding gown of white charmeuse with bodice of lace and chiffon, pearl trimmings, and court train. She wore a tulle veil with coronet of orange blossoms and carried a full shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a gold and platinum pin set with pearls and sapphires, the gift of the bridegroom.

The flower girl, little Miss Margaret Whittemore, of Proro, Utah, a niece of the bride, was dressed in white and carried a basket of white roses.

The ribbon bearers, who included the Misses Ruth Hodgkins and Eleanor E. Whittemore, nieces of the bride, assisted by Dorothea and Caroline Whittemore, cousins of the bride, were daintily gowned in white shadow lace over white messaline with ribbon bows and sashes of palest blue.

The ushers were Messrs. Alden E. Moore of Philadelphia, Lemuel G. Hodgkins of Melrose Highlands, George T. Knox of Auburndale, and Norman W. Willey of Columbus, Ohio, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Willey being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whittemore, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Willey, parents of the bridegroom.

Many beautiful and costly gifts were showered upon the young couple, both being popular members of society, and being prominently identified with the musical and social affairs of the Newtonville New Church Society, of which they are members.

Mr. Willey is a graduate of Williams College and is assistant sales manager of the Carter Ink Company of Boston.

Guests of social prominence numbering about 150, were present from Philadelphia, Boston, Brookline, Melrose and the Newtons.

On their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Willey will reside at 440 Huron avenue, Cambridge, where they will be at home after January 15th.

MRS. STANLEY HURT

Mrs. Francis E. Stanley of Centre street, Newton, was breded with what injured Wednesday night in an automobile accident which occurred in the Bradford district of Haverhill, and is now at the Hale Hospital in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley were returning from Amesbury in their automobile and had been crossing the bridge over the Merrimack River behind a small roadster, driven by Lester Ham. After passing the bridge, Mr. Ham turned his car a little to the right and slowed up a little. Mr. Stanley thought he was intending to stop and started to pass him, when Mr. Ham turned directly to the left to enter Lafayette street. Mr. Stanley was unable to stop and making a sharp turn to the left to avoid a collision, ran into a hitching post at the edge of the sidewalk. As his machine cleared itself from the post, Mrs. Stanley partially fell and partly rolled out onto the ground. Mr. Stanley was unhurt and did not leave his seat. Mrs. Stanley was taken to the hospital, and it is thought will be able to return home within a few days.

Mr. Ham claims that he gave the usual signal that he was to make the turn, but it was not seen by Mr. Stanley.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE—The second week of the Boston Opera season which was so brilliantly opened last Monday night will repeat three of the marked successes of the first week, besides presenting two new works. The most important event will come when Fevrier's "Monna Vanna" is given on Friday night. The first American presentation of this opera by the Boston Opera Company will be notable not only for the superb mounting which will be given it by General Stage Director Urban, but also for the fact that the principal male roles will be taken by the creators of the roles at the opera's premiere.—Lucien Muratore as Prinzevalle, and Vanni Marcoux as Guido. The title role will be sung by Mary Garden. The complete schedule for the week includes a repetition of "Tristan and Isolde" on Monday evening, Wednesday evening "The Jewels of the Madonna" will be repeated, with the same cast that presented it so superbly on the opening night. Friday will see the premiere of "Monna Vanna"; and "Faust" will be repeated at the Saturday matinee.

Saturday night "La Traviata" will be sung with Evelyn Parnell and Vincenzo Tanlongo in the principal roles. The first of the Sunday concert will be given on Nov. 30. The names of the artists who are to sing is enough to insure a splendid program: Mmes. Elizabeth Amsden and Jeska Swartz-Morse, and MM. Vanni Marcoux and Vincenzo Tanlongo.

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE—In all the world of amusements there is no more famous firm than that of Servais LeRoy and Company of London, England, manufacturers and distributors of paraphernalia in use by magicians, sleight of hand artists, and illusionists all over the world. It remained for Mr. B. F. Keith to bring this remarkable illusionist to America. Leroy, together with Mlle. Talma and Herr Bosco, are past masters of that particular line, and the routine of illusions and tricks offered by this clever trio is positively baffling. A beautiful stage setting and a company of eight people partake in the various illusions, which have been universally proclaimed in every city where LeRoy, Talma and Bosco have appeared, to be far superior to anything offered by Keller, Merriam, or Horace Goldin. This extraordinary attraction will head one of the strongest bills of the season, other features being Bronson and Baldwin, the whirlwind dancing demons; and Joe Cook, with his odd one vaudeville show. The surrounding bill is not quite complete as yet, but will include a number of new acts never before seen in Boston, and some European novelties.

EDDY—THORNDIKE

The wedding of Mr. Clifford R. Eddy of West Newton and Miss Louise Thorndike, the daughter of Hon. and Mrs. Augustus L. Thorndike of Boston, took place Tuesday evening at the First Parish Church at Brookline, and was attended by a large number of friends from Boston, Brookline and Newton.

The church was attractively decorated with southern smilax, palms and white chrysanthemums for the occasion.

Rev. William H. Lyon, D.D., the pastor, officiated at the ceremony which took place at eight o'clock.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white satin trimmed with rare old family lace, and with a court train. She was attended by Miss M. Priscilla Nickerson of Milton, as maid of honor, wearing mauve satin and tulle and carrying a bouquet of white sweet peas and orchids. The bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Eddy of West Newton, sister of the groom, and Miss Beatrice Wright of Brookline were in pale blue satin with mauve girdles and butterfly bows of mauve tulle, and carried bouquets of mauve chrysanthemums.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Young of 365 Auburndale avenue, Auburndale, were surprised Saturday evening at the home of their son, Harold F. Young, assistant city clerk, at 42 Warwick road, West Newton, when a large number of friends greeted them in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Young had spent the day in Boston and knew nothing of the gathering to honor them that evening. They were married Nov. 22, 1888, at Fushing, L. I., but have resided in this city many years. Mr. Young is proprietor of a boathouse on the Charles River at Auburndale, being widely known among the canoeists. Their sons, Harold F. and Louis H. Young, acted as ushers during the reception. Many gifts were received.

MR. SANFORD DEAD

Mr. David B. Sanford, a resident of Newton Highlands for the past three years, died last Saturday at the home of his niece, Miss Anna S. Thompson on Hartford street, after a brief illness, with pneumonia. Mr. Sanford was a native of Dorchester and was 82 years of age, and a son of the Rev. David Sanford of Medway. For over fifty years Mr. Sanford was engaged in the millinery business at Watertown, N. Y., retiring quite a number of years ago. Funeral services were held from his late home on Monday afternoon, Rev. George T. Smart, D.D., of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church officiating, and the interment was at West Medway.

FOR FROZEN PIPES

Last year we had a great deal of trouble from frozen pipes freezing until my husband solved the problem of avoiding the greedy plumbers' bills. He turned the faucet upside down, opened it, and poured down grain alcohol. In a few moments this thawed the ice; the faucet was then turned to its proper position.—Suburban Life—The Country Life Magazine for December.

S. M. Saraf, Oriental Rug Expert, 270 Boylston street, Boston, next door to Woman's Industrial Educational Union, is holding a sale of choice Oriental rugs, prior to his departure to Europe. All rugs were selected under the personal supervision of Mr. Saraf. Inspection invited.

altar, will be $80,000. Members of the vestry and their families have already subscribed $50,000. The organ, chancel furniture and stained glass windows have been promised as memorials.

The new church is to be of the 14th century English Gothic design. The dimensions are 123 by 60 feet, and the seating capacity will be 350. At the right of the chancel a small chancel is to be erected for special weekday services. The outer walls will be of stone similar in facing and trim to the new Boston College buildings.

The plans also call for well-ventilated school room in the basement with every requirement for effective teaching, a choir room and a sacristy. Later it is intended to remodel the present church into a parish house. This will cost $1800 and has been included in the sum of $30,000 which remains to be raised.

SAVAGE—BANKART

The wedding of Miss Gertrude Mary Bankart of West Newton, and Mr. George Albert Savage of Haverhill, took place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Bankart on Wiswall street, West Newton, which was attractively decorated with pink roses and carnations, the bride's favorite color, combined with laurels and evergreens.

The ceremony took place at eight o'clock and was performed by Rev. Richard T. Loring, rector of St. John's Church at Newtonville.

The wedding gown was of white satin, trimmed with princess lace and pearl trimmings, and the bride carried a shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley. Her sister, Miss Dorothy Bankart, was maid of honor, and wore Nile green crepe meteeur, trimmed with Chantilly lace and carried pink roses. Phyllis Bankart, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl and Catherine Savage, a niece of the groom, was the ring bearer.

The best man was Mr. Robert Quimby of Haverhill and the ushers were Messrs. Earle Pierce of Newtonville, Douglas Armstrong of Winchester, and Lawrence H. Bankart, a brother of the bride, of West Newton.

A reception followed until ten o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Savage being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Bankart and Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Savage.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Bankart will reside at 6 Irma avenue, Watertown, where they will be at home after February first.

THESE PRICES ON Ladies' Furs CANNOT BE EQUALLED

by any store in this country. Not that we can buy furs any cheaper than anybody else, but our disposition to sell them at less than ordinary profit makes it positively certain that our prices are lowest. Specialty Fur Houses with hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of rare furs are obliged to charge abnormal profits to cover expense of doing business.

With us, our stock is constantly turning. We're in everyday communication with the largest furriers in New York—men of reliability—and we guarantee every fur we sell. Confidence in the dealer from whom you buy furs is your greatest safeguard. If you'll come here this week we'll show you furs of the quality and at prices that will convince you of every claim we make.

TOWN MEETING

Members of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, presented a "Town Meeting" Tuesday evening, in the Newton Catholic Club Hall, West Newton, before a large audience. The question before the meeting was to see whether the voters of Cloverdale would be willing to bond the town in the sum of $200 in aid of the local railroad.

There was plenty discussion on both sides, which kept the audience in continuous laughter. An interruption was caused in the middle of the meeting, when a fire alarm was rung in, when a brief fire had started in the moderator's barn. Nearly all present were members of the department, and were obliged to put over the business until the fire was extinguished.

During this intermission a vaudeville show was given, consisting of several vocal selections by George A.
Stuart, George E. Merrill and Albert Mills; a sketch, "A Study in Black and White," by Taylor and Maguire, dancing solo by Miss Grace Kerrivan and a sketch by Green and Falvey.

The entertainment was presented under the direction of James R. Con-drin, and comprised the following cast: William H. Kerrivan, William P.
Meehan, M. J. Barry, James L. Roche,
Daniel L. Kensie, William P. Crowley, Cornelius J. Lane, Daniel H. Hannigan, William J. Meehan, Philip J. Kin-care, William J. Gegan, Thomas F.
Hendrick, John M. Fitzgerald, John J.
Nolan, Joseph Hargredon, Thomas L.
Noone, Thomas G. Davis, Augustus S.
Hargredon, James P. Gallagher, and John J. Gannon. The show will be repeated this evening in Lincoln Hall, Newton Highlands, for the residents of the south side.

At the Union Church next Sunday morning, the Rev. Theodore P. Pruden-den, D. D., of Brookline will preach.
The Men's Bible Class will meet at the usual hour, 9.45.

Mr. Amasa C. Gould and Miss Jessie Gould of Beacon street with Mr.
and Mrs. Charles Adrian Sawyer, Jr., of Brookline, will be at Brae Burn Country Club on Monday evening, dancing was enjoyed by forty couples.

The committee of fifteen appointed in accordance with vote of the mass meeting last May, for the purpose of investigating the desirability and practicability of a Club House in Waban reports that the building of a suitable Club House for Waban at this time is not practicable.

The next meeting of the Waban Woman's Club is postponed from December the first to December the eighth. The reading of a modern play by club members is to be the entertainment and will undoubtedly attract a large attendance to the Union Church Vestry on that date.

Bessey Hall was prettily decorated for the Assembly of the Men's Club of the Church of the Good Shepherd held last Friday evening, dancing was enjoyed until midnight, to the music of Daggetts Orchestra, about fifty couples were present. refreshments were served and the committee are to be congratulated on the success of the evening's entertainment.

The second social of the season held in the Vestry of the Union Church last Friday evening was a "White Elephant social," those attending taking some article for which they had no further use and which had become a "White Elephant" on their hands. The articles were all wrapped and were for exchange, a first exchange while they were wrapped and further exchanges after being unwrapped, there being no limit to the number of exchanges. An excellent supper was served and music enjoyed during the evening.

A meeting in the interest of ferrign missions was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Church of the Good Shepherd, under the auspices of the Women's Guild of the church, and to which members of the Womans Auxiliary of the Newton Churches were invited. Addresses were made by Rev.
Daiko of Tokio, Japan, and Mrs. Francis Lowell of Boston, President of the Womans Auxiliary of the diocese of Massachusetts. After the meeting at the church an informal reception was held at the home of Miss Albert H.
Willis, Beacon street with an opportunity to meet the speakers of the meeting and the ladies from the other Newton Churches.

OLD LADY DEAD

Mrs. Mary Porter, aged 95, for a great many years a resident of Cambridge, died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John H. Burt, 15
Oak terrace, Newton Highlands. Mrs.
Porter has been an invalid for several years, but her death was the result of old age.

She was born in Liverpool, Eng., on Aug. 20, 1818, and came to this country when 17. Practically all her life was spent in Cambridge. Her husband, William Porter, died some 15 years ago. Besides Mrs. Burt, she is survived by three sons, Frank and William H. of Cambridge, and Horace
L. Porter of Boston.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon, Rev. M. A. Levy of the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, conducting and there was singing by two young ladies. The interment was at Mt. Hope Cemetery.

ANIMAL RESCUE LEAGUE FAIR

The Animal Rescue League Fair will be held in the Ball-room of the Copy-ple House on Thursday, Dec. 11th from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. and Friday Dec.
12th from 10 A. M. to 6 P. M.
Please send all articles for the Newton Table to the chairman, Miss Hob-bart, 123 Sargent street, Newton, or to the table at the time of the Fair.

FAELTEN RECITAL

Mabel Jackson of 11 River street, Thelma Cooper of 5 Foster street, Suzetta Duff of 361 Albemarle road and William Adams of 5 Jefferson street, will take part in the Faelten recital.
Saturday afternoon, December 6th.
Tickets may be had by addressing the Secretary of the Faelten Pianoforte School, 30 Huntington avenue, Boston.
Many interesting numbers will be presented at the recital including the A major Concerto by Mozart in which
Mr. Carl Faelten will take part.

THE CLAFIN GUARD

On Monday evening, Nov. 24th, an election was held for Second Lieutenant, and First Sergeant John Whittlesey was unanimously elected.

Sergt. Whittlesey is one of our Newton boys of the highest standing, a graduate of Tech. and an electrical engineer in the employ of Stone & Webster Corporation of Boston.

The company is fast getting on its feet, due to the persistent energy and executive ability of its popular commander, Capt. Philip Bruce, and the fact that both the Captain and Lieut.
Whittlesey were elected by a unanimous vote, shows the good feeling and harmony existing in the company.

There are a few vacancies in the ranks to be filled, and the best young men of Newton are desired.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

"About this time," to quote the Old Farmer's Almanac, the Club Editor has for a number of years suggested "shopping early" and again attention is called to the necessity of so doing. That there has been a great gain in the matter is certain and public opinion has done much to relieve a trying situation. Another factor must be taken into consideration this year. On account of the new parcel post many more packages will go through the post-office and the mails will be heavier than ever. To insure gifts being delivered on time it will be necessary to start them much earlier and consequently that will mean the purchasing of them still earlier. Along with this reform should go another relative to the after-Christmas bargain sales. Without giving the clerks time to get their breath from the trying weeks before Christmas, it has been the custom for the large stores to open up these big bargain sales on the very day after Christmas. One has but to go into a store on the first morning of one of these sales to realize what it means to the clerks. That some organizations are taking this matter into consideration means that in time public opinion will be turned in this direction also. The sooner, the better. With Christmas falling on Friday in 1914, that will be a good time to ask the stores to postpone these sales until the following Monday. January first will not be too early to begin work in that direction. May the clubs take it up and see that a change is brought about by that time.

At the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Guild on Dec. 2nd, Prof. Bliss Perry will lecture upon "The Making of a Great American, Emerson." Under the auspices of the art department of the club there will be an exhibition of water colors by Mr. Walter Chaloner, formerly of Newton, on the same afternoon from two until five o'clock in the parlor of the New Church.

The Auburndale Review Club will meet with Mrs. Waldo W. Cole on Dec. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Spaulding of Auburndale entertained the Review Club and its guests to the number of over a hundred, at their new home on Wolcott street on Thursday evening, Nov. 20. A musical program of unusual excellence and interest was presented, Mrs. Lyman Gore, Mrs. Spaulding, Mr. Wood and Mrs. Spaulding made an excellent quartet. Mrs. Ruggles sang, also Miss Eva Van Wageningen, one of whose numbers was written by Miss Ordway, a club member. Miss Ruggles played the cello and Miss Miriam Herron the violin, both being daughters of club members. Mrs. Freeman and Miss Ober played some selections for the piano and also accompanied those who sang. Mrs. Fuller held the attention of her audience in her reading of "A Present for a Lady." The club was fortunate in having Mr. George Parker sing a group of songs at the close of the evening. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Spaulding's hospitality were most enthusiastic about the pleasure of the evening and appreciated heartily the ability of those who took part in the music.

On Wednesday morning, Dec. 3, the Social Science Club will hold its monthly business meeting, after which Miss Margaret Hatfield will speak upon the West Newton Music Settlement.

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet with Mrs. George D. Byfield, 15 Eldredge street, Newton, on Thursday, Dec. 4, at 2:00 P. M.

The Current Events Class of the Newton Centre Woman's Club meets on Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock.

Local Happenings

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. met with Mrs. Sweetser of Lincoln street on Monday afternoon of this week. Mrs. Darius Cobb was in charge of the work, which was a continuation of the study of Sicily from 400 A. D. down to the present time. Mrs. Cobb dwelt upon the history, the religion and the customs of the people. An interesting feature of the afternoon was the piano duet by Mrs. Shumway and Miss Moore, being a selection from the opera, "Aida," the first performance of which was given in Sicily.

At the meeting of the Monday Club on Nov. 24 Miss Amanda Webster gave a sketch of the lives of some of the American historians, including among the number Bancroft, Fiske, Freeman and Prescott. The Thanksgiving Proclamation was read by Mrs. G. W. Weatherbee. Whittier's "Pumpkin" was read by Mrs. H. W. Kimball and all joined in singing "Old Hundred" and "America." After the recess Mrs. D. W. Eagles treated American orators, giving some facts of their lives and reading extracts from some of the speeches. Among those spoken of were Webster, Clay, Calhoun and Mrs. Mary A. Livermore. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read.

The members of the Newtonville Woman's Guild are finding the classes this year of more than passing interest. The Current Events class will meet on the second Tuesday morning throughout the season with Mrs. Lella C. Pennock of Somerville as leader. Some seventy members have already joined. The Art class will meet on the second and fourth Tuesday afternoons at the homes of the members and will take up Italian art. The large collection of pictures in the Newton Library is being found a great help in the work. A new one this season that in Home Economics, which will meet on the fourth Tuesday morning. Mrs. John Brant, who has accepted the chairmanship, greeted an enthusiastic group of women at the meeting on Tuesday morning. Mrs. S. F. Herron, chairman of the State Department of Home Economics, was present and spoke of the work of her department, also of household management and gave a tribute to the work in this line that was done by the late Mrs. Ellen C. Richards. Mrs. Brant gave a short paper upon "Domestic Service."

The following account of the afternoon session at a recent meeting of the State Federation was omitted from our issue of last week.

TIE GAME

Newton High and Boston High School of Commerce played a tie game yesterday morning on Claffin Field, Newtonville, before the largest crowd of the season, each making 7 points in the first period. The ground which had frozen during the night, thawed out in the sun, and made very slippery footing for the players, thus preventing several sensational long runs.

Newton kicked off to their opponents, and Lepsic, who caught the ball was downed on the 20 yd. line. On the next play he circled left end, and ran through the entire Newton line for a touchdown, during which run he was tackled four times, but broke himself loose. Newton received the kickoff, and bucked right down the field, a successful 30 yd. forward pass, White to Harris, helping them out. This pass put the ball on the 20 yd. line and on three attempts Thompson carried the ball over, and Hyatt kicked the goal.

Brady, in the second period ran 50 yds. for a touchdown, but an offside play caused the ball to again be brought back and put into play. Thereafter neither team was able to place the ball within scoring distance, both lines showing up brilliantly. The Newton team was going nicely in the third period, making long gains, when a fumble by Hyatt, was quickly recovered by Lepsic, who made a sensational run of 45 yds. before being downed.

Van Tassel played a slashing game for the home team, figuring in almost every play, and repeatedly broke through the line and nailed the opposing back for heavy losses. Thompson and Hyatt also played a good game for Newton, while the work of Capt. Lepsic, Zutter and Burrows was excellent for the visiting team.

MEMORIAL TABLETS

Two bronze memorial tablets to the Revolutionary Soldiers of Newton will be unveiled and presented at the Newton Free Library next Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, under the auspices of the Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution. The Newton Memorial Committee of the Chapter will hold a reception after the unveiling at the Hunnewell Club-house.

MEN'S CLUB DANCE

Members of the Men's Club of the Church of the Good Shepherd gave a dancing party on Friday evening in Besse Hall, Waban. The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion with green and white bunting.

A well arranged order of dances was participated in by about forty couples, and Daggett's Orchestra was in attendance, and furnished a fine program of popular music.

It was a very enjoyable social affair and at the close of the dancing refreshments were served.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE—One of the best of the dramatic versions of J. M. Barrie's celebrated romance of Scottish life, "The Little Minister," will be given at the Castle Square next week. It is the most successful play of recent years, and in it one after another of the novelties of picturesque characters appear and reappear. The cast of "The Little Minister" at the Castle Square will be carefully arranged by Mr. Craig. The Lady Babbalanza will of course be Doris Olesen, and Donald Meek will be seen in the title role of the Reverend Gavin Dishart. Mr. Carleton will appear as Captain Halliwell, and the entire production will be as complete as artistic skill and care can make it.

An illustrated lecture was given Sunday evening at Central Church, Newtonville under the auspices of the Central Club, by Rev. C. H. Patton, D. D. on "The Battle of the Faiths in India."

Dr. Patton showed in his lecture how one after another Buddhism, Mohammedanism, and Christianity have endeavored to conquer the citadel of Hinduism.

What Hinduism is, in village and community life, and in the religious customs of the people, was shown by Dr. Patton. In a series of pictures, the slides being taken from his own views and beautifully colored under his direction. A number of very remarkable views were taken by him on the Ganges river at Benares, where the people flock from all over India to wash away their sins.

the afternoon session. Upon presentation for action the three amendments to the by-laws were all passed, so that hereafter the election of officers will be by Australian ballot and a copy of the ballot will be mailed to each club with the call for the annual meeting.

The taking of the Hetch Hetchy Valley, a part of the National Park of the Yosemite, for a water supply for San Francisco was presented by Miss Mary C. Sweet, chairman of Conservation, and the convention voted unanimously to send letters of protest to our representatives in Congress.

The closing address of the convention was given by Prof. Scott Nearing of the University of Pennsylvania on "Financing the Family."

In his introduction Prof. Nearing set forth the problem of luxuries saying that the amount spent upon them is incredible, almost beyond the possibility of description. Those who make a public display of wealth are cruel. He pointed out how much this problem of luxury has to do with the unrest of the times. By and by the government is going to ask those who spend for luxury, "Why you spent money that way?"

Then he asked his audience to put themselves in the place of the people who are working in the mills of Massachusetts. The oft repeated phrase, "There is always room at the top," is a vanishing truth. Nine-tenths of the workers don't earn enough to keep a family on a living basis.

Prof. Nearing is a convincing and forceful speaker and while he may not have given his audience any material assistance in helping them to finance their own families, he must have shown the delegates that there is adequate reason for much of the social unrest which exists today.

Ladies' Home Circle will hold their next regular meeting in G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville, on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 4th. Reports from the Sale will be most interesting. A tea will be served. All members urged to be present.

THE STUDIO SHOP

Will be open to visitors on and after Dec. 3rd. Articles distinctive and artistic, suitable for whist, birthday and holiday giving on sale.

TRAVEL CLASS

With nearly the entire membership present, the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club met at the residence of Mrs. Guy C. Holbrook, West Newton, on Wednesday, Nov. 19, from two till half past four.

"The Religions of India" constituted the subject matter of the papers for this meeting. Mrs. George D. Byfield's paper on Vedism or Worship of Nature and Vedas or Sacred Books, was followed by one on Brahmanism; its rise, rites, and ceremonies and the Laws of Manu by Mrs. Geo. N. McNear. The sacred city of Benares was graphically described in Mrs. Susan Dimond's very interesting paper, which was read by Mrs. Chas. E. Conant.

A fine analysis of the Hindu epics, the Mahabharata and the Ramayana, was given by Mrs. Harry Wells who also read several selections from the former. A brief discussion followed each paper, and the afternoon closed with a social half hour.

MADAME GADSKI IN RECITAL. The high artistic standard of the Sunday concerts that are being given in Symphony Hall this season will be fully maintained next Sunday, November 30th, when Madame Johanna Gadski will give a song recital. Although primarily an opera singer, Madame Gadski in the last several years has devoted at least half of her time to concert work and principally to song recitals and her success in this difficult field has completely vindicated her ambition to broaden her art.

At her recital in Boston the greater part of her programme will be devoted to classical songs by Schumann, Schubert, Franz and Brahms. Of the Americans H. C. Gilmour is represented by one song and MacDowell by three.

—At Trinity Church the Rector's Bible Class will meet in the church on Sunday immediately after the morning service. The subject will be: The Philosophy of the Service of Morning Prayer. Many persons suppose that the service of morning prayer is an arbitrary arrangement; that what comes first could as well come last. But there is a reason for the sequence. There is a philosophy of the order of its parts. There is a key which unlocks the service and makes it plain that it is based on a natural and inevitable progression. This will be explained next Sunday.

—The Atwood Market Co., capital $4000, has just been incorporated with Chester H. Whelden, Emily E. Whelden and Jacob P. H. Bissett as incorporators.

ary of the sanitary inspector to $1000. The budget was then adopted.

Alderman Murphy questioned the rate of interest stated in the order establishing the rate on unpaid taxes, and believed that as the people who didn't pay, were in a position not to, the rate should be lowered. Alderman Bemis replied that taxes, like any other debt, should be paid when due, and that other places had a much higher rate of interest than 8 per cent, a rate which he personally did not think was excessive. The order was then passed, and the board at 12.42 A. M. adjourned.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The race in the bowling tournament is very close. Team No. 10, Charlie Barrows, captain, holds first place, three teams are tied for second place, and the others are not far behind.

High Single String, L. Curtis, 131; Three String Total, L. Curtis, 319; High Average, F. C. Green, 94 1-3; High Average, C. Barrows, 93 11-12.

Next Sunday afternoon between 3 and 3.30, young men are invited to meet at the Y. M. C. A. to sing hymns. There will be no speaker at this service on account of the Cantata at Eliot Church coming at four o'clock. Those who like to sing around an open fire are invited to be present. Mr. F. C. Cobb, Asst. Secretary, will be the leader.

An unusual tribute was paid to the speaker of the evening, Rev. James W. Campbell, at the Fellowship Club last Monday. Mr. Campbell told us something about the character of Daniel Webster and the address was so much appreciated by those present that for nearly a minute after Mr. Campbell finished speaking the young men continued to express their appreciation in applause.

These Fellowship meetings are held every Monday evening and every young man is cordially invited to be present. The members of this club take supper together at 6.20 and then listen to the chosen speaker for about 25 minutes. The purpose of the club is to provide good fellowship among the young men of the Association and listen to the instructive and inspiring speakers who are present. If you are interested hand in your name at the Association office.

The first number of the Entertainment Course by "Brush the Great" was indeed great! Everything was first class and the entertainment was enjoyed by the audience. One pleasant feature was the fact that Mr. Brush thought it worth his while to pause in the middle of his entertainment and speak about some of the deeper things in life to the young men present. This was done of his own free will and shows that he not only tries to provide a good entertainment for his audience, but would like to help them if possible. The next entertainment is a lecture by Hon. Homer B. Hurlbert on Dec. 11th. All the members should take advantage of this course as it is one of the best ever offered.

The December Social will be of especial interest to all the members. The Social Committee is planning great things, so watch the bulletin boards and the next Bulletin for particulars.

ANOTHER COLLISION

A horse and buggy owned by Fred Forbush, a well-known horseman of Watertown street, West Newton, driven by Napoleon Carlo along Washington street, Newton, was in a collision with an automobile owned by William A. Cormier of 38 Walnut park, Newton, early Sunday evening at the corner of Hall street, and before the frightened animal could be brought to a stop, had crashed into an auto owned by William H. Hockbridge of 21 Francis street, Newton Centre, which was standing 50 yards away.

The carriage was on the left hand side of the road and the car struck it broadside. The animal immediately started to run. The driver, although greatly excited, held fast to the reins, and in both collisions remained in the seat. Several young men, who were on the sidewalk, caught hold of the horse, before it could continue its mad run.

The wind shield of Mr. Cormier's machine was broken, and the mud-guard bent, and the same damage was done to the other machine. Besides a cut on the horse's head, it was bruised about the legs.

MR. BURR ACCEPTS NOMINATION

The following letter was sent the past week to Mr. Howard Emerson, chairman of the Republican city committee, and to Mr. Norman Marshall, chairman of the Progressive city committee, by Mr. Allston Burr:—

Dear Sirs:—
The cordial support given me by your parties at the primary election calls for the hearty thanks which it is a pleasure for me to extend to them through you.

If Newton elects me its Mayor on the ninth of December, my endeavor will be to deserve your confidence by making its affairs my first duty. The problems that confront me will receive the best that is in me, to the end that the city shall receive full value for its expenditures, that the administration of its affairs shall be made as efficient as possible, and that all necessary actions and decisions shall be made with the sole object of accomplishing that which is for the best interest of the whole city.

Very truly yours,
ALLSTON BURR.

ARCHERY NOTES

Members of The Newton Archers are taking advantage of the exceptionally mild weather which has been prevailing during this month to get in as much target practice as possible, for when the cold weather comes and the ground freezes, the archery season will be at an end.

On three afternoons last week there were archers practicing on the range at the Newton Center Playground.

Following is the summary of the scores made last week:

York Round
G. B. Bryant 86-416
L. C. Smith 91-391
S. W. Wilder 83-365
C. T. Switzer 75-303
B. P. Gray 69-329
Ella Spear 77-311
62-257

American Round
F. I. Peckham 58-242

Junior Team Round
B. P. Gray, Jr. 46-188
Philip Wilder 34-102
Francis Wales 28-100

Juvenile Round
Philip Wilder 38-178
Francis Wales 18-88
Louisa Poor 13-49

NEWTON OPERA HOUSE

Thanksgiving Day the Newton Opera House commenced to run a matinee every afternoon, starting at 2.30. The regular Vaudeville season starting on that date, select vaudeville will be given in addition to their regular show of pictures and songs. Roy and Manning will be the vaudeville feature Thursday, Friday and Saturday; they are two of the cleverest singing and dancing artists on the stage today.

The list of feature pictures for this week are the finest ever produced. Friday and Saturday, Love and War, a reproduction of the Turkish-Italian War, showing scenes on the battlefield and many vivid portrayals of that famous battle, with other features, all of which reach the standard and rank far above the ordinary, as they are produced by companies of the Trust Films service, and can be secured only at great expense. The fact that this is the only theatre within five miles of Boston running licensed films, enables this theatre to give their patrons the cleanest, most refined and up-to-date show that can be obtained. The matinees are especially adapted for ladies and children, for they are sure of seeing and hearing the best money can obtain, and the general environment is unsurpassed.

INVITATION DANCE

Mr. and Mrs. C. Adrian Sawyer, Jr., Mr. Amasa C. Gould and Miss Jessie Gould of Waban, entertained a company of friends at a charming dancing party on Monday evening at the Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton.

Two Germans were arranged, the favors being numerous and beautiful and there was an attendance of about fifty couples.

One of the attractive features of the dance was the parasol favors presented by the gentlemen, in blue and white, yellow and white, and green and white, and in combination with the handsome gowns worn by the ladies, the effect was very beautiful, the gentlemen wearing Highland caps of yellow and green.

An intermission followed the first German and refreshments were served. The favors in the second German were Poinsettias for the ladies and red carnations for the gentlemen.

A string orchestra was in attendance and furnished a delightful program of popular music.

The ushers were Messrs. Lester Bardell, Herbert Kimball, Cyrus Ferris and Frank Rane.

Executor and Trustee Qualification

A trust estate may not suffer from dishonesty and fraudulent management alone. Injudicious investments caused by a lack of business training and ability have often seriously eaten into the principal of trust estates.

It is imperative that those who have the care of trust property should have an intimate relationship with the business world.

Each investment or sale of any security in any trust estate held by us is made by the Executive Committee and such action is always by vote and recorded.
